

of living is favorable to health; fruits and vegetables form the principal food even of the best tables. Their habits are temperate and frugal. In their dress, both men and women are very extravagant, especially the latter, who seldom appear twice in the same shoes and silk stockings. They dress similar to the French and English. Smoking is their principal excess. They disdain agriculture and commerce. Bull fights are the favourite amusements of all classes. Madrid is the capital of Spain, and contains 200,000 inhabitants.

THE TURK.

The Turks, in general, are prepossessing—well formed, fair complexions, dark eyes,
