

More candidates

Lawrence Hansen

Because the Student Union has traditionally spent most of its energy on partisan rivalries and the politics of personality, it has sometimes lost sight of the fact that its reason for existence is primarily and most importantly to serve students. That is why we should be optimistic about the opportunity this year presents us to create a student government that no longer spends its time gazing in on itself, but in a very dynamic way looks to its constituents for help, advice and support.

We are now in a position to build a Student Union that will respond to the needs and concerns of the student body. A union which isn't afraid to allow its voice to be heard on issues like the recent spate of sexual assaults on campus and will take steps to secure and enrich community life. A Union that instead of bullying other organizations, is characterized by a genuine willingness to cooperate with all groups which contribute to student life. In brief, by establishing a meaningful dialogue with all elements of the university community, your student government must become aware of how to better serve all of us.

It is no secret that the upcoming year is going to be a difficult one: financial resources will be stretched to the limit and there is still a lingering mistrust of the student government. The secret to our success will be our ability to cooperate with each other and to convince students that the Union is a worthwhile institution for their time and effort. It is imperative that we attempt to restore the Union's credibility, both by conducting ourselves in a responsible manner and by working hard to heal the wounds which exist between the Student Union and the Student body, the university community and the city of Fredericton.

By doing the following:-

1. Pushing for increased lighting and security on campus.
2. Working toward providing live entertainment for students.
3. Taking action to solve the year book problem.
4. And encouraging an atmosphere of consultation and communication in student affairs.

I'm willing to contribute to the regeneration of the Union. On October 22, I ask that you too make your contribution.

Escort service slack

As a follow up to last week's article, the Brunswickan investigated once again the progress of Escort services on campus. Here are the latest standings.

Questions:

1. Do you have an organized escort system? Is it publicized?
2. Are there controls over "who" does the escorting?
3. Have you had a meeting (in the last week)
4. Have you been contacted by the SU or FRCC?
5. Would you escort if asked?

Residence Ratings this week:
Neill (5 points)
-yes, people assigned to "on duty" every day.
-yes, posters have been prominently displayed.
-A meeting was held this past week.

-Proctors attended a Sexual Harassment Clinic.
-yes, would escort.
Harrison (4 points)
-yes, vice president sends person, if called.
-yes, has put up posters.
-yes, vice president chooses responsible subjects to pick up.
-no meeting
-no contact by SU
-yes, would escort

Jones (1 point)
-no
-no
-no
-no
-yes
Bridges (2 points)
-no
-no
-yes, had meeting
-no
-yes, would escort

Tibbits honoured

One hundred years ago, Mary Kingsley Tibbits bucked the system and became the first woman to enrol as a student at the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton.

This year, UNB honours the determine young woman by unveiling her portrait at a tea in the Formal Lounge of Lady Dunn Hall on Friday, Oct 17, at 3 pm. The public is invited to attend.

Mary Tibbits attempted to enrol first at Wellesley College, Boston University and the Harvard Annex (later Radcliffe College). Told she was too young, she turned to UNB only to have the senate of the university turn her down.

At the next session of the New Brunswick legislature, the matter was discussed and UNB's government funding was threatened if Mary Tibbits, a duly qualified student, were not admitted. She began to attend classes in September 1886. Although she was the only female student that year, others soon followed.

Following the portrait unveiling by UNB Chancellor Lady Aitken, a poster celebrating the centennial of women at UNB will be presented. Designed by Fredericton graphic artist Jane Geurts, the poster portrays Mary Tibbits and present-day women at UNB.

ARMS PUB PRESENTS

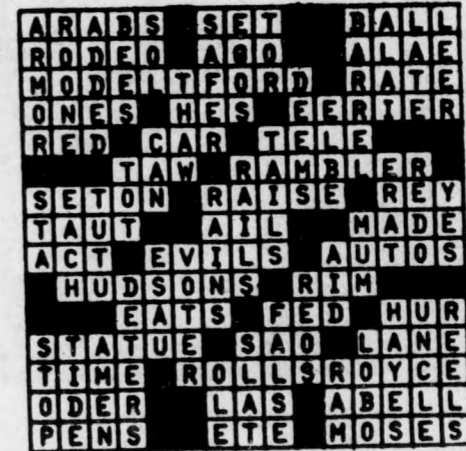

OKTOBERFEST

Super Happy
Hour 2 - 6 pm
Live Omppa Band
Starts at 8 pm

Saturday,
October 18

Steak 'n Eggs, Home Fries, Toast: $2.95 All Day
Don't Miss This Once-A-Year "Arms Pub" Celebration

Answer to last week's crossword.

Why not go down to IDEAL CUE and play a couple of games of Snooker or Pool and try their New Snack Bar featuring Stews, Spaghetti and Meat Sauce, Subs and Sandwiches...at reasonable prices

IDEAL CUE
403 Regent Street
459-9800

(in the building with the rainbows on it)