

- ACKROYD—v. Smithson, victory of Lord Eldon in, L. C., vii. 51, viii. 375.
- ACTON—Burnel, architectural remains and picturesque situation of, L. C., i. 158; parliament held at 161; castle of, 162; descent of estates in, 168.
- ACTS—the six unconstitutional, code of, passed, L. C., ix. 131.
- ACTS—of political importance to be presumed as proceeding from the advisers of the crown, not from the sovereign, C. J., iii. 378.
- ADAIR—Sir R., memorable mission of, to the Empress Catherine, L. C., v. 209.
- ADAM—Lord Commissioner, recollections by, of Lord Loughborough, L. C., vii. 228, 286, 305, 525; of Lord Erskine, viii. 36, 247; counsel for Lord Melville, viii. 197.
- ADDINGTON—See Sidmouth, L. C.
- ADDISON—Rt. Hon. Joseph, noble reflections by, on the life of Sir T. More, L. C., ii. 74; residence of, 170; extracts from the "Freeholder" by, iv. 479, v. 118; character of Lord Somers by, iv. 479, v. 108, 110, 118; verses to Lord Somers, v. 23; annuity from George I. foreign travels, v. 25; flight from France, v. 53; poverty of, 60; elected to Kit-cat Club, v. 59; eulogy of Somers by, v. 75, 104; dedications of the "Spectator" composed by, v. 97; intimacy with Swift, 105; successful performance of his tragedy of "Cato" when brought upon the stage, 198; C. J., iii. 54; secretary to the Lords Justices on the death of Queen Anne, L. C., v. 216; rupture with Steele, 263; sentiment of Pope to, vii. 157; poetry preferred by, to politics, C. J., iii. 226.
- ADELAIDE—Queen, popularity of, factiously used, L. C., x. 114; accused of breaking up the government of 1834, 439.
- ADMIRALTY—jurisdiction of the chancellor, L. C., iv. 204.
- ADOLORATA—and Estatica, credulity respecting, L. C., ii. 55.
- ADOLPHUS—J., History of England by, account of appointment and death of Charles Yorke in, L. C., vi. 474, accuracy of, praised by George III. vii. 69; State