WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 4, 1915.

Editorial Brevities.

The Canadian universities have been doing more this year than ever before. They have given a band of heroic soldiers to the defence of the Empire. It is an ever memorable year in their history.

Surely with Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Romania, Serbia, Belgium and possibly Greece pitted against Germany, Austria and Turkey the possibility of another winter campaign ought to be more or less remote.

Readers, when you are preparing to come to town to do some trading just pick up your home paper, glance at the advertising columns and see who wants the trade. We guarantee they will save you some money. The man who advertises certainly has in documents to offer or he wouldn't ask you to call and see him before buying.

At this season of the year care should be taken to guard against the invasion in the homes of the typhoid fly, the advance agent of pestilence. No more efficient agency for the transmission of infectious filth of all sorts could have been devised, and as the fly breeds only in household and backyard filth, the only means of extermination is by strict cleanliness.

The name of Sergeant Michael O'Leary, whose death in battle was announced last week, but who had won the Victoria Cross by his daring achievement in a previous engagement, will stand high in Britain's roll of honor, and the story of his courage and devotion will live in her history. Here's one for O'Leary, may well be the cry of every Irish soldier as he comes to grips with the enemy.

Farm life is often spoken of as monotonous, but is there any reason why it should be? The environment of farming is far more varied, more interesting and attractive than city life. Those who must sit at a desk in a shower of dust and endure heat during summer and dreary weather in winter from eight to twelve hours a day may find life monotonous, but the farmer surrounded by nature in all her charms.

The Germans profess to think they are blockading Great Britain by means of their submarine fleet, and that they are shutting off trade. In stead of halting off, British trade is increasing. Official figures show that the imports in April were valued at £73,028,888, or £12,051,455 more than in the same month last year. There was a falling off of £2,777,059 in exports. A comparison with German trade figures would be interesting.

Italy, like the other warring nations, is calling on the women folk to take up many duties hitherto discharged by men. A force of eleven thousand women will be enrolled and trained for police work. The satisfactory manner in which women are discharging the occupations they have been called upon to fill in Great Britain and in other countries has already aroused speculations as to what will happen when the war ends. The old conditions can never be entirely restored.

There were those who had their doubts about the fighting qualities and staying power of the Russians, but they doubt no longer. Russia's only troubles have been lack of munitions and railway facilities. There are those today who speak lightly of the Italians. The latter will probably prove their mettle quite as satisfactorily as the Russians have done. The nation is united as never before, and it is in readiness for the struggle against an ancient enemy. This war will wipe out more than one old score.

Lord Northcliffe, probably better known as Sir Alfred Harmsworth, and who has been characterized by the London Daily News as a greater menace to the welfare of Great Britain than Germany, is a well known newspaper man in Great Britain. He was born in 1865 at Dublin, and made a strike in 1904 as a journalist, his publications pandering to the lowest class of society. In many respects Harmsworth is the English prototype of William Randolph Hearst, the American yellow journalist.

Out, by W. J. Taylor, Limited. 'Honest Weight' is an amusing tale of two rival fishermen as related by one of the French Canadian guides who accompanied them on their outing after 'de beeg wan.' Three Swedish there were is also a humorous story relating the experiences of a vulgar, rambling trio, showing how everything turns to ashes to those without a purpose. 'Sport in and around the Rocky Mountains,' 'Care-free Days in Newfoundland,' etc., and the regular departments which letter are full of interest to the fisherman and golfer, make up a very interesting early summer issue.

'The Glittering Lure' is the title given by Bonnyville Dale to a story of a fisherman's life in the Quebec paper of June Red and Green which is published at Woodstock, New Brunswick. It is a very good one. The author is W. A. Brown, at Woodstock, N. B.

Readers and readers have had much to do in the past few days. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

More Men Needed.

More men, more men—Lord Kitchener's appeal to the Empire. Men! Yes, that is it. Clean men, men of firm, determined, hard granite, fitted with a patriotic desire to do something for their country. To that quality of manhood, there is opportunity to do something large in a practical way. Canada stands well in the present crisis, the heroic deeds of the overseas contingents have stirred the Empire to its heart's core and we are getting the glory of it. It is well, however, to look at the facts, the majority of those who so far have made Canada famous are English born, the spirit of loyalty came with them to Canada, and at the call of the Empire they volunteered without hesitation to face war's hardships for God and the King. Old soldiers some of them, carrying medals and scars who know what fighting is, who had soul enough in them to offer to defend it against a militarism which would crush the world. It is true that Canada has not been found wanting, her roll of heroes grows, nobly they have stood the test. As in the South African war there has been a loyal response to the call to arms, but not in proportion to the population. We want more native blood in the heroic battalions at the front.

Prison Reform.

The humanizing tendency in prison reform in the United States, appears to be having excellent results. It is said that when the warden of Sing Sing recently asked for twenty six volunteers from among 1776 prisoners to go to Auburn prison, because Sing Sing was overcrowded, not one responded and it was necessary to draft the required number. The fact is explained by saying that the new order of things at Sing Sing is pleasing to the men. Another illustration comes from the New Jersey State Prison. An old man who had refused to accept a parole a year and a half ago because he declared himself innocent, and would not go out without a free pardon, was granted it recently, but refused to go for some days because the deputy of the wash house was short of help, and only when the necessary help was provided did he go forth, feeling out of place and home sick. Commenting further on the change that has come about in prisons where humanity first has replaced safety first the Boston Globe says:—

'At Jackson, Mich. the men are making their plans and are preparing to construct for themselves a dormitory, which sounds as attractive as those given to educational institutions by beneficent alumni. They will have apartments for four and six men each, with shower baths, and with their window screens instead of bars between the men and outdoors and liberty. Long term prisoners work on the farm. Others handle the business administration of the prison and its industries, with a profit of thousands of dollars annually to the State. The prison receives daily more newspapers than the Boston Public Library receives and the papers are not censored. When the men leave Jackson on parole at the end of sentences they succeed because they are not handicapped and have learned more than self control while in prison.'

A Straight Goods Talk.

The whole world searches daily for the man who can deliver without extra embellishments, the Straight Goods—whether it be in the shape of an accurate story, a job honestly performed or a service happily carried out. Who is it that can hear the account of an event, or see the actual occurrence and then tell in simple, truthful language what actually took place? Or who is it that, having been given work to do, can go ahead and do it honestly and thoroughly as though every move were watched—and done in gladness and smiles? Whoever can, has the Straight Goods, and delivers them.

Whenever you tell a thing be sure that truth and fact alone dominate. Take pride in a reputation for accurate reporting—handing over the Straight Goods. It is the strongest and most lasting policy. Private life lacks it. Business craves it. Every activity awaits it with open arms. Be known as a dealer in Straight Goods.

The London Daily Mail has been carrying on a movement to secure contributions of tobacco for soldiers at the front. With each package sent will be a post card addressed to the donor to be used as an acknowledgment. Dr. Cowie has been looking after the matter here and has secured 100 names of Wolfville people who are glad to assist. The contributions will be sent to members of the first contingent, who for months have been bravely fighting our battles at the front.

The Best Medicine for Little Ones.

Thousands of mothers say Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they would give their little ones. Among them is Mrs. Howard Hodgkins, St. Catharines, Ont., who says: 'I am a user of Baby's Own Tablets and think them the best medicine in the world for little ones.' Once a mother has used the Tablets she will use no other medicine because she feels the Tablets are absolutely safe and knows they never fail to banish all the simple ailments of little ones. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Work at the Wolfville Tabernacle.

The annual meeting of the Tabernacle Society was held on May 20th. The reports of the Executive Committee, Sunday School Superintendent and Treasurer clearly indicated that the year then closing had been the most prosperous in the history of the Society.

The Sunday evening services have been well attended especially during the winter months, when they have been conducted by the young men of the College Y. M. C. A. assisted by the members of the Y. W. C. A. special services conducted by S. W. Stackhouse were held for three or four weeks, in which a large number indicated a desire to accept Christ as their Saviour. Many of these meetings were seasons of refreshing. In order to conserve the interest and keep a Society modeled after the Christian Endeavor has been organized. It holds its meetings on Tuesday evening.

The Sunday School is an important part of the work at the Tabernacle. The enrolment is about seventy, average attendance about fifty. Mr. Charles Patridge is the efficient superintendent. Good literature has been provided, which finds eager readers.

The principles of Temperance and the necessity of cherishing high ideals has been constantly urged. Special attention has been given to missions, under the direction of Miss Annie E. Pritch. In this work the young people have manifested considerable interest, and are contributing monthly to that object. Returned missionaries and others have at various times addressed the school.

Mother's Day was duly observed. The 'white flower' was worn by all in honor of mother, and the claims of such upon their reverent and loving obedience earnestly enforced.

A room has been fitted up for the meetings of the Girl's Club. This work is under the direction of the College Y. W. C. A. Miss Mildred Brown has taken a deep interest in his department.

The income of the year was $204.22, of which $122.00 was special donations. The expenditures, including the last $100.00 of the mortgage and interest, were $197.78. The Society is
