GREEKS MAKE GREAT FINISH; DEFEAT ST. CROIX IN LAST INNING

About 800 fans saw the most exciting finish of a baseball game on the Marathon grounds yesterday afternoon than has been witnessed for a long time, when the Marathons, after practically losing their game in the first inning, fought a hard uphill battle and nosed out a winner in the last inning from the fast St. Croix team. The Greeks not only won the game but managed to place themselves at the head of the league.

When the game commenced Joe Tarbell went into the box and he had a bad first inning. Lynch was the first Maine batter and he knocked a long, easy fly to Riley in centre field, and Riley dropped the ball just as easy as it came to him. The balloon then went up. McPherson drew a base on balls and the two men were advanced on Wildes sacrifice to the pitcher. Tetrault then placed a single in left field, scoring Lynch and McPherson. Pease singled to centre and advanced Tetrault to third and this runner scored on Vance sacrificing to first. Parker followed with a two-bagger to centre and scored Pease. Gross struck out, retiring the side after his team had made four runs. It looked blue for the Marathons, but O'Brien opened for the Greeks with a two-base hit to centre and advanced a base when Little went out, short to first. Black was hit by a pitched ball. Watt went out, second to first, and O'Brien scored on the play. Bien flied out to first and retired the side. There was no scoring in the next two innings, the sides being retired quickly.

In the fourth inning Vance reached first on Shortstop Waterhouse's error and was advanced a base on Parker's sacrifice to pitcher and finally scored on a single to left by Gross. Conoly hit to O'Brien at third and a quick double play caught Gross at the third bag and the side was retired.

Black singled to centre and went to third on Watt's two-base hit to right field. Bien flied out to right field and Black was caught trying to reach the plate. While Pitcher Conly was winding up, Watt managed to steal home. Waterhouse singled to centre and was left on first when Riley hit out to first.

In the seventh inning, with two men out, Lynch was hit by a ball which bounded off his bat and the batter was knocked out for a short time. When he had been attended to by Dr. Bentley, Lynch resumed the play and managed to beat out a hit to the pitcher, but was left at first when McPherson flied out to left. Lynch was forced to retire from the game owing to the injury to his eye and Howard went into the field.

Riley singled to right but was forced out at second on Nolan hitting to that territory. Tarbell hit to Wildes, who muffed. O'Brien hit to lft for two bases and scored Nolan. Little hit to pitcher and Tarbell was thrown out the plate. Catcher Black muffed Black's third strike and O'Brien scored. Watt hit to second and forced Black out and the side was retired. The Greeks were crawling steadily to the top and Tarbell was pitching as steady as a clock.

With the score five to four in St. Croix's favor the latter team was blanked in the ninth and it was up to the Greeks to do something and they did it with a will. Nolan to bat beat out a single to third. Manager Doyle of the visiting team saw visions of the game slipping out of his grasp and fearing that Conly would not be strong enough to win his game, although that pitcher had twirled a good steady game, the St. Croix manager benched Conly and placed Lee, their star pitcher in the box. Lee had not even time to warm up when he went in the box and the first man to face him was Tarbell who hit to Lee, the latter juggled the ball long enough for Tarbell to reach first safely. Then Lee made a wild pitch which placed Nolan on third and Tarbell on second. With no one out and the two men on bases, the crowd went wild with excitement. O'Brien came to bat and banged the ball away out to deep centre field for an easy two bags, Nolan and Tarbell scored and the game was won by the Greeks amid loud cheering.

Many players and fans present expressed themselvee that Manager Doyle made a bad move in benching Conly and putting Lee in when he did as Conly had been doing well and it was thought could perhaps have pulled out a victory.

The following is the box score and summary of the game:

Wild Bob Moha, Milwaukee's Hope, is Twenty-four Today.

Bob Moha, the Milwaukee boxer who has fought in all the divisions from feather to heavyweight, will celebrate his twenty-fourth birthday today. Wild Bob is a native of Milwaukee, and a majority of his battles have been staged in the Wisconsin metropolis, where he is a great favorite with the fans. He is one of the most uncertain performers in the ring, now making a noise like a champion and now fighting like a contender for the cheese title. In recent battles he outpointed Eddie McGoorty and took the wind out of Johnny Thompson, the Sycamore cyclone, only to fall a victim soon afterward to Jack Dillon, the Hoosier middleweight.

Moha began his professional career at the age of sixteen, when he defeated a number of fairly good featherweights. Soon afterward he graduated into the lightweight division, and in 1911 entered the middleweight ranks. He defeated Billy Papke, Sailor Burke, Jim Smith and several other middles, but was outpointed by Freddie Hicks in New York last year. After that he went out of training for a time, and went up to 190 pounds in weight, although he only stands five feet four inches. Wild Bob will do his fighting in the light heavyweight or commissionweight division hereafter, and hopes to become the champion of that class.

Cyclone Johnny Thompson is another young balloon who needs anti-fat treatment. He won his sobriquet as a lightweight, but, after going to Australia, began to pick up weight, and tipped the scales at 162 pounds when he fought Hughie Mehegan—just twenty-two pounds over the weight he had agreed to make. Johnny is the same height as Moha, five feet four, and about the best he can do now is 175 pounds. The Cyclone is getting well along in years, and will be thirty-seven this month.

The longest baseball game between college teams was played at Harvard six years ago today, when Wesleyan and Trinity went nineteen innings to a 2 to 2 tie.

MIKE GIBBONS A WINNER.

Boston, June 3.—Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, one of the leading claimants to the welterweight championship, put a temporary stop to the title aspirations of Joe White, of Boston, in a twelve round bout before the Atlas A. A. tonight. Gibbons led throughout, jabbing White almost at will, but was punished three times during hard hitting flashes by the local boy.

TAKES A VACATION.

Bathurst, May 31—The many friends of Peter Poster regret his leaving town for a couple of months, he taking a well earned vacation till August. He will be missed very much and his friends will be pleased to extend a hearty welcome on his return and if rumors are correct they will also be pleased to extend congratulations.

VANCOUVER'S DULL TIME.

Vancouver, B. C., June 3.—Mayor Baxter has issued a public warning that too many people are coming to Vancouver seeking work, giving up good positions in the old country. The money tightness is slowing business up here and the mayor is afraid there will be many of the new arrivals out of work next winter.

MARATHONS AND BANGOR HERE TODAY

After taking four games straight from the Bangor aggregation and trimming the trappy St. Croix team by a slashing rally in the ninth inning, the Marathons are feeling in fine fettle over their well-earned capture of the league leadership, a feat due to five games won without a break.

This afternoon the local boys will meet Bangor for the last game of the present series on the Marathon grounds, play starting at 3 o'clock sharp. Although during the week the Marathons have passed out four trimmings to the Maroons, a fast snappy game is expected. The Bangor team is considerably re-enforced and four new players will probably be seen wearing their uniforms this afternoon. The new men, it is understood, are fast players.

Shankey will be on the mound for the Greeks and as his ability to put the high sign on the sphere is well known, the local fans will be assured of good steady pitching. Who will be on the slab for the visitors is not known.

PLANS TO INVESTIGATE BALL TRUST

Washington, June 6.—Plans for an investigation of the so-called "baseball trust" were made today by representative Gallagher, of Illinois, who will have a hearing within a week before the house rules committee on his resolution. Representative Gallagher declared today that half a dozen witnesses would be sufficient to sustain his "charge of monoply." He prepared today a list which includes Horace Fogel, former president of the Philadelphia National Baseball club, and men from New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburg and Buffalo.

THIS DATE IN RING ANNALS

1824—Tom Spring, heavyweight champion of England, defeated Jack Langan, who held the Irish title, in 77 rounds on this date at Chichester, England. The battle raged two hours and a half and was, of course, with bare knucles. Spring had claimed the title on the retirement of Tom Cribb, and defended it against Bill Neat. Langan, a County Kildare man, who had been a soldier, put up a game fight. The bout was staged in an open field, with farmers' carts as points of vantage for the spectators, who included some of the leading men of England and Ireland.

1910—Matty Baldwin defeated Paul Kohler in 12 rounds at Akron.

1912—Packey McFarland knocked out Frank Brennen in 4th round at Muskogen.

JOCKEY KILLED BY CROPPER.

Hempstead, N. Y., June 5.—James M. Lynch, a jockey, came a cropper in the sixth race at Piping Rock, L. I., today and was so seriously injured that he died in a hospital tonight without ever regaining consciousness. Lynch was riding Exemplar, owned by J. E. Widener. Lynch was 30 years old.

MURDER IN PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, June 6.—James McNair, ticket agent at the Union Station here, was shot and instantly killed at noon today and his chief clerk, Ralph Pally, was fatally shot by D. E. Sage, a clerk in the ticket office, who is said to have become angered over not receiving promotion when changes were made recently.

PROMINENT BALL MAN DEAD.

St. Louis, June 5.—Chris Von Der Ahe, owner of the old St. Louis champion ball team of 1885-88 and years ago one of the best known men in the game in the country, died here late this afternoon.

KIRKBY AND TRAVERS IN FINALS

Short Hills, N. J., June 6.—Golf history of a year ago was repeated today when Oswald Kirkby, of Englewood, and Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, won their respective matches in the semi-final round of the New Jersey State Golf championships tournament at the Baltusrol Club links. Last year these two met in the finals at Atlantic City, and Kirkby won. Tomorrow they will meet again as finalists, and a close match is expected.

Travers, the national metropolitan champion, made a record of 73 for the links yesterday, but today Kirkby, playing splendidly, went him one better by going round in 72 in his match with E. B. Schley, of the home club winning by 9 up and 8 to play.

CARLETON WON.

In a five inning game last evening in the City league, the Carletons defeated the Rocklands by a score of 8 to 3.

The Tire Without a Weak Spot

THE FABRIC carcass of a tire has a lot to say in the mileage question. The carcass represents the strength of the tire. One weak spot in the carcass makes a short lived tire. When we invented the unstretchable base of 126 braided wires, which made possible the No Rim Cut Tire, car owners made a tremendous saving. But even this money saving feature could not give the Goodyear Mileage without a uniformly strong carcass. The 10% oversize feature would not be valuable without a carcass built to stand equal strain over every inch of tire surface.

Two Goodyear principles of construction build this extra strength into the Goodyear Fabric Carcass.

The Tire-building Machine

In the early days when we used to build tires by hand we had carcass trouble. The human machine gets tired. Man's strength varies. The fabric was sometimes stretched unevenly. To overcome this uncertainty, we invented the Goodyear Tire-building Machine. It forever did away with faulty construction. It builds uniform long mileage into every Goodyear Tire.

Every inch of every layer is accurately stretched by the Goodyear Machine. Uniform tension is sure. Every part of the fabric bears its share of strain.

This Machine, which builds certainty and uniformity into Goodyear Tires, is controlled by our patents.

NON-SKID TREADS

The tough diamond shaped blocks of this tread are as full of life as a plain tread.

The Goodyear Non-Skid does not sacrifice comfort or cause undue jolting of the engine. You can see the grip in this tire. It is a perfect Non-Skid. When after thousands of miles the centre blocks wear down the side blocks take up the work of skid resisting.

Double Curing

Before the tread is added to this machine-built carcass, both carcass and tread receive a partial cure.

The carcass is partly cured in a mould. It is then taken from the mould and carefully inspected to see that no wrinkles or flaws have developed. This is important. The Goodyear process lays bare the carcass for inspection before the tread is added. Only a perfect carcass can possibly be built into a Goodyear Tire.

The tread is then laid on the carcass, the tire inflated on a rim, and the curing process completed.

The curing is therefore completed under the same air pressure as it will meet in service.

Goodyear double curing is an expensive process, but it is necessary to accomplish these three things.

Proper curing through the thick part of the tread. A flawless fabric carcass. The even distributing of strain over the whole tire.
