

"Great is Acetocura."

185 Madison street,
Chicago, Aug. 17, 1894.

Gentlemen—One day last month I called into the office of your agent, Mr. S. W. Hall, on other business, and received the gentleman's condolence upon my wretched appearance. As a matter of fact, I was a sick man—had been receiving treatment from two different physicians without the slightest benefit. I certainly was discouraged, but afraid to let go. I had not had a decent night's rest for most ten days, no appetite, no ambition, "achey" all over, but bowels were in good order—the fact is, neither the physicians nor I knew just what the trouble was. Mr. Hall spoke of Acetocura. I confess I would have paid little attention to it but for my precarious condition. He insisted on giving me half a bottle to try, and refused to accept any payment for it. I read the pamphlet and had my mother rub me that evening. Failing to produce the flush within 15 minutes, I became thoroughly frightened—the flesh along the spine seemed to be dead—but persisting in it produced the required result in just 45 minutes. That night was the first peaceful one in ten, and on the morrow my spine was covered with millions of small pustules. By night I felt a considerable improvement. Owing to soreness the application was omitted, but again made the third night. The following day showed a wonderful change in me. I felt like a new man. Since then I have chased rheumatic pains several times, with the greatest ease. From being sceptic, I cannot help but say, "Great is Acetocura." It is truly wonderful, and I am most grateful to Mr. Hall for his action.

Respectfully yours,
P. O. BAUER.

Quips and Cranks.

Boston is the place for high art, after all. A sunny son of Italy has been selling door mats there with "The Angelus" worked on them in saffron, yellow and seal brown.

Visitor: Tommy, I wish to ask you a few questions in grammar. Tommy: Yes, sir. If I give you the sentence, "The pupil loves his teacher," what is that? Tommy: Sarcasm.

She: Your society refreshes me greatly. He: Thank you; then you won't mind if I stay another hour? She: Oh, dear, no; you have such a country air about you, it's a perfect picnic to be in your presence.

Father: I am inexpressibly shocked. Your mother tells me that you are engaged to three young men. Daughter: It's all right, papa. They are all football players, and when the season closes, I can marry the survivor.

"Did Miss Flyppe receive many proposals while at the seashore?" "Many! Why, receiving proposals got to be a habit with her. She got so she could not even hear a soda-water bottle pop without exclaiming: 'This is so sudden!'"

Mr. Justjoined: What on earth are you trying to do? Mrs. Justjoined: I was reading about cooking by electricity, so I hung the chops on the electric bell and I've been pushing the button for half an hour, but it doesn't seem to work.

Little Benny: Are you going in the drawing room? Herr Knitshez (with wild, untamable, artistic hair): Yaas, I was goin' der piano to blay, mein leedle vrent. Benny: I'd get sent to bed if I went in there with my hair looking like that.

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared, permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten days' treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Parent: You wish to marry my daughter? Suitor: Yes, sir, that is the object of my visit. "What means of support have you?" "I have no actual cash, but I have something very profitable in view." "Then what you need is not a wife so much as a spy-glass."

Washington Lady: The feet of the ladies of your country are compressed, I believe. Japanese Attache: Oh, no, madam, that is a Chinese custom. We in Japan allow our ladies' feet to grow to their full size (politely)—not that they can ever hope to rival yours, madam.

"Won't you play something, Miss Rattle-ton," asked Mrs. De Porque. "Certainly," said that young woman, amiably. "What style of music do you prefer?" "Oh, play an Op. I haven't heard one since Herr Schlachtentviel played for us in Germany, and I do like Ops. so much."

An Englishman at Chicago for the Exhibition was presented to a showy and elegantly dressed lady. Knowing that Chicago ladies go in extensively for divorce, he asked, quite innocently: "Is she well connected?" "Well, I should say so," replied the native. "She's been the wife of six of our first citizens, and four of 'em are still alive."

YOU'RE AN EASY PREY,

with your flesh reduced below a healthy standard, for Consumption and other Scrofulous and dangerous diseases. And it's for just this condition that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is especially valuable.

If your thinner than you ought to be, whether from wasting diseases, defective nutrition, or whatever cause, the "Discovery" will surely bring you up to the healthy standard. By restoring the normal action of the deranged organs and functions, it arouses every natural source and means of nourishment. As a strength-restorer and flesh-builder, nothing like this medicine is known to medical science. Filthy Cod liver oil and all its disguised compounds cannot compare with it.
