UNIQUE GOLD COIN. The wonderful and unique coin which has been purchased for the British Museum in London is the only authentic example remaining of the gold coinage of the Anglo-Saxon King, Offa, who reigned between 757 and 796. This Mercian prince was a close friend of Charlemagne. as evidenced by the fact that he received many presents from the Emperor. The coin, although struck by a Christian king, bears a Mohammran inscription in Arabic. At the eriod when the coin was issued the Arabia dinar formed part of the gold currency of Europe, and it is surmised that on this account Offa caused an exact imitation to be struck for his own use. Probably the artificer was ignorant of Arabic. nevertheless, he succeeded in inscribing the Arabic characters so clearly that they can easily be deciphered today. The inscription runs as follows: "There is no other God but the one God. He has no equal-Mahomet

is the apostle of God."
