GERMANS MAY BE FOXY

A traveler for a large Canadian house handling toys and fancy goods, thinks that it is very doubtful if the Germans will be able to market their goods in Canada for a good many years because of the animosities aroused. Japanese goods are more particularly replacing them at present but now that the war is over English, Canadian and American as well as French makes will in all probability flood the markets of the allied countries. NOTHING BUT HIGH GEAR YESTERDAY

Some tinkling of what the coming season is going to be along the lines of automobiles was gained yesterday by the herds, flocks or however you group them) of cars that streamed through town. The country roads are soft and also forbidden to a certain extent so the city streets got most of the parade. Of course many of the gas bugs were recently overhauled and were therefore mechanically O. K., so enthusiastic drivers tested their machines on every incline with the result that a car buzzing in low gear was truly a rare bird yesterday. It was all high-gear driving. The art of car painting was so well represented in yesterday's parade that only the dazed enthusiasts could distinguish between a done-over car and a brand new one. Inspector McQuade, the license man, was on the alert all day looking for forgetful ones, since it appeared the season had opened with a rush.

OMSK GOVERNMENT GAINS IN POWER

Paris, April 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The Russian government's Omsk, headed by Admiral Kolchak, is steadily gaining in power, according to advices to the Russian commission here, said Boris A. Bakmeteff, Russian ambassador to the United States, today. In Bolsheviki and non-Bolsheviki Russia, the ambassador added, there are as large organized armies as in any European country. He continued:—"General Denekine, in the Caucasus, has 200,000 men; the Kolchak government has same number, and the strength of the Bolsheviki, which has been variously estimated, is probably 500,000. All three forces are fairly effective, the discipline of the Bolsheviki having been improved greatly. The Russian military movements are so scattered over isolated territory that the world apparently has had sight of their magnitude, but other nations should remember that Bolshevism is no longer a Russian problem, but a world problem and the signing of a peace treaty with Germany does not solve it."

We need a great unrest where we realize that the events of the last four years have given a tremendous shock to the whole world. Society everywhere is rocking. It would be foolish to underestimate the danger, but I believe we shall keep our heads. Canada will have troubles without doubt, but having regard to the generosity of her policy, her vast resources and power of expansion, I do not think any country less likely to be swept off its feet."
