

IMPOSSIBLE

This word just suits the occasion to a DOT. As I am doing a brisk city trade, I feel assured that many merchants in the towns and villages are in need of goods.

As I have only four travellers on the road, it is quite IMPOSSIBLE for them to be everywhere at the same time.

A POINTER

Merchants, if you will only let me know through mail just what you require in my line your orders will be promptly filled. Write early and secure best lines.

Yours truly,

Messieurs :

Les commandes qui nous ont été adressées ont été si considérable cette année que malgré le travail énorme de notre manufacture de Brockville, Ont., nous ne pouvons pas répondre immédiatement que nous l'autorisons vont à notre clientèle et au public. Pour faire face à toutes les éventualités nous avons aujourd'hui acheté l'assortiment complet de James Hall & Co. à Winnipeg; cet assortiment est assez à dir que pour environ $100,000 et nous permettra de répondre immédiatement aux commandes.

Espérant que vous nous continuerez votre clientèle et en vous remerciant pour votre encouragement pour le passé, je déclure.

Bien respectueusement,

THOMAS CLEARIHUE.

IMPORTANT

I was questioned today as to when the great sacrifice Glove and Mit Sale would start.

All interested will find my reply in the next issue of this paper.

THOS. CLEARIHUE

P.S.—It will be a pleasant surprise for merchants holding large stocks in my line.

The Glove Question

As to when the Great Sacrifice Glove and Mit Sale would start.

Answer

Never, as far as Clearihue is concerned.

Why?

Because I consider it an injustice to my customers, who placed their orders with me early in the season. Should I wait longer, it would mean that every glove manufacturer throughout the country would be held up, and every glove dealer would be compelled to sell goods at cost and less to compete. This would be bad for all and demoralize the glove trade. Should any glove dealer wish to interview me, he can do so at my Warerooms warehouse, No. 285 Market street, where they will find Clearihue's price list, Gloves, Mitts, Mocassins and Socks right.

Some more later on.

The Last Kick!

Although very much against my will, I have given in to the pressure from my friends seem very much interested in the last kick. If any one would like particulars—SO HERE THEY ARE.

After a three weeks' trip arrived in the city on the afternoon of the 9th. In the evening heard the Hall store had closed. On Saturday morning examined stock; Monday afternoon tendered for same and shortly after received a telegram from Mr. George C. Hall & Co. took stock. Wednesday transferred it to me, was paid for by cashiered invoices, and as the goods were now in my possession, I handed J. Hall & Co. on Friday, and my accepted cheque on Bank of Montreal.

Now, gents, this is the matter in a nutshell, and I am pleased to say good-bye to you all very satisfactory, and are now on sale at my ware house, 285 Market street.

P.S.—Come early to secure a GOOD ASSORTMENT.
