KING'S HEALTH EXCELLENT Had Some Throat Trouble But Not of a Serious Nature.

London, Dec. 18 .- Alarmist rumors have been in circulation in London recently with regard to the health of King Edward, but it was learned yesterday that the condition of the King is not such as to cause uneasiness to the members of his household. A member of the household said that in view of the condition of the King's throat it was considered advisable that he remain at Brighton.

Some weeks ago, while a guest at a country house his majesty had to forego talking on account of the resulting irritation to this throat, but otherwise he apparently enjoyed his usual health. Following the day he had to stop taiking, the King sat up and played bridge and smoked his customary mild cigars, which do not affect his throat. and for several days after, while still a member of this house party his maonly appearing at long intervals.
