Gaynor, and after the ceremony many friends extended their congratulations to the happy couple, who will reside on Germain street.

Owing to the abandonment by the British artillery train of their intention to come to Canada this year, considerable change will likely be made in the competitions. It is not yet decided whether the Canadian meeting will be held at Fort Dufferin, but it is probable that it will not, and the feeling in the New Brunswick regiment is decidedly against having any other than the ordinary local firing competitions. The shifting teams from the local companies have given up practice, and the regiment will begin to prepare for inspection, which it is hoped will be held early in September. Sgt. J. Sutherland will remain with the regiment and instruct in gun drill and general work.

A Dorchester letter of August 3rd says: There was an interesting service held in Trinity church yesterday afternoon, at which there were four generations present. At the service referred to, Charles Simms Hickman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Hickman, was baptized by the Rev. J. Roy Campbell. Among those present were the infant, his father and mother, grandfather, William Hickman, grandmother, Mrs. Hickman, and Mrs. Simms' great grandmother, Mrs. Brown of Niagara, Ont.

The Savannah (Georgia) News of July 24th announces the admission to the bar of John S. Harrison, the court stenographer. According to the News, Mr. Harrison passed a most creditable examination. The News then goes on to say: "His wide acquaintance, backed by the excellent knowledge of law which his examination developed, and with a knowledge of its practice obtained through his references in courts and in contact with legal questions, assures him an immediate footing in the profession."

Mr. Harrison, who is a native of St. John, was for some years a clerk in the St. John post office.

A. C. F. Sorrell, formerly of St. John, now manager of the Eastern Cold Storage Co., North street, Boston, had a narrow escape the other day. Through some accidental means the ammonia used in the business began to escape and the fumes soon filled the building. Mr. Sorrell and his typewriter were in the office on the upper story. They were discovered what was the matter and thrust their heads out of the windows for safety. The fire alarm was sounded and ladders put up for their rescue, but the ladders were too short and others had to be raised. The occupants of the building being rescued.

The machine factory, which J. Sutton Clark of St. George is fitting up at Letang will be in every way the best equipped establishment of the kind on this side of the line. The factory itself is already for the machinery, and the greater part of it is now here and will in the course of a few days be forwarded to Letang. The machinery was purchased in the province of Quebec by Mr. Clark, and came from France originally and is said to have cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. With a factory such as Mr. Clark will have there would seem to be no reason why he should not make a fortune in his new line of business.

The equitation course now going on at the Barrack Square is progressing favorably. The following named officers have passed examination by Capt. Forester and left for their homes: Major Leogre, Surgeon Major, Major Hartley, Major Boyer, Capt. Adams and Capt. Raymond of Carleton county; Major Fairweather of Sussex; Lt.-Col. Baird and Major Harper of Westmorland county, and Lieut. Wiley of St. John. About eighteen officers have yet to be examined. The drill is going on from 8 a. m. until 12 o'clock every morning. The improvement in all the officers is most marked and the two instructors have become great favorites with the officers for their painstaking patience and gentlemanly bearing.

CLOTHING STORE ROBBED.

A bold and daring burglary was committed early on the 2nd inst. on King street, right under the glare of an electric light. Burglars forced an entrance into the American Clothing House, on the corner of King and Canterbury streets, and carried off the cash register and its contents.

The burglars obtained entrance by prying off two heavy iron bars that guarded the cellar window. One of these was broken off and the other bent almost double, showing that a crowbar must have been used. This operation was carried on right under the glare of a street light, and on King street, was a pretty daring piece of work and it looks as if recent successes had greatly emboldened the thieves and rendered them more reckless than usual.

Once inside, they sought the cash box. The register was locked, and failed to open it they carried it away. It contained about $750. No effort was made to break open the vault, and, so far as is known, no articles in the shop were taken. The burglars made their exit by a side door on Canterbury street.

John Kingston, aged 10 years, who lives on British street, was arrested at an early hour yesterday morning on suspicion of having broken and entered the American Clothing store at the corner of King and Canterbury streets on the night of the 1st inst., and taken therefrom a cash box, four gold filled watches, $750 and some jewelry.

SUDDEN DEATH AT BOCAHEC.

Wellington Hanson, a well known Bocahec, Charlotte Co., farmer, died very suddenly on Monday forenoon. He had been in poor health for some time, but appeared to be gradually recovering. On Sunday he was able to go to church, and on the morning of his death he was out in the hayfield. While walking through the field he dropped dead. It is supposed that over-exertion in the hot weather caused heart failure. He leaves a wife and four children.

Divorce Proceedings in the Case of Wm. Armstrong.

The Plaintiff Gives His Evidence in Regard to the Case.

Anderson Got a Hint in Bangor and Hurried Home—What He Discovered.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 2.—The trial of the divorce case of William Armstrong v. Ellen Armstrong was begun before Judge Vanwart at the adjourned session of the divorce court this morning. F. B. Carvell and J. W. G. Gregory, Q. C., appeared for the plaintiff and J. B. Connell, Q. C., and G. F. Gregory, Q. C., for the defendant. Some twenty witnesses were present at the opening of the court, including the two parties to the suit. Seven for plaintiff and thirteen for defendant. Two or three others are expected to arrive before the trial is concluded. The plaintiff is a resident of Lakeville, Carleton county, where he has carried on for some years an extensive farming and trading business. He and defendant, who is a daughter of William Love, proprietor of the Glassville House at Glassville, were married by Rev. Mr. Bearist in July, 1888. They lived together happily for six or seven years and had four children born to them. About the year 1895 trouble began to develop, each apparently becoming suspicious of the other, and this culminated in Mrs. Armstrong leaving her husband and returning to her parents in January, 1895, since which time the two have lived separate and apart. Plaintiff seeks divorce on the ground of adultery, a young married man belonging to Florenceville being named as the co-respondent. The defendant in her answer denies the allegations of adultery, and in addition charges him with adultery and cruelty. Before proceeding with the trial, Judge Vanwart, on motion of defendant's counsel, ordered plaintiff to pay into court a further sum of forty dollars to meet defendant's costs of the day. The case is likely to last three or four days and a similar order will probably be made each day. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting a stenographer, and it was half-past twelve when plaintiff went on the stand as the first witness in his own behalf.

It seems that the legislative last session, in consolidating and amending the acts relating to stenographic reporting in the courts, repealed the act providing for reporting in the divorce court, and through an oversight no new provision was made. Judge Vanwart consequently had no power to order the attendance of any of the official stenographers and plaintiff's counsel, on motion of defendant's counsel, ordered plaintiff to pay into court a further sum of forty dollars to meet defendant's costs of the day. The case is likely to last three or four days and a similar order will probably be made each day. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting a stenographer, and it was half-past twelve when plaintiff went on the stand as the first witness in his own behalf.

On motion of defendant's counsel an order was made excluding all witnesses, except the one under examination, for the time being, from the courtroom until after they give their testimony.

The plaintiff was the principal witness examined this afternoon and gave quite sensational evidence. He told of a hint he had received while at Bangor in November, 1894, and of a hotel home, where he arrived at night. He took off his boots in a shed and went up the back stairs and through the ell of his dwelling to the main house. When he arrived at the head of the stairs he discovered a young man and a woman in a room. The woman, who he identified as his wife, and a young man, who he identified as his co-respondent, were in a room. He stepped into a room on the second floor to take off his fur coat, and in doing so made a noise. Buchanan took a lamp and came up stairs and the two men saw him. Buchanan took a lamp from Buchanan, and putting it down, said: "You have ruined my family." The two then fought in the hall. He mastered Buchanan and was choking him when his wife came up and said: "I'll kill him first and you afterwards." Some days after this Buchanan and his brother came back and settled up with him. His wife was present, and after they left his wife said: "It is strange Henry did not speak to me." The case will take some days.

Judge Wilson was occupied all day at chambers in hearing proof of the charges against William A. Anderson, under the Woodman's Lien act. Anderson, who is a resident of Bangor, was charged with having stolen a horse from the Woodman's Lien act. Anderson was charged with having stolen a horse from the Woodman's Lien act. Broadly and Daniel Wilcox then gave important evidence on behalf of the plaintiff. The trial will be continued tomorrow. This promises to be the most important and expensive divorce case tried in the province for many years. Both parties are in for a fight to the finish. The plaintiff is obliged to pay $100 court fee each morning to defray the defendant's expenses.

The hearing before Judge Wilson in the matter of the lien claims against the W. A. Anderson lumber operations was continued all day and adjourned till Friday next for judgment.

The Fredericton Bloom company rafted up to Saturday last one hundred and four millions superficial feet. This is about twenty millions in excess of what was rafted last year up to the same time.

The French department of the Normal school opened today with twenty-two students under Prof. Belliveau.

The hay crop is abundant, but dull weather has retarded haying operations.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 4.—At the entrance and preliminary examinations for teaching licenses, held throughout the province in July, six hundred and twenty-one candidates took the examination, and of these one hundred and twenty passed for first class, one hundred and eight-two for second, and one hundred and sixty-five for third, and one hundred and fifty-four failed to qualify for any class.

The Armstrong divorce case is still before the court. Five or six witnesses gave evidence today for plaintiff.

The annual sale of mixed and un-mixed lumber took place at Bangor & Sons' office this afternoon. A number of prominent St. John river lumbermen were present. The logs were sold as follows: 120,570 feet of cedar to J. A. Morrison at $3.45 per M.; 24,490 feet of pine to T. R. Babbitt & Sons at $5.00 per M.; 25,000 feet of spruce to Randolph & Baker at $4.70 per M.; 9,460 feet hemlock to Fredericton Bloom company at $2.25 per M.

A GALLANT RESCUE.

A gallant rescue and a narrow escape from drowning, caused a sensation at Bangor, week after about noon Thursday, Fred Ogden, a young man who was recently employed as a waiter at the Dufferin, was over there taking a bath. He took a header off the rocks and swam but a short distance when he was seen to go down. The alarm was given and St. Stephen's of the Shore Line and others hurried to the spot. Young Fred, Belyea, who is a fine swimmer, went down after Goddy and brought him safely to the surface and into the rocks. Willing hands were ready and the unconscious man was hoisted up to the top of the rock. Fred Belyea, who was charged to be near the line, started on her wheel for a doctor. L. R. Merton, who with Mrs. Morton, was passing, went to the rock and with the others tried to resuscitate the young man. They got blankets and a handkerchief, and after their roller and working with him for nearly half an hour he became conscious. Miss Estey met Dr. Foster-McFarlane, and he, with A. G. Smith hurried to the place. Some head was administered, and after a little the young man had recovered sufficiently to be taken into the house of Wellington Ford, where he remained until the ambulance arrived. The doctor stated that it was fortunate there were persons present who knew what to do in the instant, as Goddy would never have recovered consciousness. Fred Belyea is highly praised for his brave act in diving for the unfortunate man and bringing him safe to land.

(From a Special Correspondent.)

The recent hot wave has been of more than ordinary duration in Sussex. Haying is going on actively among farmers and to far with considerable success in saving the same. The crops generally bid fair to be good all round.

Work on the new brick building being erected by J. F. Byrne, barrister, opposite the railway station, is progressing rapidly under the contractors, Tracy and Daly of St. John, and will be a decided addition to what may be properly termed Station House square.

Rumors are in circulation of some rather unpleasant actions on the part of some of our "hoodlum" element in Sussex of late, which if properly investigated might lead to rather an unpleasant termination for the offenders. There seems to be something "rotten in Denmark" that so much of this lawlessness and blackguardism should go unpunished, but if persisted in a time will arrive when patience will cease to be a virtue, and Stipendiary Wallace, who is ever ready to do his duty if properly sustained, and assisted, will be under necessity of making a sharp example of these offenders against the public peace and welfare.

The ringleaders in these various offences are well known and had better take prompt warning.

The work of repairs and rebuilding the additions to the Depot House are now fairly under way. The work is being done under directions and oversight of Edward Fairweather, builder and contractor. The contemplated improvements are raising and widening the old portion of building, permitting a spacious cellar basement for furnaces, etc.; making extensive changes in dining room, additional rooms, etc., which will include neat wash room, writing room, etc., all of which will be a decided improvement.

On the first floor neat bath room and hot and cold water will be placed in the building. Mrs. McLean is bound to keep up to the times, and under the management of A. B. Pugsley the Depot House will no doubt fully sustain its old time popularity.

PRAEACHER BITES OFF A FINGER.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 2.—A fracas has occurred here between the Rev. Charles Plintner, a Presbyterian clergyman of this city, and J. S. Lawrence, a well known business man. Mr. Plintner says he was at work in his barn when a man he did not know entered and without provocation assaulted him. They grappled, and in the struggle the stranger forced his finger into Plintner's mouth with the result that the end of it is missing.

When the story was made public, J. S. Lawrence published a card saying he was the "stranger," that he was well known to Plintner, and the trouble grew out of an effort on his part to get a settlement of an account. He says Plintner was the aggressor and started the fight. A patrol wagon filled with policemen was called to the scene, but the participants were separated before its arrival. Plintner does not have the appearance of an athlete. He is very popular, and his friends say he acted just right in defending himself as he did.

LOST.

SPRING HILL, Kings Co., July 9, 1898. LOST—A valuable Overcoat, between the residence of Thos. Barbour and New Canada. The finder will be amply rewarded. JOHN CALDWELL.

P. E. I. CROPS.

The Kings county correspondent of the Country Gentleman writes under date of July 25: "Weather last week rather too wet. This season is, all through, quite different from any we have had for years. It is like the old seasons, say old people—lots of moisture, short periods of heat; rather cool, grain crops would be better for less rain. Haying not yet begun. Weather clears this week, haying will be general. Crop of grass, other than clover, only average. Clover in the province, a great crop, and so rank in some places, with the spring rains, that it is now over-matured. It looks as if it would have effect of choking out the grain, but experiments and observations in this regard, made by our experiment station, do not bear this out. In a run through the country, on the 24th inst., I found many complaints of potatoes having failed to sprout, and several individual cases where the ground had been plowed up. It was quite a surprise to hear so much dissatisfaction among farmers with their potato crop. The failure is really quite serious. Bugs are few, and in this section of county I know of none yet who had occasion to use Paris green. Many assert that the bug will be come a pest of the past year. Last year crop is excellent throughout the province."
