AFFAIRS AT PORT ARTHUR

Graphic Account by a Canadian Correspondent in the beleaguered City

A correspondent of the Montreal Star at Nagasaki, cables under date of Nov. 8, an interesting account of a visit to Port Arthur now menaced by Japanese guns, whose fall is daily expected. He writes as follows—

"After having arrived, along with a companion at the lighthouse on the Liao Thian-shan promontory, close to Port Arthur, as narrated in a previous cable, the boat in which we had sailed from the Miaotao Islands was picked up by a small Russian torpedo boat attached to the battleship Peresviet and towed to that vessel which lies two miles outside of the harbour. The Peresviet is as badly battered by Japanese shells as the Osarvitch. Both ship and crew were in a filthy condition. From the Peresviet we were taken to Admiral Viren who was on board the Bayan outside of the Tiger's Head. The Bayan was also badly damaged and dirty. Admiral Viren asked news of the Baltic fleet and learning that it was still at Revel expressed his despair. From the Bayan we were taken to visit Rear-Admiral Lazarsky on board the flagship the Ostaashny, one of the smaller vessels in the fleet. None of the smaller vessels appeared to be seriously damaged and there were no vessels being repaired in the dry dock.

Admiral Lazarsky invited me to breakfast on board the Ostaashny. The interior of this vessel was in a disgusting filthy condition. The officers were charmingly hospitable.

On learning the news of the Baltic fleet, they openly declared themselves lost. Later on I was allowed to visit the other ships. All the vessels are moved to new anchorages every other night in order to avoid the occasional shells the Japanese are dropping in the harbour.

Among other vessels in the harbour is the big white red cross ship Amur which has on board more than 100 sailors wounded in Admiral Witthof's sortie.

"Altogether there are sixteen fighting ships in the harbour. None of these have been dismantled. The sailors are kept on board and only the small machine guns have been sent ashore. There is plenty of coal, but ammunition is scarce. The harbor entrance is swept by four searchlights, two of which are on the shore. An immense Russian ship has been sunk across the narrowest part of the entrance to the harbour. It is flanked at each end by two Japanese wrecks. Outside the obstructions is a boom which can be raised and lowered at pleasure. Many mines also succeeded in making the channel to the harbour narrow and tortuous.

Outside the boom are to be seen the remains of the other Japanese vessels which were sunk during the vain attempt to block the harbour. The Russians pointed to them with ridicule, as a evidence of wasted effort. Two wrecked Russian torpedo boats also lie not far from the Japanese wrecks. They were sunk by accidental contact with mines. Six torpedo boats and eleven vessels of lighter craft are constantly sweeping the outside channel for mines, in the distance ten miles off can be seen the smoke of Admiral Togo's blockaders.

"The Japanese have been doing little bombardment of late. The Russian naval men hope that Togo will attack, otherwise when general Nogi's bombardment grows unbearable or the fortress is compelled to surrender, the ships will sortie some dark night and steam for Vladivostok.

"However, they still hope for the arrival of the Baltic fleet. No blockade runners have been able to make the harbour for a long time. There has been no news from Vladivostok. Admiral Viren was under the impression that commander Watusевич, whom I interviewed at Taitau, was dead.

"He also believed that Brink with the aid of the Novik had escaped. He expressed his distress and surprise at the loss of the two naval attaches who left Port Arthur. Admiral Utkomah has not been court-martialed, but is under a cloud. In the naval prison, behind Golden Hill, there are thirty-three Japanese, among them two subalterns and Mr. Misonura, the Tokio Asahi's correspondent, who was detached from a despatch boat and is acting as prison interpreter.

"From the flagship I was escorted to the harbour master, who was engaged in a bomb-proof cellar under the Admiralty building, equipped with telephone, telegraph and electric mine connections. He telegraphed to General Stoessel, who sent Adjutant Kelsinko with a private carriage to drive us from the Chinese city to the port city.

"A steep hill in front of General Stoessel's house was ascended. The General's residence is next door to Gornoff's and to that of Prince Utkomah. All along the road to the General's residence the ravages of the incessant bombardment. The Japanese guns fire at ten minutes intervals; the Russians reply every half hour. One battery of ten guns is placed a few rods from the General's house. Another battery crowns the hill across the public square. The Japanese shells frequently explode just before this battery. Ninety per cent. of the Japanese shells do no damage.

"Most of the killed are coolies, the weekly average being thirty. The city is remarkably tranquil.

"Two restaurants are running, meals cost two rubles ($1). There is no fresh food except bread, fish. Ten horses are slaughtered daily. One hundred horses are all that remained when I left. There is plenty of canned meat and large supplies of rice, wheat and bean cake. There is no lack of vodka. A single egg cost thirty kopeks (15 cents).

"Since the Japanese captured the reserve there is nothing to be had but cistern water. Typhoid is prevalent. Nobody apparently minds the bombardment. Children play in the streets. Coolies work under guard. Carriages and carts are driven about. I observed an officer teaching a lady to ride a bicycle, while the bombs coursed overhead.

"I was presented to Gen Stoessel and to his staff in the parlour. Col. Reitz, Chief of staff, speaks French but Stoessel speaks only Russian. Presenting a letter of introduction from Count Cassini, I was accorded a very courteous reception.

"General Stoessel is a man of winning personality, big, simple, modest, frank, democratic. With no bluster, no ostentation, no medals, no epaulettes.

"General Stoessel said that he is constantly asking for official news from the Consul Che Foo, but that none is forthcoming. He complained bitterly at the inactivity of the Che Foo Consul, and said that the Marconi communication promised between that port and the fortress had proved a miserable failure. He also said that he believed that the consul was purposely withholding discouraging Russian despatches as there had been no outside news for more than five weeks. The general learned from me for the first time of Kuropatkin's defection. He was not inclined to credit the story until convinced by some Che Foo papers I showed him. "It perfectly astounded him to know that Kuropatkin is at Mukden. He believed him to be advancing southward. Turning to Zeitz the General said in Russian, 'There is no help then but to die or go to the Matsuhama prison. He asked that Kuropatkin's reverses be concealed from the Garrison which still believes that Kuropatkin is attacking General Nogi's rear. Stoessel praises the bravery and kindness of the Japanese, who take great care of the Russian wounded. He feels proud of fighting such a foe."

PROVINCIAL OFFICIALS WELL PLEASED.

Hon. C. H. Labllois and L. P. Farris Visited Provincial Hospital.

St. John, Nov. 11.—Hon. C. H. Labllois and Hon. L. P. Farris, members of the committee to inspect the Provincial Hospital for the cure of Nervous diseases, visited that institution Wednesday. Hon. Mr. Labllois was accompanied by a reporter, said to be the assistant superintendent, the assistant superintendent, and the assistant superintendent. They examined all the wards and looked at the improvements that are being made in the annex, and the extensive improvements in connection with the barns for the care of patients.

"We found everything in a very satisfactory condition. The degree of further improvements will be made to make the institution one of the best on the continent. Special attention will be given to the grounds to make everything as pleasant as possible for the patients.

"After visiting the asylum we paid an inspection trip to the Deaf and Dumb institution, and made a thorough inspection of it. At the present time the inmates number 31—16 boys and 15 girls. We found that everything was well done for them and that the whole institution is in perfect condition in our location. In Canada could be better suited for a place of this kind, than the location at Carleton. It is healthy and the view and surroundings make it very pleasant for the inmates."

AT PORT ARTHUR.

An Armistice Asked for by Gen. Stoessel.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Reported Death of Japanese General Kuroki on October 4th.

Tokio, Nov. 10, 10.45 a. m.—It is reported that General Stoessel, commanding at Port Arthur, has asked the Japanese for an armistice the purpose of which is not stated. A confirmation of the reports is unobtainable. It is hoped here that General Stoessel will capitulate before the city proper is taken. The Japanese soldiers are angry and inflamed on account of the alleged abuse of their women by the Russians. They believe they will be murdered if captured. Under these conditions it will possibly be difficult to avoid a massacre when the troops meet in the final combat.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Che Foo, Nov. 10, Noon.—Eise Mountain, according to Chinese, 120 of whom arrived here to-day from Port Arthur, is proving a costly obstacle to the Japanese. On the mornings of Nov 5th and 6th fierce assaults on the position, were made by the Japanese, who were repulsed. During the second assault a shell soaring over the outer hills from Palichuang, dropped on Rite mountain and demolished a land mine controlling the station and exploded other mines. The Russians were holding the trenches on the boundary of the mined section. Six or seven hundred were killed. The Japanese not having reached the place, were unhurt.

Eise Mountain owns the best part of its strength to the peculiar topography of the surrounding country, which prevents a direct artillery fire and does not enable the Japanese to advance trenches with the success evident elsewhere. The Japanese advanced on it in both instances from behind distant hills with the least force the ground would allow, but in the long distances which they were compelled to traverse, in the face of machine guns, their ranks were melted. Both times the Japanese broke the wire entanglements in places. One soldier with a leg torn off was seen trying to bite the wires.

RESCUED SOLDIERS.

New York, Nov. 10.—A London despatch to the Times quotes the London Times Russian correspondent, as saying that the discipline to join the colors for Manchuria recently noticeable in South Russia, is becoming general throughout the country. Competent opinion puts the number of reservists who so far have escaped at least 20,000. It has been shrewdly suspected that in spite of Russia's overwhelming strength on paper, she has already been sadly put to it to equip even 250,000 trained soldiers from her European countries for service in Manchuria. Even military men admit that two more European corps will exhaust the Russian stock of effectively trained and properly equipped men.

Moscow, Nov. 13.—Nemirovich Danchenko, the well known Russian war correspondent of the Associated Press, telegraphing from Mukden under to-day's date,

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me. "Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy. "Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—MRS. R. A. BLANCHARD, 422 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.

"When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, 'all-gone' and 'want-to-be-left-alone' feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

A Severe Case of Womb Trouble Cured in Philadelphia.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been cured of severe female troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was nearly ready to give up, but seeing your advertisement I purchased one bottle of your medicine, and it did me so much good that I purchased another, and the result was so satisfactory that I bought six more bottles, and am now feeling like a new woman. I shall never be without it. I hope that my testimonial will convince women that your Vegetable Compound is the greatest medicine in the world for falling of the womb or any other female complaints."—MRS. MAY COOP, 2600 Birch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Her address is Lynn, Mass., her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it.

says the reports of the death of General Kuroki are confirmed.

According to his version the splinter of a shell struck General Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast and abdomen. He died Oct. 4th at Liao Yang, and his body was sent to Japan.

A rumor is persistently circulated that a kinsman of the Mikado, Sisonai, literally 'little third prince' has been appointed to succeed General Kuroki, but the actual command of the army has been entrusted to General Nodsu, who is reviewing operations.

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.
Dear Sirs,—A few days ago I was taken with a severe pain and the contraction of the cords of my leg, and had to be taken home in a rig. I could not sleep for pain, and was unable to put my foot to the foot. A friend told me of your MINARD'S LINIMENT, and one hour from the first application, I was able to walk, and the pain entirely disappeared. You can use my name as freely as you like, as I consider it the best remedy I have ever used.

IT IS REALLY SURPRISING HOW READILY

takes hold of and quickly CURES Sprains, Strains, Kinks, Cramps, Bites, Bruises, Burns, Coughs, Colds, Croups, Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Neuralgia, Chapped and Scalded and all pains and aches that afflict mankind. It is the recognized Family Remedy in thousands of Canadian homes, all of whom can testify to its remarkable powers, and we print herewith a few of their opinions.

Mrs. COLIN McFARLANE, Kemptown, N. S., writes, January 21, 1903: "I have used BENTLEY'S LINIMENT for both myself and children, and as a cure for sore throat, neuralgia of the chest, etc. I have never found anything to equal it."

Mrs. MAISON L. CHAMBERLAIN, East Mountain, Ont. Co., N. S., writes, November 21, 1903: "I used BENTLEY'S LINIMENT for a severe case of a sharp toothache in my daughter. She had whooping cough, which greatly aggravated the trouble, and I had tried every remedy I could find, but nothing would relieve her. I then used BENTLEY'S LINIMENT for a few days and the cure was marvelous."

CHAS. LEBLANC, Paraship, P. Q., writes, November 19, 1903: "I find BENTLEY'S LINIMENT the best liniment and my customers prefer it to any other."

J. H. AMBERSON, Quebec, P. Q., writes, February 29, 1904: "I have used BENTLEY'S LINIMENT for a sprain and can highly recommend it."
