fidence, or Non-Confide

profound calm it may be possible that people of Canada may be led to lull timselves into a state of false security, themselves into a state of false security, merely because the Fenians did not come on or about the 20th of Sept. That was the time decided upon by the guidnancs, and those worthies, whose name is legion, now laugh in your face when a hint is dropped, that the very mystery surrounding the movements of the Brotherhood is one of the worst features of the whole affair. Of course it would be the extreme of folly for our people to work themselves into a state of alarm because of the possibility of trouble; but still we think it just as wrong to fly suddenly to the other sibility of trouble; but still we think it just as wrong to fly suddenly to the other extreme. Lord Wellington frequently said one of the worst mistakes a commander cou'd make was to underate the strength of an opponent, and we think it is just so in this case. Every nerve should be strained, apart from retarding the legitimate business of the country, to hurl such a force upon the marauders—should they again invade our soil—which they are very likely to do—as shall send them back in dismay into the cpen arms of their newly found friends, the redirepublican of the North, The Fenians themselves acknowledge that another disaster would be fatal to their cause; Stockers in this city from bid denairs. aster would be fatal to their cause; tible youths, but if Lord Byron could not endure the sight of a young and pretty woman eating green corn from the cob we think a much less sensitive and poetical person could not but regret to witness the beauties of Harpurhey and McKillop wading in and bespattered with vile much and soaked with rain. But gallantry is inherent in the sterner sex, and we saw several displays of it on the part of young fellows who blessed the dirty ditches, no doubt, over which they had to lift their comely lasses. As we have intimated the crowd of vinitors was very large and business men, especially Hotel-keepers appeared to be driving a thriving trade.

The outside show was much better than at either Godrich or Clinton—the cattle, especially, showing a marked improvement. The sheep also were very good, and the Suffolk swine that have been shown at the former exhibition were greatly admired, although as we stood in a mud-puddle gazing upon the monsters rooting in their native element, we could not help asking ourselves whether such animals were ever intended to be caten by man. Taking a hasty glance at the stock, &c., we hurried away to the drill shed to see the inside show, (it was raining) passing on the way Mr. Runtiman's fine ploughs, four of which were pitted against one of Mr. Gray's manufacture, a courple of stout, well-painted waggons, &c.

Within the drill shed we found a district that the flippoth atto the following gentlemen: Cyrille Dion, changing of all changing for the four private and the stores which were warded last Saturday evening to the following gentlemen: Cyrille Dion, changing of all Changing for the four private and playing has been exhibited by those the following gentlemen: Cyrille Dion, changing of all Changing for the four pri waggons, &c.

THE SEAFORTH SHOW.

The Fall Show of the Harperhay B.

A. S. was held this year (on Friday last) for the first time in Seaforth, which village is, we are glad to see, making great progress in the way of improvements of sall kinds. On the day in question its Main street, which is never empty at this season of the year was thronged with teams in the centre and pedestrians on the sidewalks. Notwithstanding the fact that the recent wet weather had worked up the clayer soil into the richest, deepest, and dirtiest kind of mud, the farmers of the country for miles around with their wives, sons and daughters crowded into the village to see and be-seen. The lasses on any ordinary gala-day would be well worth seeing by young and susceptible youths, but if Lord Byron could not endure the sight of a young and pretty in the contraints and the contraints and the contraints are promised soon to take place. At the Roberts headquarters there is also an unusual degree of activity prevailing, but no reliable news whatever can be obtained.

The cholera in this city has almost entirely disappeared, and the cool, bracing air we at present enjoy would seem to preclude its reappearance this year. In the city of Brooklyn, where this epidemic has been of an unusually malignant type, the total number of cases reported from July 8th up-to the present time, is 737, of which 518 resulted in death.

A dreadful accident occurred at Johnston, Pa., on the 14th inst, while the Presidential party were halting for a short time there on their return to Washington. A platform had been erected over the canal, and several hundred persons were slanding on it, when the train arrived with the Presidential party; the structure gave way in th

Within the drill shed we found a display in every way inferior to that at Goderich. There were put two samples of wheat shown; the vegetables, excepting potatoes, were comparatively poor, and the fruit barely worth inspection.

The butter and cheese was first-class, and we noticed some very good domestic cloth, ladies' work, harness, stoves, &c.

The prize list will appear in our next.

THE NEW ACADEMY.

The Academy in connection with the London Commercial College, of which we spoke some days ago, is to be opened in Goderich on the 1st of October. A public meeting will be held on Thursday evening next, at Crabb's Hall, to commence at 7½ o'clock, for the purpose of explaining the objects had in view in establishing the same. Addresses will be made by several clergymen and others.

We hope there will be a good turn out on the occasion, as the matter is of much north and the claim that has been made for its restoration.
