Cheap skill is something else. Then there's the gold. Not cheap, either. In gold fillings, our patients get the bene-fit of skill that has taken years of ex-perience to acquire—and they get suff-cient gold to guarantee parament and pleasing results. Cheaper prices than the fair charges we make are for work worth less in some important way—less skill, or less gold—or probably both. Gold Fillings...... 1-50 up

Grievances Removed. G. C. Creelman, superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, and A. P. Wester-velt, secretary of Live Stock Associa-tions, returned yesterday from a visit to the International Live Stock Exhibi-tion, at Chicago. While in Chicago, they had an interview with officials of the St. Louis Exhibition, who informed them that the grievances complained of by Canadian live stock men would be adjusted to the satisfaction of every one, with the exception of the law which prevents a Canadian exhibitor from selling exhibits without bringing them back to Canada, to ship them to purchasers. This would have to be changed by Act of Congress.

Nearly Strangled Himself. Sundridget John Harkness, jr., about 19 years of age, met with a serious and nearly a fatai accident while work-ing for Frank Trudgeon, in Mr. Stan-ley's woods. By some means, when he was trying to cut a limb off a tree that had been lodged, he was pionioned by the neck and one arm in such a way as to be suspended three feet from the grousd, and to get a cut in his scalp about three inches long. Had he been five minutes longer without help, life would have been extinct. Fortun-ately, some men were near at hand, and came to his rescue. North American Life Assurance Company. ..
