Reuter Messages.

BRITAIN AND U. S. BOTH GIVE MILLION POUNDS.

LONDON, Dec. 12. In the House of Commons this afternoon Rt. Hon. A. Bonar Law announced that the Government has sent a message of sympathy to Halifax and had also given one million pounds sterling to the Relief Fund. Mr. Bonar Law said the House had read with the deepest sympathy the account of the terrible disaster. Halifax was a city with which he had the most intimate relations. His mother was born there. The disaster was really appalling. Men had come most readily and most enthusiastically from that city to play their part in the war and a great many of them had fallen. The Secretary of State for the Colonies had already sent a message of sympathy on behalf of the Government, but it was the Prime Minister's intention to send in the name of the Cabinet a message of sympathy coupled with a donation in the form of a vote of credit of a million sterling. (Cheers.) A similar gift had been made by the Government of the United States. (Cheers.) When this House sent the message it would go to the people of Halifax and the people of the Dominion with the certain knowledge that the sympathy expressed was not that of the Government alone but shared with equal strength by members of the British House of Commons.

NO WORK FOR SLACKERS.

MELBOURNE, Dec. 12.

A regulation has been issued prohibiting the employment in Australia of Allied subjects of military age.

ANOTHER LARGE VOTE.

LONDON, Dec. 12.

Rt. Hon. Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced in the Commons to-day a vote of credit for £550,000,000, making a total of £2,450,000,000.

SWISS SYMPATHY.

LONDON, Dec. 12.

The Swiss Minister, on his government's instructions, called at the Foreign Office and expressed to the British Government, the Canadian Government and the people of Canada the deep sympathy of the Swiss Federal Council on the occasion of the appalling disaster at Halifax.

CECIL ON LANDOWNE AND WILSON.

LONDON, Dec. 12.

Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, asked about certain points of similarity between Lord Lansdowne's letter and President Wilson's message, said: "I see it is being alleged with a certain degree of publicity that there are many points where in Lord Lansdowne's agrees with Mr. Wilson's message. That may be so, but in the case of the Wilson message there runs through every line of it not only the determination to win but the certainty of victory. The Wilson message has an inspiration of leadership which the Lansdowne letter lacks. This leads to what I believe to be a complete misconception of Lansdowne's letter which has been thought to indicate some weakening determination on the part of the country and it is possible that it may produce the impression of a change of attitude. I believe that any such impression would be a profound delusion. I know it would be so far as the British Government is concerned, and I believe that the people as a whole, including Lord Lansdowne himself, are more determined than ever to bring the war to a victorious conclusion. The fundamental evil with Germany is idolatry of the State above religion and everything else. It has been well described by Otto Kahn, himself of German origin, as the demoniacal obsession of power, worship and world domination. That is at the bottom of what we complain about. The submarine and other outrages committed by the enemy during the war are all the outcome of a condition whereby no laws of morality are binding if they are against the State. That is really the foundation of all the trouble with the Germans. As long as the governing classes are infected with this doctrine there is no limit to the wickedness or cruelties that will in time utterly undermine their civilisation. This is what President Wilson has said over and over again." The Earl of Kerry, eldest son of Lord Lansdowne and member of Parliament for West Derbyshire, in a letter to his constituents, declares that his war aims do not coincide with the views expressed in his father's letter, but rather with the sentiments of President Wilson's admirable speech. "I think more has been read into Lord Lansdowne's letter than was intended," he writes.

OFFICIAL ENTRY OF JERUSALEM TO-MORROW.

LONDON, Dec. 12.

Bonar Law, in the Commons, said that officers together with the British Governor and accompanied by British, French, Italian and Mohammedan representatives, were on the way to safeguard the City of Jerusalem and the holy places. General Allenby proposed to enter the city officially to-morrow, accompanied by the commanders of the French and Italian Governments.

BRITISH FINANCES.

LONDON, Dec. 12.

Rt. Hon. A. Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in moving a vote of credit for £550,000,000 sterling said it was estimated that the vote of credit for £400,000,000 moved on October 30th would cover the expenditure until January 9th, next. The new vote would bring the total voted for the year to £2,450,000,000. The average daily expenditure for the six days preceding December 1st was £8,794,000, exceeding the budget estimate by £1,383,000 daily. The total excess over the budget estimate was £809,000,000 but £325,000,000 of this was receivable; therefore the excess over the budget estimate of daily expenditure was £2,500,000. One cause of the increased army expenditure was the increase in our aviation program. Another was the large number of Indian troops employed in Mesopotamia and the largest amount was due to the advances of our armies in France and Palestine. The estimates of advances to the Dominions had not been exceeded. Referring to Russia, Mr. Bonar Law said no state had ever entirely repudiated its debts. It was almost certain that sooner or later there would be a stable government there. He believed responsible government would ultimately be established in Russia. If there were a stable government, Russia knows that the development of its resources and prosperity would be impossible without financial assistance from other countries, and financial assistance would be impossible unless previous debts were accepted by that government. Therefore he believed that the money would be recoverable sooner or later.

To-Day's Messages.

BRITISH ADVANCING IN PALESTINE.

LONDON, To-Day.

The British line northwest of Jerusalem, midway between that city and Jaffa, has been advanced. General Allenby's despatches show that contingents of Gurkas are carrying positions as far as the mouth of the Mideh. Fifty Turks were killed and ten taken prisoners. British airplanes bombed troops and transports in the vicinity of Birch with good results.

PIERCE GERMAN ATTACK FAILS.

LONDON, To-Day.

A fierce mass attack was made by the Germans to-day against the British in the bend of the British line between Bullecourt and Quent (about ten miles west of Cambrai), says Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters in France. Their intention was to overwhelm their opponents by sheer weight of numbers. Owing to the staunchness of the British opposition the attack only enabled the Germans to get a footing in about 500 yards of the British front line when the attack was arrested.

SERVICE TO BE RESUMED.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Dec. 12.

It was announced to-day by agent Currie of the Eastern Steamship Lines that the service to Boston, which was interrupted last month, will be resumed.

AVIATION REPORT.

LONDON, To-Day.

To-day's Admiralty statement on aircraft operations is as follows: During Monday night naval air craft carried out a bombing raid upon Cosacker airfield and Bruges Dock. Many tons of bombs were dropped upon both, but at the later a good showing was made and fires started. All returned safely.

IGNORE TROTSKY.

LONDON, To-Day.

The Russian Embassy in London, it is declared, has ignored the decree of Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik Foreign Minister, under which the Russian Ambassadors and their staffs were dismissed.

THE KING'S CONGRATULATIONS.

LONDON, To-Day.

An official statement announces that General Allenby, acknowledging the King's congratulations, says his message was received by the General in Jerusalem on Tuesday.

ITALIAN SHIPPING.

ROME, To-Day.

Italian shipping losses by mines or submarines for the week ending December 8th were one of more than 1600 tons, one less than 1600 tons, and three small sailing vessels. One steamer damaged by a torpedo was run ashore; two vessels were attacked but escaped.

LENIENT WITH AUSTRIANS.

WASHINGTON, To-Day.

In proclaiming a state of war with Austria-Hungary to-day, President Wilson specified that only dangerous Austro-Hungarians in the United States should be interned, and that most of the restrictions applied to the Germans should not apply to Austrians.

OBSERVEE'S OPINION OF RUSSIA.

LONDON, To-Day.

Col. Thompson, head of the American Red Cross Mission to Russia, has arrived here on his way to the United States to make an important report. He called to-day on the American Ambassador, Walter H. Page. Col. Thompson told the Ambassador that Russia was definitely out of the war as a fighting force, but gave as his opinion that Russia was not so thoroughly disintegrated as was generally believed outside of that country.

JERUSALEM ENTERED OFFICIALLY.

LONDON, To-Day.

American and other military attaches entered Jerusalem with General Allenby, the General reported to-day.

ITALIANS REFUSE ATTACKS.

ROME, To-Day.

The enemy has resumed the attack, to-day's official statement says. The Italians resisted stubbornly yesterday throughout the day and the few positions which were abandoned in the beginning of the fighting were recaptured in nearly all cases. In the evening the enemy effort was reduced to normal artillery fire.

TO INVESTIGATE BRITISH REVERSE.

LONDON, To-Day.

There will be a thorough investigation of the recent operations on the Cambrai area in which the Germans broke through in the southern section, Major General Maurice said to-day. The truth regarding the incident will be told in due course, he promised.

AMERICAN TROOPS MAY GO TO RUSSIA.

LONDON, To-Day.

The question of Allied support, which officials declare is necessary to Russia and the Allies is to be decided in the near future, says Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters in France. It is pointed out that this wouldn't be in the nature of American interference in Russian internal affairs, but a case similar to American and British troops helping France, hard as it may be for Russia to carry on in the face of the tremendous sacrifices made at the beginning of the war and the paralyzing of her armies under the Bolshevik offer but the military leadership of the Russian people is known. (In Germany?) It is said, by report of the messenger held at secret headquarters early this month. News of this meeting was received in Russia through what is said to be trustworthy neutral source, and was to the effect that the civil and military authorities were willing to accept the Bolshevik offer but the military leadership of the Russian people is known. This opinion is also said to be held in Austria.

IN PETROGRAD.

LONDON, To-Day.

A number of processions, in which banners upholding the Constituent Assembly were carried, converged on Lauride Palace in Petrograd on Tuesday, according to a Reuter's despatch. A series of extemporaneous meetings were held outside the Palace early on Tuesday afternoon, it is added. A score or two members of the Constituent Assembly met in one of the committee rooms. Disorders were reported during the evening. Large banners expressing the best wishes for the Assembly have been placed across the majority of the streets.

THE CAMBRAI REVERSE.

LONDON, To-Day.

The Times this morning prints conspicuously an editorial demanding a prompt and searching inquiry into the battle on the southern end of the Cambrai salient on Nov. 30th and on the following days, owing, it says, to disquieting first hand application of censored accounts. These are said to include charges of blundering and assertions that the British were caught unready.

SIR EDWARD KEMP AT CANADIAN HEAD.

(Reuter's.)

LONDON, Dec. 12. Sir Edward Kemp took over the administration of the Canadian military forces overseas at a luncheon given by Sir George Perley at the Carlton Hotel to-day. There were present Lieut. General Sir Richard Turner, V. C., Major General Sam Steele Hughes and William Hughes, Brigadier General. Hughes and Nolland, Deputy Minister Col. W. Gaw and the heads of the departments. Sir George Perley introduced Sir Edward Kemp, who made a splendid impression by a business like statement. "All realize," the Minister stated, "that we are custodians guarding the interests of the Canadian army for the Canadian people." He then went on to outline his policy.

CLEANSING THE INTERIOR.

The interior of your body should be thoroughly cleansed, just as regularly as we take our daily shower or sponge and are more luxurious beauty baths.

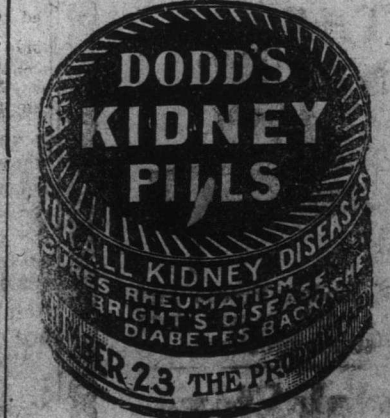

First, the mouth. As good children we were taught to brush our teeth, and, I hope, to use dental floss, so that no tiny fragments of food might lodge between the teeth. But if we are to have a sweet, pure breath we must wash out our mouth as well. A three per cent. solution of boric acid is, perhaps, the most cleansing wash we could use and the simplest, besides being excellent for the teeth. Wash the mouth out twice a day with this; in addition cut a lemon in narrow strips and use to wash off the tongue in the morning.

The nasal passages and the throat need most particular attention. If there is no tendency to catarrh it will be sufficient to wash out the immediate openings of the nostrils with a pad of absorbent cotton dipped in boracic acid solution and tied carefully to the end of an orange stick. The throat, in such cases, should be gargled with half a glass of pineapple or apple juice. The pineapple juice is much better.

If there is a catarrhal condition existing you need an atomizer and should spray the nasal passages and throat with an oil spray three times a day. In spraying the throat inhale constantly, so that the spray may reach the larynx. In spraying the nose use the nozzle of the atomizer, a nose guard which comes with most atomizers, so that you may insert the nozzle in the nose without injury to the delicate membrane. Wash out the lining of the eyelids each morning and night with the same solution of boric acid as for the mouth. Use an eye cup to apply this.

"Will you please explain the difference between a man's and a woman's visiting card?" asked Marjorie.

"A man's card is both thinner and smaller than a woman's but it should be equally fine in quality and engraving. The full name and the street address appear on either card," advised her aunt.
