

PROVINCIAL NEWS

HOPEWELL HILL, Oct. 30.—While Levi Woodworth of Chemical road was driving through this village today, his horse ran away and upset the carriage, throwing Mr. Woodworth heavily to the ground, and dislocating his shoulder, besides causing other injuries. Dr. Murray rendered the necessary surgical aid.

Mrs. Eunice Rogers returned to Rockland, Me., last week. Mrs. Wilbur Clement, who has been spending the summer here, has returned to her home in New Hampshire.

Floyd's mill moved this week to Menet to saw for E. & H. Mitten. Herbert Newcomb has sold the greater part of his standing timber to Downey Bros. Stiles Bros. of Riverside have disposed of $5,000 worth of timber to W. G. Carver.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 2.—David Coy has sold the hotel Leonard to Abram Tabor of Upland, who has moved over and took possession on Thursday. Mr. Coy will continue for the present to reside here.

Miss Laura M. Gault, a teacher of the primary department of the superior school, closes her engagement with the trustees at the end of this year, and will remove to Boston, where her family reside. She has been a very successful teacher, and has been organist in the Anglican churches at Lakeside, the village, and church for some years, and as a teacher has endeared herself to the numerous pupils who have been under her care.

R. A. March and family have moved to Fredericton for the winter. Mrs. Frank M. Humphrey and her two children have gone on a visit to her father, Thomas A. Peters, at Fredericton.

Miss Kate Weldon of St. John is visiting her friend Miss Brown, daughter of George Brown, Station road.

ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Nov. 5.—On Saturday last the papers transferring the steamer Acadia to the Acadia Pulp and Paper Co. were made out. On Sunday morning, under charge of Capt. Jas. McLeod, she steamed out of St. Andrews harbor en route for Liverpool, N. S. Before leaving here she was fitted out and equipped as a tug boat, for which work she is well adapted. As a pioneer steamboat under the management and ownership of B. F. DeWolfe, the trade between the islands, St. Andrews and St. Stephen was developed and increased, and a larger boat became a necessity, and from present appearances the company owning the steamer Viking, now running between West Isles, Campbellville and the main of Charlotte, will have to get a larger steamer for the service.

MILLTOWN, N. S., Nov. 6.—W. W. Graham while working in his workshop a few days ago, fell and struck on the edge of his bench and hurt himself sufficiently to keep him in the house several days.

A man named Mitchell, while working on the boom, slipped and fell heavily on his back, causing him great suffering. He is confined to the house at his sister's, Mrs. Henry Farnham, Barter street.

Rev. Mr. Bridgman of Milltown, Me., is very ill and unable to do his pulpit work in the M. E. church.

Rev. Dr. Barker and Rev. W. J. Kirby exchanged pulpits on the 29th of Oct.

Rev. Mr. McFarlane of Alexander was in town a few days ago. Mr. McFarlane is a native of Dover, V. Co., N. B., and was on the L. C. R. for several years before entering the M. E. ministry in Maine. Rev. Mr. Dickson of St. John preaches and lectures in the Methodist church here on the 11th and 12th. His lecture is entitled "From Jaffa to Mount Olivet."

Charles Barker has resumed the position of sexton in the Congregational church after 20 years of faithful service.

Mr. McAdam has resigned the position of choir master in the same church after about 16 years' service.

Mrs. Grant of Dorchester, Kent, Canterbury station, was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Weatherbe of Little Ridge, and was calling in Milltown Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Goucher of St. Stephen Baptist church preached in the Methodist church on Sunday in exchange with pastor Kirby.

Rev. Dr. Read's invitation to St. Stephen Methodist church is considered very satisfactory. And it is hoped he will accept.

A football match was played in Baxter's field on Saturday between the Ellsworth and Milltown clubs. The home team conquered, 12 to 0.

WHITE'S COVE, N. S., Nov. 3.—Mrs. Jane Panjor, 12 years old, died at her home, Waterborough, on Wednesday after a short illness at the advanced age of 82 years. Mrs. Panjor was smart and active until about two weeks ago, when she was taken ill with a gripe. She was loved and respected by the whole community. Mrs. Panjor was a sister of the late John Ferris, M. P., and an aunt of the Hon. L. P. Ferris, M. P. She leaves one son, William Panjor, light house keeper at Panjor's point, and three daughters and three sisters and a large circle of friends to mourn. Her remains were interred in the Fernie burial ground at this place yesterday afternoon. Rev. E. B. McDonald conducted the obsequies.

McLaughlin Brothers, who had the contract to build the bridge at Long Creek, have completed the job and are now getting material for the new bridge at Waterborough.

BROUGHT HOME $1,000.

(Halifax Mail.)

Private Casey, of Springfield, one of the members of the Canadian Contingent, who arrived by the Idaho, is one of the few who accumulated considerable money since leaving Halifax with Company H, last fall. He wore a belt on the passage to Halifax containing $1,000 in gold. Saturday afternoon he counted in the presence of a staff reporter, 200 sovereigns, and in addition to this amount he had a number of Kruger five dollar gold pieces. Private Casey was the only man of the contingent fortunate enough to make that much money during his twelve months' absence.

P. E. ISLAND LETTER.

Many Merry Marriages Solemnized on the Island.

Annual Meeting of Charlottetown Y. M. C. A. Shows that Institution to be in a Flourishing Condition—A Fire Bug at Work.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Nov. 8.—Several marriages have occurred here of late. The first, C. W. Blackburn, travelling freight agent of the Planters' Railway, married Miss Minnie Wheeler of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, pastor of the Methodist church, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler. On the 23rd ult. Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

On the 24th ult. Robert Walker, owner of the Acadia, was married to Miss Mary A. McDonald of Little Pond, and Wm. P. McDonald of Johnson's River, were united in marriage. The groom is a brother of the late John McDonald, who was killed in the Boer war. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Young, at the residence of the bride's father, John F. Wheeler.

ceedingly slender build, while the man with whom he bet is very short in stature and of much avoirdupois.

Tynan in order to perform the task must necessarily make a long distance to the ground, while Watermann, being of an opposite physique, will find the task exceedingly laborious. Each man is thoroughly determined if he loses to play, but he agrees, and has already conceded as to how long a time it will take to reach the goal. The tall man believes he can do it in four hours, while his opponent is willing to take most all day.

THE BOER WOMEN ARE RESPONSIBLE

For Revival of Active Hostilities—Uitlanders a Menace.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The striking revival of the Boer war is timed to synchronize with the ex-President Kruger's arrival in Europe. The fact that the Boers no longer have any important fixed position to be attacked has left them free to indulge in the roving warfare, which they are prosecuting with extraordinary success. The British no longer have any keys to the Boer operations, and are far from acquiring equal nimbleness with the Boer at scattered fighting. The burghers are now masters of the country in the Transvaal, and have taken the initiative. They have also compelled the small British garrison at Reddersburg and Ventersburg to surrender. They took the arms and supplies, and liberated those who surrendered, not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.

The list of successes has had a natural sequel in increasing the activity of all the commandoes. The net result is that Botha, De Wet and Delany are all as strong as ever, and are sowing the seeds of trouble for the British. When supplies are short they swoop down on some village which the British hold, and which they know is well filled, and help themselves. They also take the opportunity to liberate those who are in the hands of the Boers, and who are not wishing to have them to feed.