1854.

BILL.

[No. 116.

An Act to amend the Act regulating the Culling and Measurement of Lumber, and to extend the provisions of the same.

W HEREAS the provisions of the Act regulating the Culling and Mea- Preamble. surement of Lumber, passed in the eighth year of Her Majesty's Reign and chaptered 49, have been found insufficient to protect the owners of sawlogs and timber against persons fraudulently obtaining possession of 5 the same: Be it therefore enacted, &c., as follows:

be found within the boom or pond, or otherwise in the possession of any where timber belouging to person not owning the same, in any place adjoining the river or stream into any person, which such log or timber was put by the owner for the purpose of floating shall be found it to any place for his use there, he shall, upon demand in writing of the see, of another person whose mark such sawlog or timber bears, or his authorized agent, remove the same at his own cost into the open water of such river or stream; And if within twenty-four hours after such demand made, the person in whose boom or pond, or in whose possession such sawlog or other timber 15 shall be, shall not remove the same as hereinbefore provided, he shall be Fine if not liable to pay a fine of not more than nor less than in the discretion of the Justices before whom the same shall be sued for, for such refusal or neglect; And after such refusal or neglect the owner of the sawlog or other timber, or his authorized agent and servants, shall 20 have full authority, praceably to enter upon the boom, pond, or other premises of the party so refusing, in order to remove all sawlogs and timber bearing his mark, and he may sue for and recover the cost of such removal, Removal at from the party in whose possession such sawlog or timber found, cost of wrong in any Count having invisition in sivil account to simple contract. in any Court having jurisdiction in civil cases on simple contract 25 to the amount sought to be recovered, or at his option, he may leave the sawlog or timber in the possession of the party refusing, and may sue for and recover the value of the same, in manner aforesaid.

From and after the passing of this Act, if any sawlog or other timber shall Proceedings

II. Every person occupying or working a saw-mill, shall place and Duty of permaintain in a conspicuous situation in such mill a true representation of all sons working 30 the marks with which any sawlogs or timber which he has a right to saw are marked, and if he shall fail to exhibit such marks which he claims to own, he shall be liable to a fine of not more than nor less than Penalty for in the discretion of the Justices before whom the same contravention. shall be sued for; And any person so exhibiting any mark to which he 35 has no right, shall be liable to the same punishment as that to which a person counterfeiting a mark is liable by the thirtieth section of the Act first above recited.

III. Any servant of; or workman employed by, the owner or occupier Penalty on of a saw-mill, who shall saw up any log or other timber, marked with any persons cutto other mark than those claimed to be owned by his employer, and exhibited ting of logs