

All Canadian passports issued in Canada are in the new machine readable format recommended by the International Civil Aviation Organization and Canada is the first country to convert completely to the new style travel document. The fee is still $21.00.