

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md. - "I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health." - Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDNER, 1632 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NOTE AND COMMENT If short men make the best fighters, as an English professor of physiology is quoted as saying, the Japanese must be the coming race in military conquest.

"Have you putting Germans in bad situation along eastern fighting front," a newspaper tells us. Well, well! Wonder what Harry will be up to next?

German newspapers criticize wealthy Germans for eating too much. It now remains to be seen whether the stomachs of wealthy Germans are patriotic enough to make the sacrifice that the stomachs of the poor are compelled to make.

Belgium has again denied that she conspired with Great Britain for an attack on Germany. But nobody believed she did, expect a number of Germans who will not be permitted to hear of the denial until after the war.

What will be the status of India in the British Empire after the war? Even in the press of instant needs, that question must cross the minds of thoughtful British statesmen, but it is doubtful if the most far-seeing among them can give it anything like a full or certain answer. Only one thing is sure: India will claim and receive a larger measure of self-government and fuller participation in imperial affairs than she has had before.

During the month which has elapsed since the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Convention, 500 farmers have agreed to give one acre of crop to the empire, in answer to the call made at the convention. It is expected that at least 85 per cent. of the farmers of the province will contribute to the scheme, and that together with the unorganized farmers who have fallen in with the idea, at least 25,000 acres will be set apart for this patriotic move.

For the first time in the record the report for 1913-14 of the Postmaster-General of Canada tells of a considerable reduction in the number of post offices accompanying an extension in the service. The establishment of rural mail delivery has been widely welcomed. In the year covered by the report 940 new routes were established, serving 48,000 boxes, and marking a record in the growth of the branch. As the free delivery routes are increased, however, the "corners" post office loses the reason for its existence. So, mainly for the reason noted in 1913-14, no fewer than 1,015 post offices ceased to be maintained. The steady spread of settlement in the newer regions, however, constantly calls for new services. While the rural free delivery was making some offices valueless, the call of the newer communities led to the establishment of 648 others. So that the net decrease was only 367. The total on March 31st last was 13,811.

An exchange says: - Blind to the plainly obvious fact in our economic life, man has been stumbling along, trying to solve the heavy problems of the country's prosperity without taking stock of the amount of material used in a woman's skirt. There have been inklings of this trouble all along but the tight skirt has not heretofore been brought home to us, as it were. In France the government pleaded with the makers of women's fashions to widen women's skirts so that the mills could run full time and give employment to thousands of unemployed. Not until fashion was ready, however, did the ameliorating decree come forth. The tight skirt is doomed and the era of the full skirt is upon us. Prosperity will smile upon our broad land and "terrible trade conditions caused by the tight skirt will no longer prevail." Thus, in the everlasting circle of things, is industrial salvation at hand.

Legislation of far-reaching importance was introduced in the Legislature last week by W. D. McPherson, member for North-west Toronto, to limit the borrowing power of municipalities, which will apply to all towns and cities of size in Ontario. It is proposed to limit the borrowing power of municipalities on a per capita basis, so that in places with a population of not less than 10,000 the aggregate debt should not exceed $200 per head, and in those when less than 2,000 the debt will not exceed $150. In places with 2,000 people or less the debt will not involve more than $100 per head, and in each case the same total is to be exclusive of sinking funds on hand. Provisions are included to make the Ontario Railway Board the arbitrator where exceptions are desired, and every municipal assessor must take an annual census for the local clerk. Payment of principal on debentures in annual installments is also advocated.

Most infants are infested by worms, which cause great suffering, and if not promptly dealt with may cause constitutional weaknesses difficult to remedy. Miller's Worm Powders will clear the stomach and bowels of worms and will so act upon the system that there will be no recurrence of the trouble. And not only this, but they will repair the injuries to the organs that worms cause and restore them to soundness.

MUZZLED THE PRESS.

Sir Roger L'Estrange Was the Worst Censor in History.

The severest press censor of which English history bears record was Sir Roger L'Estrange. This worthy was appointed to the post in 1663 and he threw himself wholeheartedly into his duties. According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica he suggested that the number of master printers in London be reduced from sixty to twenty, that printing offices be subject to inspection, and have no back doors and that in addition to the ordinary press laws, and seditious publications, printers be invited of small infractions of the law, be condemned to wear some visible badge or mark of ignominy, as a halberd instead of a hatband one stocking blue and another red, a blue bonnet with a red letter T or S upon it.

But L'Estrange went further. He was opposed to newspapers altogether, because the reading of them "makes the multitude too familiar with the actions and counsels of their superiors, too pragmatical and censorious and gives them not only an itch, but a kind of right and license to be meddling with the government." All newspaper criticisms on the government were rigorously suppressed during his censorship. Indeed, he succeeded so effectively in muzzling the press that "his majesty said several times he wondered how it could be done." - London Chronicle.

BOUNTIES FOR SOLDIERS.

Prices England Had to Pay in the Past For Army Recruits.

At one time the system of offering huge money bounties was quite a feature of army recruiting in Great Britain. Prior to the peninsular war, however, the amount of the bounty had been reduced considerably, but the wastage in human material caused by that war raised the bounty again, and from £18 to £16 was a common price right up to "Waterloo year," when it dropped to 7 guineas.

The stress of the Crimean campaign also caused the war office authorities to open wide their purses, and so we find that in 1856 the price of a cavalryman was £10, while an infantryman received £2 less. All manner of ruses were tried to tempt men to remain in the service, and they were even offered money for every spent shell (sixpence for a large one and fourpence for a small one) that they brought to the commanding officer of artillery.

Even in recent years war has forced us to offer ample money prizes to keep military units up to strength, certain reservists receiving £20 each for rejoining the colors in 1898, while soon after the South African war the short service men were tempted to remain serving by the offer of from £10 to £15 each. - Dundee Advertiser.

Pulling Out Posts. The trick of lifting oneself by one's boot straps may appear somewhat difficult, but a machine has been built which does that. It is intended to pull out piles which have been driven in so firmly by a pile driver that they cannot be pulled up by ordinary means. The machine is clamped to the top of the pile, which it grips firmly and automatically. Steam is supplied through a hose. The steam lifts a heavy weight in the machine and lets it drop suddenly. By an arrangement of levers the force of the blow, instead of being downward on the top of the pile, is upward.

The main difficulty in pulling up a pile is to get it started, but a quick series of these blows soon starts the pile. The machine keeps knocking it up until it moves easily, when no more progress can be made, and the pile must be lifted out with ropes. - Saturday Evening Post.

No Need to Climb. It was a very wet night, and the last omnibus was full inside when the conductor asked, "Will any gentleman ride upon the top to oblige a lady?" There was no response, so the inquiry was repeated. But again there was no reply.

At last one of the male passengers remarked, "Are you sure she is a lady and not a poor woman?" "Oh, yes, she is a lady," said the conductor without hesitation. "A well dressed lady?" again asked the passenger. "Yes, a thorough, well dressed, fashionable lady," said the conductor. "Then I should think she can afford to take a cab home," said the passenger. - London Mail.

First Thanksgiving. The first Thanksgiving was conducted by an English minister named Wolbe in 1578, on the shores of Newfoundland. The first celebration in the present territory of the United States was held in the Poplum colony at Sagadahoc, on the coast of Maine, in 1607. The first regular appointment of a Thanksgiving day was by Governor Bradford, the first governor of Massachusetts Bay.

Tricks of Number 9 There are some curious fancies connected with the number 9 is, perhaps, as regards such experiments, number 7 is more prominent and history. When you use it you can't get rid of it. turn up again, no matter what you do to put it "down and out." All through the multiplication table the product of 9 soon No matter how many times you multiply or how many times you repeat or change the figures, suit is always the same. For instance, twice 9 equals 18 and 1, and you have 3 times 9 equals 27; three times 9 equals 27; make 9 again. Go on until eleven times 9 equals 99 seems to bring an exception add the digits--9 and 9 m and again, 1 and 8 make 9, to an indeterminate extent thing continues. Take any at random.
