The London Press on Mr.

Caime's Defeat.

Lonnos, July 8.—The Dally News considers the result of the election at Barrow-in-Furness the greatest Liberal victory since the general election.

The Chronicle says: —The votes for Mr. Caime were requested and given specifically in condemnation of the Government, for whom the result is a creahing detest. Every day they hold office longer imperils the cause of union. A reconstruction of the Capinet is imperative. The Chronicle also says Mr. Chamberlain's proposal for a conference on the Irlsh question is worthy of consideration.

The Telegraph and The Morning Post read Mr. Caine a lecture on Vanity. The Post thinks the insult shows the hollowness of the agitation against the Licens-

The Times says Mr. Caine, besides his personal blunder, divided the Unionist forces and allowed a Separatist to win.

The Standard in a similar argument mays:—" Better a Separationist, than a The Standard in a similiar argument says: —" Better a Separationisti, than a wavering Unionist. It will be a lesson to Unionists contemplating prostration before the Gladstone fetich. The anomaly of a Separatist occupying a Unionist seat will right itself at the proper time."

The Sultan's Kitchen

The Sultam's Kitchem

The Sultan of Turkey never uses a plate. He takes all his food direct from the little kettlee' and never uses a sable, and rarely a knife or fork—a spoon, his bread, a pancake, or fingers are found far handier. It requires just twice as many slaves as there are courses to serve a dinmer to him. The whole household is at liberty to take meals where it suits him or her best, and thus every one is served with a small tray, with a spoon, a great chunk of bread, and the higher ones only get the pancakes. Nearly one ton of rice per day is required for the inevitable pillaffe, 600 pounds of sugar, as much coffee, to say nothing of the other groceries, fruit, vegetables and meat. Rice and muston and bread form the greater part of food for the msjority of Turke, together with fish, sweemeats, confectionery, nuts, and dried and fresh fruits. That there is enormous waste and extravagance in the kitchens is obvious, and it is said that enough is thrown away daily to maintain 100 families; but such waste is perhaps not confined to a Turkish royal household, and might also be found in Richens nearer home. The surplus is gathered up by the beggars, in whom Constentinople abounds, and what still remains is eaten by the scavenger dogs. All the water for the Sultan's use and the household is brought in barrels from two pretty streams at different places in the Bosphorous towards the Black Sea.

Effects of Electricity on Insects The New York Tribune says:—Dr. Linturer has been making some investigations as to the destructiveness of electricity with interesting results. Taking the contents of an are electric light globe one morning recently, the Dostor counted the dead insects which were in it, and found 33,000. It was not a good night for in-sects, either, so the Doctor estimates that sects, ettaer, so the Doctor estimates and on favorable nights one lamp will destroy as many as 100,000 insects. The larger portion of Prof. Lintner's specimen collection from one light consisted of minute mate, midges, orano files, and similar amall two winged insects. No mosquitoes where discovered among the victims, as they are not attracted to the light. There whey are not attracted to the light. Indee were, however, large numbers of plants huge, which are injurious to vegetation, particularly of one small species of a handsome green gassid, which feeds upon our grasses. A number of the mothe, and one of the leaf rollers which have made such bavoe in our fruit trees this season, were found, as well as other species of such havoo in our fruit trees this season, were found, as well as other species of the same family. Prof. Linhure in speaking of his examination said: "I was sorry to see quite a number of the beautiful gauze wings among the heaps of the slain, as their larve are the aphis Hons, which aid in keeping down phides or plant ice." "The electric light," to quote Prof. Linhure, "will undoubtedly prove an active agent in the reduction of insect peets, and also furnish entomologists with many rare specimens and with many species never before seen." But it is really too bad that the morequite has more affection for a bald spot than an selectric light.

Prof. Wiggins' recent prophecy that the metwork of electric wires to be found in all cities would prevent the possibility of damage by lightning, has been singularly refuted by the great destruction caused by the thunder charms of the past few days.

The Carnival at Berlim.

Beans, July 8.—The third and last day of the Berlin Summer Carnival was a very quiet and tame affair, few visitors being in town. The general consensus of opinion is that, on the whole, our three-days entertainment has done the town no good. The fact of Toronto's carnival being on the same days, and that our usual town fathers were not on the various committees, helped very largely to make it a failure. There was the so called parade this morning, consisting obteiny of a few of our firemen and band, with a goodly sprinkling of school boys, who marched up and down street. In the evening there was a ball in the akating rink, which was fairly well attended, this ending what might have been a great success had the right men taken charge of things.

Bishop Dowling at Acton and Georgetown.

Bishop Dowling at Acton and Georgetown.

The Acton Free Press says:—The visit of Rt. Rev. T. J. Dowling, D.D., Bishop of Hamilton, on Dominion Day, was a red letter day in the history of St. Joseph's church, Acton. The members here made considerable preparation for the reception of His Lordehip and eracted an arch at the entrance and had the church taste fully decorated with flowers and bunting. There was a large addience. At the entrance of the Bishop the authem "Welcome" was rung by the choir. Upon assuming his posision before the alter His Lordehip addressed the congregation, stating that at this his first visit to Acton he had pleasure in congratulating them upon their beautiful little place of worship. He then explained the rites of baptism, penance and confirmation and informed them that he had come amongst them as their bishop to impart the sacrament of confirmation. The children to be confirmed were then instructed and the coremony proceeded with, His Lordehip being assisted by Father Doberty, S. J., Guelph, Father McEvoy, rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamitton, and Father O'Lone, the priest of this parish. At the conclusion of the ceremony the parents, guardians and spone's were exhorted to educate the children in righteonses, and to see that they kept out of bad company and from reading bad books. The children were shown that it was then fully to love, honour and obey their parents. "Your parents are yout best friends boys and girls," he said. The history of the Catholic church and its various beliefs was reheared. In concluding his remarks the Bishops and the was glad to hear good accounts of Acton mission and promised as soon as the increase of priests would warrant it he would appoint them a resident priest. The last act of His Lordehip was to ask the children whom he had confirmed to make him one particular promise, which was comprised in the following pledge: "I promise, with the help of God, to abstain irom all intoxicating liquors, unless given me by a doctor or my parents as medicine, until lowing pledge: "I promise, with the help of God, to abustain from all intexicating liquors, unless given me by a doctor or my parents as medicine, until I am twenty one years of age." The promise was entered into by all. During his stay in Acton Bishop Dowling was the guest of Mr. John A. McGrail.

The Georgetown Herald says: Bishop Dowling, of Hamilton, accompanied by two priests, arrived in Georgetown at 8.30 to conduct confirmation services in the Roman Catholic church. The church was well filled with members of the church and visitors. Flural decorations, lace outtains, etc., made the altar and pohannel of the building look exceedingly stateful. A cab conveyed the Bishop and visiting priests to Mr. Hickey's and while they funched, Rev. Father O'Lone conducted the opening ceremonies. On his arrivat the Bishop, assisted by the three priests, proceeded with the confirmation. He is an excellent speaker, funct and pleasing, and spoke of the importance of the ceremony the children were participating in. Athibe close of the confirmation services, all the candidates, about thirty, took the total abstinence pledge from the Bishop, by which they promised to abstain from the use of all intoxicants until they were 21, except when given by a physician or parents. Bishop Dowling then visited the Roman Catholic cemetery and consecrated it, after which he went to Acton. ne Roman Catholic cemetery and con-corated it, after which he went to Acton.

Oswego and the Duty on

The New York Herald publishes the following despatch from Oswego: Should the McKinley bill, with its proposed import tariff of 25 cents—a bushel on Canadian barley, become a law, the barley malting and brewing interess of this city, in which a capital of nearly $4,000,000 are invested,will be ruined. The importers of barley, the elevator owners, the malsters and the brewers here who handle Canadian barley almost exclusively declare that if the duly is increased 159 per cent.as it is proposed by the McKinley bill, it will amount to prohibition and kill an industry that it has taken years to build up, in which millions of dellars are invested and in which hundreds of workmen find employment. The malting industries of Oswego have grown to their present proportions since 1883. when Congress by a revision of the tariff reduced the duty from 15 cents a bushel on Canadian barley to ten cents. Frior to that time "Canadian mait" was charged an advacem duty. When the duty on barley was reduced the duty on mait was made a specific. At the present time about $3,500,000 are invested in the business here. One of the largest malsters says that the proposed duty would kill his business, that Canadian barley is the only material used by many malsters in the United States, that it contains certain characteristics possessed by no other barley grown in North America, that it is not crowding out the home product, and that the duty is. he duty is.
