Wesley.—The Rev. Mr. M. was educated for the bar. His conversion arose from the following circumstance. He was desired one evening by some of his companions, who were with him at a coffee-house, to go and hear Mr. John Wesley, who, they were told, was to preach in the neighbourhood, and then to return and exhibit his manner and discourse for their entertainment. He went with that intention; and, just as he entered the place, Mr. Wesley named as his text, "Prepare to meet thy God," with a solemnity of accent which struck him, and which inspired a seriousness that increased as the good man proceeded in exhorting his hearers to repentance. He returned to the coffee-room, and was asked by his acquaintance "If he had taken off the old Methodist." To which he answered, "No, gentlemen; but he has taken me off," and from that time he left their company altogether, and in future associated with serious people, and became himself a serious character.

Safe Investment.—A wealthy merchant having lost by one shipwreck to the value of £1500, ordered his clerk to distribute £100 among poor ministers and people, adding, that if his fortune was going by £1500 at a lump, it was high time to make sure of some part before it was all gone.
