Another is to make the application no longer a part of the contract, and another that statements in the application, if not corrected, shall not void the policy unless the courts hold they are material to the contract. ### THREE SPEECHES.

Dr. Sproule, Hon. Wm. Paterson and Mr. F. D. Monk Heard on the Autonomy Bill in the House.

Ottawa, March 24.—Three speeches were heard in the House yesterday. Dr. Sproule, Hon. William Paterson and F. D. Monk discussed the school question from their respective standpoints.

Dr. Sproule made an impressive argument in favor of national schools. Mr. Paterson gave many reasons why separate schools should be perpetuated in the Northwest and F. D. Monk stated the reasons which led him to take the Government side of the argument on the schools question.

All the speeches were good. Dr. Sproule was at his best. Mr. Paterson twisted the constitution into all shapes and forms, and F. D. Monk sustained his reputation as a debater.

Hon. Clifford Sifton moved the adjournment of the debate. His speech to-day is looked forward to with intense interest.

The motion drew from several Senators an expression of sympathy with the movement. Among those who urged action on the part of the Dominion to put down tuberculosis were Senators William Hingston, Robertson, McMillan and Loughheed. Senator McMullen adjourned the debate. There can be no doubt that the Senate will be unanimous in passing the resolution which, recently received the fullest endorsement of the House of Commons.
