PROMOTING PURE BRED CATTLE

The livestock men of Alberta have adopted a novel means of promoting their industry, and incidentally of bringing to the notice of the people both within and without the province, the standing of Alberta as a livestock country.

Thirteen of the largest breeders have donated thirteen steers, mostly purebreds, to the University Farm without any charge whatsoever. These steers represent the cream of twenty-four of Alberta's leading herds, and constitute what is thought to be the finest selection of its kind owned by any institution in Canada.

During the past a number of grade steers had been bought from time to time by the University Farm for judging purposes for the students of the College of Agriculture. The best of these were shown at the local live stock shows and later sold. It was next to impossible however to secure the class of stock best suited to this purpose with the funds available, as it entailed going to the larger breeders and paying top prices for selected individuals, and the probability the breeders would not care to dispose of the animals of the age most suitable. It was felt that this work could be made more valuable to the province at large if instead of using ordinary grade steers, animals of higher merit could be obtained. In any case the cost of labor, feed and housing would be the same.

To Professor A. A. Dowell, Chief of the Department of Animal Husbandry of the University of Alberta, came an inspiration whereby the University was able to get the required animals without paying a cent for them, yet giving their owners a good return. It appears that there are a number of breeders in the province of Alberta who are not in a position to do their own advertising and showing. Consequently their herds suffer from a lack of advertisement. Prof. A. Dowell evolved a plan by which the breeders in this position would get their herds advertised at the exhibitions, and the University Farm the desired class of animals. The plan suggested was that the breeders donate five or six calves of the three leading beef herds, and the University would use them for judging purposes for any one concern in Canada today, at Chicago. Practically all of the breeders approached were perfectly willing to assist in carrying out this scheme. The plan was submitted to the Alberta Breeders Association at their annual convention held at Calgary last May, and receiving the entire approval of the Association, twenty-four breeders offered the best calves of their herds.

Immediate steps were taken to visit the various farms, and after three months thirteen calves were selected from the twenty-four herds. Grades were not debarred, but pure breeds were preferred.

The big difficulty that Prof. Dowell had in selecting these calves was not getting the owners to consent to part with them, but rather in refusing animals from breeders who offered them. Many of the breeders actually urged the university to send a representative to their farms, and take the best of any of their calves for them, yet giving their owners a good return. he Fell When She at House and Pommelled He

A dastardly attack was made upon a young lady living on Geneva street near midnight last night and she is searching the city for an assailant.

About 11.30 last night she was returning home from a friend's home on Russell Ave. Shortly after leaving the house she noticed a man following her. He kept close behind her, and she was unable to see his face. She was undistinguishable, as he pulled well down over his eyes. She was a man of about five feet tall, and she considered.

When the girl turned into a street, the man kept close behind her and followed her right to her home. When she reached the lawn she met across to reach the front door, she stumbled and fell. The man stepped upon her, and she screamed and when he came to the door the man ran up Geneva street, and she headquaters were notified by telephone and P.C. Howitt got there in the quickest possible time.

Jim was most indignant. "If it had a been mah dog, I would have shot him right off," he said.

He appeared in an abnormally excited condition because of the dog's behavior. He had grabbed hold of the dog's collar and it had gone down to the ground. "I tore it, yes he did," said the man.

"Now you're in style," said the judge.

He was wearing a spring overcoat you know. Magistrate Campbell said, "Well, ah doan like it." He said, "He grabbed dat
