FLORENCE KIRADE'S PUZZLING ANSWERS TO THE DETECTIVES

Several Points in Her Story of the Crime on Which More Light is Needed—Her Young Man Comes to Rescue.

HAMILTON, Ont., March 9.—A sensation was created in the Kinrade murder case this afternoon, when the provincial authorities were granted permission to exhume the body of the murdered girl, Ethel Kinrade. It was secured out that the object of this was to secure an important witness for the crown. It will be remembered that Dr. McNeil, who resides quite close to the scene of the murder, was one of the first to arrive at the scene. His testimony would, the crown believes, be highly important. Dr. McNeil, however, is the corner in the case and has already opened the inquest, one session of which was held when the jury viewed the body at the morgue and another last Wednesday night, when an adjournment was necessary to secure the attendance of Miss Florence Kinrade and Mrs. Kinrade, who were then too ill to attend. As coroner Dr. McNeil cannot be a witness, and the crown believes it important enough to have the jury view the remains under a new corner in order to secure Dr. McNeil's testimony. The doctor heard the first story told by Florence Kinrade, and as this differed very materially from the others that she told it was naturally desired.

Exhumed at 6 O'clock
The body was exhumed this afternoon at 6 o'clock and taken to the morgue, the old jury meeting at eight o'clock, when it was re-opened, and the remains viewed under the new corner. Dr. Rennie. The inquest will take place tomorrow evening as ordered, and in addition to Florence Kinrade, Mrs. Kinrade and all the members of the family have been subpoenaed in addition to fully twenty-five others.

Startling developments are expected at the inquest tomorrow evening and the entire district is anxiously awaiting for this. The excitement in the affair owing to the recent discoveries is intense, and in addition to the witnesses and officials thirty of the leading newspapers have asked for accommodation, Detroit and even Chicago being represented.

The whole affair is rapidly developing into a family tragedy and there is no doubt but that the evidence to-morrow evening will show that a certain member of the family committed the deed or was at least responsible. So certain are the police of this that detectives Coulter and Blackely employed a plumber to dig up the house, it being their belief that the revolver was disposed of in this way.

What results they had the detectives refused to say, stating it would all come out in due time.

AN IMMEDIATE ARREST.
Everything points to an immediate arrest or arrest immediately after the inquest, and there is no doubt but that these arrests will prove just as sensational as the crime itself. A great chain of circumstantial evidence has been wound around the murder, and from the facts in the possession of the police it will be pretty warm for some one before the week is out.

Only this morning it came out that Miss Ethel Kinrade was seen to leave the Kinrade house shortly after two o'clock the afternoon of the murder, and it has been proven that the shooting took place shortly after three. The story told by Miss Florence Kinrade that Ethel was dressing upstairs when the supposed tramp was admitted to the house is thus contradicted. But Florence's story is contradicted in more ways than one. The police evidence on this case, as far as is known, will be on the following line: That Ethel Kinrade left the house shortly after two o'clock the afternoon of the murder, that she was shot shortly after three o'clock, that the first shots located in the face did not kill her, and that the murderer or murderers came back fully ten minutes afterwards and fired the remaining shots into the body, making sure that death had resulted. That the dead girl was sitting in a chair, bending over to take off her rubbers, having just returned to the house when the first shots were fired. That the body was moved fully eighteen inches from the position in which it lay when the last shots were fired and that this moving took place some time after the crime was committed and before the police and anybody but Florence Kinrade was in the house. That Florence Kinrade ran across the road to her friend, Mrs. Hickey, at 335, with her hair loose and much disheveled in appearance, and that she returned to the house without telling Mrs. Hickey of the crime, brushed her hair and put on her hat before going back to Hickey's and raising the alarm at 4 o'clock. That the story that the murderer fired at Florence, according to her own tale is incorrect, as no signs of such firing have been found. That the visit of Mrs. Kinrade to the police office at 345 was not for the purpose of making a statement of evidence, but for the purpose of blinding the authorities, and that both Florence and Mrs. Kinrade know a great deal more than they so far told.

POLICE CONFIDENT.
With such an array of evidence the police are confident that the two women when under severe cross-examination tomorrow evening will be forced to tell the true story of what took place in the Kinrade residence on Thursday afternoon, February 25th.

Chief Smith intimated to your correspondent today that in addition to the array of evidence the police have several other bits of information which will prove very damaging when brought out at the inquest. The evidence given which was gathered by the police is all in direct contradiction to the story told by Florence to the effect that a man supposed to be a tramp or burglar committed the deed, that he gained admittance to the house on the plea of something to eat, and demanding money, shot Ethel as she came down the stairs while Florence was upstairs getting money; that the crime was committed shortly before four o'clock, the alarm being given as soon as it happened. According to Florence, Ethel was upstairs getting dressed to go out when the man was admitted. A new feature was brought forward today by the discovery of Mrs. Hickey, 145 Herkimer street, a few houses from the Kinrade home. He said he is prepared to take the stand and swear that he saw Ethel Kinrade leave her home at two o'clock. She wore a brown dress with trimmings which his daughter readily recognized when it was delivered to her. The girl did not return that way again.

Taken all in all the case promises to prove very sensational, and the evidence is being brought out in a way that appears to be direct enough to bring the crime home to the guilty party.

OLD REMEDIES RETAIN THEIR POPULARITY.
Investigations of French Physicians Show that Large Production of Synthetic Medicines is Not Crowding out the old Favorites

A late despatch from Paris says that Prof. Chatelet presented a notable paper before the academy of medicine on therapeutic tendencies in the last ten years. Basing his figures on medicines furnished to 219 large asylums and hospitals by the State Pharmacy, he finds that the old-fashioned medicines retain their popularity.

An expert authority on being interviewed states that the tendencies of the medical profession in Canada are along exactly the same lines. He states that many of the leading physicians use these ingredients in some form, often by some fancy and expensive name.

WHOLE FAMILY FOUND STARVING
Weak From Cold and Hunger, Five Were Nearly Exhausted

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Weak and suffering from cold and hunger, Mrs. Anna Zalkoff and her four children, the oldest seven years old, were found huddled in a cheerless room, 444 Cresson street yesterday by the Manayunk police.

Three weeks ago the woman's husband left her to go to the coal mines in Schuylkill county and seek employment. He was never seen again, and the little family had been forced to exist on that amount ever since he left.

THE "WHY" OF IT.
The Currie Business University has spent five thousand dollars in order to place a public service office at the disposal of its qualified pupils, thus enabling each pupil to secure an "experience classification." This advanced move on the part of the management has given this school's graduates a fifty to one hundred percent higher classification than graduates of other business schools; hence the reason why the Currie Business University graduates all more positions and secure higher salaries than the ordinary business college graduates.

ROSS NOT IN FAVOR OF SENATE REFORM
OTTAWA, March 9.—In the senate today Hon. G. Ross in a carefully reasoned speech on the question of senate reform discussed the proposal of Hon. R. W. Scott for a three-year elective senate. Senator Ross, in an exhaustive review of the arguments advanced by the ex-secretary of state maintaining that there was no popular clamor for any change in the present system, which was working well, that the proposal of Hon. Mr. Scott was open to many objections and that any scheme of senate reform must come from the government and could not be carried out with consent of the various provinces which were party to the confederational compact. He thought the senate would do well to drop the present discussion.

YOUNG WOMAN'S PERILS OF THE NARROW ESCAPE FINEST FORCE IN THE WORLD

Campbellton Girl Nearly Asphyxiated in Toronto Hotel

OTTAWA, Mar. 9.—While on a visit to this city to attend the convention of the Ontario Nurses' Association, Miss Lily Duncan, of Campbellton, New Brunswick, had a narrow escape last night of losing her life from gas poisoning. She was found out of her room at the Palmer House at 10 o'clock this morning and taken to Grace Hospital in the police ambulance, where she is now reported as being out of danger. It is supposed that in turning the gas off when retiring last night she accidentally turned it on again and fell asleep before noticing the fumes.

Before the arrival of the police ambulance Dr. Bruce Riddan was called in and rendered first aid. He accompanied the party to the hospital in his automobile.

NEXT STEP IN TEMPERANCE WAR TO BE TAKEN TODAY

Every Church in the City to be Represented at Meeting—Temperance Advocates Tell The Sun That the Scott Act Cause is Not Doomed in Fredericton as a Result of Recent Vote

That the temperance wave has by no means been given a "black eye" by the refusal of the Hazen government to grant a prohibitory law in the province is being clearly shown by the active interest being taken in the movement. Last evening's meetings were largely attended and most enthusiastic.

Considerable interest has been aroused in the meeting of the Moral and Social Reform Council of New Brunswick, which takes place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Representatives from all over the province will attend and much business will be transacted.

In addition, the representatives in attendance will include the N. B. Temperance Federation, Salvation Army and Farmers and Dairyman's Association. It is probable that officers will be elected. The prohibition request has been marked off the slate and the programme will be a general discussion on temperance matters.

MARYSVILLE WANTS MR. HATT AS MAYOR
MARYSVILLE, March 9.—At the request of a large number of the taxpayers of the town of Marysville, as well as members of the council board, C. H. Hatt, superintendent of the cotton mill, has decided to offer himself as candidate for mayor at the next civic election, which takes place the first Monday in April. The election promises to be the most exciting in the history of the town, especially in number one ward, where the fight has already started, and the different men who expect to have the honor of representing the people next year are working hard with that object in view.
