JORDAN TO BOX CORBETT.

"Ben Jordan, champion of England, will probably be the next opponent of Young Corbett, and the fight will be decided in San Francisco in the same ring in which Corbett demonstrated a few nights ago that he is Terry McGovern's master."

Such was the statement made in Chicago by Harry Tuthill, trainer of Young Corbett. Tuthill came to Chicago with the Terry McGovern party. Tuthill merely traveled with the McGovern party by accident, as he is hurrying east to fill some important business engagements he has. Tuthill had some interesting things to say about the recent unpleasantness on the coast. In talking about the probability of a match between the English champion and the American he says: "The club management does not think there will be much trouble in inducing Jordan to come to this country for a chance with Corbett. He will be offered such strong inducements that I do not see how he can refuse to accept. He will be shown that the receipts of the Corbett-McGovern contest reached $11,000 and when he is told what the winner and loser got out of this I guess his eyes will pop open pretty wide.

"If the fight takes place it will be decided either just before or immediately after the Jeffries and Corbett contest. The weight, of course, will have to be left to a conference, but I do not think there will be any hitch."
