Canadian Club Indorses Proposal

Of Earl Grey Re Plains of Abraham

A Deputation Named To Go To

Ottawa To Attend the Big Meeting.

Senator Thomas Coffey and Major Beattie, M. P., were appointed delegates, at a meeting of the executive committee, of the Canadian Club last night, to represent the local club at the general meeting of the representatives from all over Canada, which Earl Grey has called in Ottawa for next Wednesday.

A Resolution.

The following resolution was also passed: "That this meeting of the executive of the Canadian Club of London, records its sympathy with the movement initiated by His Excellency Earl Grey, with a view to enlisting the co-operation of all Canadian Clubs throughout the Dominion in the proposal for the conversion of the more important parts of the Plains of Abraham and St. Foye into a national park and for the erection thereon of a monument to commemorate the reconciliation of the British and French races in Canada. We are of the opinion, however, that the undertaking should be purely a national one, and that the funds should be provided by the federal and provincial governments and other legislative bodies, and that Canadian Clubs, as such, should not be expected to do more than to create a strong public sentiment in favor of the movement by every means as seem to them expedient, and that a copy of this resolution embodying the views of this executive of the Canadian Club of London be sent to the Secretary of the club at Ottawa, and to our representatives, Major Beattie and Hon. Thomas Coffey."

Luncheon Monday.

It was decided to hold the next mid-day luncheon on Monday.

Mr. J. A. MacDonald, of Toronto, will be the speaker.

No date was fixed for the holding of the annual banquet, but the secretary was instructed to communicate with Earl Grey and find out if he would be able to attend if the banquet were held on April 20. If this is satisfactory the banquet will be held then.

Point of View of Laymen's Movement

The following striking paragraph from Mr. J. Campbell White, secretary of the laymen's movement for missions, gives in a few words the point of view of the movement, its reason for existence, and its hope. Mr. White, in his great speech in Massey Hall, said:

"On the Congo they value a man by the number of cattle he will bring, on the Thames and the Hudson they value a man by what he is worth to society; but by the River of Life a man is valued only and always by what he has done in the way of unselfish service to his fellow-man, and the only thing that can give any man rank in the kingdom of God is unselfish service and helpfulness. You and I can never become great by God's standard, our churches can never become great, our nation can never become great, except as we enter into the great eternal purpose of God and live for the sake of serving humanity."

"The deepest needs of this world are spiritual needs, the most palpable forces are spiritual forces, and abso-

Last Meeting of the Week of Prayer

The closing meeting of the week of prayer, which was held in Wellington Street Methodist Church, last night, was well attended. Rev. James Livingston presided.

Rev. A. K. Birks, of Askin Street Church, gave an address on "Sunday Observance," in which he pointed out the necessity of setting apart one day as a day of rest, and observing it.

Rev. Mr. Claris, of the Southern Congregational Church, spoke upon "Religion in the Family," laying special emphasis upon the value of a good, early training.

During the evening the choir rendered a number of selections, which were much appreciated.

Noted Woman to Lecture Here.

Katherine M. H. Blackford, M. D., scientist and lecturer of the American School of Humanities, will deliver a series of lectures on "Humanities, the new science," at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, beginning Monday night, Jan. 18, and continuing three nights. Dr. Blackford has many interesting theories in regard to the presence of a large gathering of the members. The installation was conducted by Bro. J. J. Martin, D. D. G. P. The following officers were installed: President, Charles Major; vice-president, H. E. Spettigue; chaplain, W. Garfoot; secretary, T. Spettigue; treasurer, James Lutzman; first guide, F. Timbrell; I. G. H. Brooks; O. G. F. Grey. During the evening an excellent address was given by Bro. Nutkins, of British Lion Lodge.

A BIG HOUSE AT THE GRAND

Amateur Night and Lena Rivers Form a Winning Combination.

Amateur night at the Grand Opera House last night drew a bumper house. There was quite a list of amateurs entered, and they made a great impression. Some of them were very good, some were fair, and some were somewhat different. There was plenty of fun all the time. The programme was a decidedly long one. The Partello Stock Company played "Lena Rivers," and after that the youngsters had the stage.

First honors went to Master Tommy Selby, who sang a song splendidly. Second place was awarded Master Frank Nickle for a whistling specialty. The Riddell children were awarded third prize for their Irish jig.

Among the other contestants were Arthur Grayson, buck and wing dancer; Nelson Adair, soloist; Arthur and Eva Grayson, in a cakewalk; William Probyn, baritone; Ben and Tom Guthrie, boxing match in barrels, and Sullivan and Singer also gave a boxing exhibition.

Miss Alice Kennedy scored in the presentation of the play, "Lena Rivers." The offering tonight will be "A Daughter's Sacrifice."

JAPANESE NAVY MAY DOMINATE PACIFIC

Britain Could Not Spare Enough Ships to Oppose Her.

London, Jan. 10.—The Standard prints anonymously, but with a prominence suggesting that it regards it as representative of Australian opinion, and article from an Australian correspondent discussing the future of the American fleet, the writer, who is clearly imbued to the fullest extent with prejudice and fear of the Japanese, says Australians can scarcely believe the certainty of war between the United States and Japan. He asks if the American fleet meets the fate of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet, what naval power will remain to challenge the predominance of Japan in the Pacific.

He adds: "It is not an idle question, for the nation that dominated the Pacific will dominate us, or, at least, will dominate our relations with the outside world. We don't believe the mother country could send a fleet large enough to cope with Japan victorious over America, with the German menace at home, and the possibility always of some new turn in the European kaleidoscope. From whatever standpoint we look at it there can be no doubt that there is a power growing in the Pacific which will soon, if allowed to grow unchecked, become more powerful than England there. That power is Japan, who within three years will have trebled the number of the battle-ships with which she attacked Russia."

After references to the Anglo-Japanese alliance and an expression of doubt regarding Japan's good faith, the writer says: "If the American fleet were destroyed, the Philippines would become a stepping stone to the East Indian archipelago, which is the natural prey of an insular power that aspires to become the England of the east, and to maintain a greater Japan founded on her own naval supremacy. Then with Japanese emigration deposited southward, so as to reinforce the thousands of the Mikado's subjects already settled on our northern coast, the time for us to fight for our white Australia would be close at hand."
