THEIR WORK HIGHLY SPOKEN OF

The Flint, Michigan, Globe, speaking

The Flint, Michigan, Globe, speaking of the street paving being done by Contractors Lynch & Lynch in that city, says: "Of the 10,000 yards of pavement being laid by Contractors Lynch, about half will be of cedar block, but after inspecting the work already completed many are of the belief that more of it should be of brick. Dan Davidson, of Pontiac, was in the city yesterday and took occasion to inspect the strip of two blocks of brick pavement just completed on Second street, between Harrison and Oak. This strip will be ready for traffic tomorrow. Mr. Davidson pronounced it work of the Liberal party. However, the people had heard what Mr. Clancy had said and also had Mr. Fisher's record as Minister of Agriculture, and they could compare the two for themselves. He hoped that the two Kents would join hands in the election which was soon to be held. When the day was fixed the campaign would be short and sharp. It was necessary for the Liberals to get ready, so that when the Government called they would be prepared for a short campaign.

ALLEGED BROKEN PLEDGES.

The Conservatives throughout the length and breadth of Ontario were arraigning the Liberals for not having fulfilled their pledges. Mr. Fisher granted that the complaint was a serious one if it were well founded. The burden of the complaint was that the Liberals had not redeemed their pledges in that they had neither reformed the tariff nor reduced the gov-pledges in that they had neither reformed the tariff nor reduced the government debt. In regard to tariff reform, Mr. Fisher showed at some length how the Liberals had removed all specific duties and put ad valorem duties in force. The Liberals had introduced preferential trade with the motherland and had reduced the duties on goods from England by a third.

motherland and had reduced the duties on goods from England by a third.

The Minister of Agriculture said that in this way the whole tariff of the country was reduced. He said that certain goods bought in England could be brought to Canada at a less duty than they could be brought from the United States. The Canadian dealers could now say to, the American dealers, "Give me linen at such a price for I can buy it in England for that price," and, if the American manufacturer wouldn't do so, he would lose the sale.

Mr. Fisher pointed out how he had secured the removal of the United States 90 days' quarantine on Canadian cattle and the effects on the trade. Another benefit which the agricultural department had developed was the perfecting of cold storage shipments. Mr. Fisher said he had been accused of boasting that he had invented cold storage, but this was a libel, as cold storage, but this was a libel, as cold storage was known and in use by Denmark and Australia when he came to market. As a result both these countries were getting a higher price for their butter and cheese than Canada. Now, by the use of cold storage, Canada was getting more than Australia and nearly as much as Denmark for their butter and cheese.

Minister of Agriculture in the Laurier administration, was the speaker of the afternoon. He said that he had looked forward for some time to an opportunity of addressing the electors of Kent county. He had sat side by side with Kent's representative, Mr. Campbell, and was a warm personal friend of his. He had always found that Mr. Campbell's judgment could be relied upon and he always could be relied upon and he always was ready and willing to do whatever was ready and willing to do whatever work was assigned to him. He would be followed by the good wishes of the Kent Liberals in his contest with Clarke Wallace in York county. While on this tour, Mr. Fisher had often heard of Mr. Campbell's running in West York, spoken of, and had neard in the same connection that if George Stephens were nominated the county of Kent would be safe still. Mr. Stephens was a staunch Reformer. He had business experience, capacity for work, and he had been successful in everything he had undertaken.
