SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Application must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency on certain conditions). Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section along-side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Six months' residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 80 acres extra, cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent on certain conditions. A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $5.00 per acre. Duties—Six months' residence in each of three years, cultivate 80 acres and erect a house worth $500. This area of cultivation is subject to re-jection in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions. W. W. CORY, C. M. G., Deputy of the Minister of the Interior. N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

GERMAN-MADE NEWS

Ludicrous Fiction Circulated by Government and Subsidized Press

Proofs are constantly accumulating as to the absolute unreliability of the war news communicated to the press by the German Government either directly and officially or through the Wolff and Havas press agencies which are subsidized and directed by the German authorities. It is necessary to compare the reports emanating from those sources with facts as subsequently revealed to prove this. The paragraphs of alleged British news circulated by the official German news bureau and the Wolff and Havas news agencies are simply grotesque in their absolute untruthfulness. On one day for instance the "Pester Lloyd" announced an official authority: The efforts of the British Government to raise an emergency army of half a million men have failed completely, only two thousand reporting themselves for military service. In spite of this, however, the War Office declared that 100,000 men had been enrolled in two weeks. The following veracious item of war news, issued officially at Berlin was circulated through the German wireless stations and received by the Marconi Company: "It is reported from Constantinople that Turkish students arriving there from England describe the situation in that country as bad. Opposition to the war is growing, and rebellion is feared among the working classes." A well known correspondent of a leading London daily in Switzerland lately drew attention to the fact that the press of Switzerland and of all the neutral countries, including that of Sweden and Norway, was being worked from the official German press bureaus to engender a pro-German propaganda. The Wolff press agency, according to this correspondent, is a more creative force than the other press bureaus. One day, says this correspondent, we were told by this assiduous educator of public opinion that all the German Socialist members of the Reichstag waited on the Emperor, together with the other members of that body (to tender an assurance of their loyalty and devotion). Unfortunately, however, presently comes a copy of the Berlin "Tagblatt," which states that no Socialist members were present.

BATTLEFIELD HUMOR

Business as Usual, Said Joking Message When Ammunition Came

"The battlefield isn't the place where you look for jokes, but you find 'em all the same," said a wounded Scottish Highlander back from the front. "There's the Wiltshire—Cockneys, most of 'em, for all their county name. We were retreating, and so were they, and it wasn't a target at all, it was a tin. "Just when things were looking pretty lively the Wiltshires' ammunition ran out. A party of men volunteered to cross the open under heavy rifle and shell fire to borrow a tin to go on with from some of our chaps, who appeared to have more than they needed. "When they came back with the shells, and the men began to reload, the war of the regiment, a Cockney, who had just been reading in the papers that the motto at home was 'Business as Usual,' brought out an old biscuit tin. He had written 'Business as Usual' on the tin, and turned it toward the Germans. "Our men were ready for them again, that's what it meant. They were only Germans, so they couldn't read English, poor chaps; but, anyhow, it was a target at which they aimed, and when the joker was forced by his mates to take it in again he got hit twice in the arm, fortunately not very seriously."

THEORY OF MARCHING

There is a great difference in the length of the steps of the soldiers now engaged in war. The longest step of all is that of the British infantry, which is thirty-one and a half inches. Germany and Switzerland come next, each doing thirty-one inches, and France, Italy, and Austria each step out twenty-nine inches. The shortest of all is found in the Russian army. The Czar's soldier's step is twenty-seven and a half inches, and he only does a hundred and twelve to the minute. This is beaten by the German, who does one hundred and fourteen to the minute. The Austrians step out at the rate of a hundred and fifteen; the French and Italian at a hundred and twenty. It therefore follows that a Russian will take twenty minutes to march a mile, the Austrian eighteen and two thirds minutes, the French and Italian eighteen minutes, and the German ten or eleven seconds less. The British do whatever is necessary, without great regard for theory.

Her Dainty Passport

A Swedish actress gravitates how she was taken for a German spy in Paris, and not knowing how to proclaim her identity, and being surrounded by a shouting mob, she felt quite alarmed. Suddenly a lucky idea occurred to her. She slightly raised her skirt, and showing a dainty little foot, exclaimed, "You look at this. Do you call this German?" She was saved and carried in triumph to her hotel.

At the cemetery at Forest Hill a red granite gravestone has been unveiled over the late Mr. Harry Quelch, late editor of "Justice."

QUESTION OF WORK AND "MADE-IN-CANADA"

Economic Situation of Grave Concern to Canadians—Co-operation From all Sides to Give Work

The war has had a sudden and pronounced effect on the "Made-in-Canada" movement which has been carried on in Canada during the past few years. Hitherto the educational campaign, to promote the sale of "Made-in-Canada" goods, has been viewed pretty much as the concern of Canadian manufacturers, and has, for this reason, been denied the sympathy and support of a section of the people. The war has changed all this, and to-day the "Made-in-Canada" policy is no longer looked upon as a matter of sentiment and patriotism, but is regarded as an economic necessity. The manufacturers and other large employers of labor are being appealed to by press, pulpit and public men generally to provide the maximum of employment with a view to relieving the distress caused by the closing of many factories as a result of the war. Obviously Canadian factories cannot be operated unless there is a demand for their products. Hence the appeal on every hand to Canadians to patronize the goods made by their fellow-citizens in Canadian factories. It is admitted on all sides that there will be considerable unemployment, and consequent suffering during the next few months in Canada, but if every Canadian would, as far as possible, patronize home industries, orders would come in to many Canadian factories that have hitherto been placed abroad, and instead of a slackening in factory activity the wheels of industry might be operated with accelerated speed during this period of trial.

Manufacturers and other large employers of labor have agreed among themselves to maintain their working staffs as fully as possible even if they operate at cost or in some cases below cost. In so doing they are not actuated by any desire for profits, welcome as these would be, but solely with a view of relieving the distress which unemployment always brings. They feel that it is far better to furnish a livelihood for Canadians through honest work and honest wages than to dole out a pittance through charitable institutions. "Made-in-Canada" is, therefore, more than ever a practical business policy to-day. Every Canadian housewife, in fact every purchaser of goods in Canada should practice it and encourage others to do likewise. About fifty cents of every dollar spent on the product of a factory goes to the workman. All interests are, therefore, combining in Canada during the next few months to increase employment by distributing as much as possible in the form of wages to the Canadian workmen in the Canadian factory. The campaign of the Canadian Press Association in this direction is most commendable, and will do much to restore confidence in the business and industrial community.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept Her Locks Dark, Thick, Glossy, With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling. Grey, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.
