the engine, one leg was severed at the hip and his left arm and body hadly crushed.

The injured man was immediately placed in the baggage car of his own train and rendered first aid. This train, which is known as the Atkilkorkan local was speedily separated from its freight car equipment and turned into a special passenger train rushing to Port Arthur on fast passenger time. The unfortunate trainman lived until nearing the city and, being conscious up to the last, asked that his brothers be notified. In the meantime a doctor was secured and rushed to the scene of the accident by special train, but the suffering man had succumbed to his injuries before he reached him. The train bearing the body reached the city at 2.30 p.m. and the remains were taken to Thomson & Sargent's funeral pariors.

The late Mr. LeBlanc was well known here, being the son of late William LeBlanc of Maple Green. He left home fifteen years ago to engage in railroad work and has been in the service of the C. N. R.; running out of Port Arthur for the past twelve years or more. The deceased, who was thirty-four years of age, was a conductor and a member of the O. R. C., but had been braking for a short time prior to his death. During the late world war the late Mr. LeBlanc served in France with the 48. Batalion.

He leaves to mourn the loss of an affectionate brother, three brothers are and two sisters. The brothers are Ben of New Carlisle, Philibert of Maple Green, and Alexis of Campbellton. The sisters are Mrs. John T. Wilent of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. J. Brossard of Maple Green. The brothers left for Port Arthur as soon as word of the accident was rereceived and attended the funeral which was held in that city on Monday morning.
