THE biggest blaze in Charlottetown since Hides. The biggest blage in Charlottetown since the destruction of the Woolen Mills occurred on Wedi esday night last, when the Tremaine building at the foot of Queen St. was burned to the ground. The building was occupied by Mr. C. Lyons as an office, and by Mr. Horace Haszard as a warehouse. The firemen were quickly on the scene after the alarm was given, and soon had five streams of water turned on the building. The flames, however, fanned by a strong north wind, had gained too much headway. The roof of the building fell in with a crash about three quarters of an hour after the fire had been discovered.

men were kept occupied till ten o'clock the following morning throwing water on the flames. The building was owned by the Tremain estate, and was insured for $1000. Mr. Haszard's stock, consisting of tea, sugar, molases, lobster factory supplies, etc., was valued at $10,000, and was insured for $7,000. The most of Mr. Lyon's books and $300 were taken from the safe the next morning in good condition. The fire was caused by the electric wires.
