FIGHT UNTIL HUNS UNDERSTAND BARGAINING BETWEEN CRIME AND RIGHT IS NO LONGER POSSIBLE.

PARIS, Sept. 18---"We will fight until the hour when the enemy comes to understand that bargaining between crime and right is no longer possible," declared Premier Clemenceau in an eloquent address in the Senate last evening. "We want a just and a strong peace, protecting the future against the abominations of the past."

There is much shelling, the enemy paying special attention to gas which he pours over in quantities subjective of a purpose which does not materialize. Sniping with big guns has become a feature of the present campaign. Night bombing is developing with the moon, but the capable handling of the search lights on the Canadian front is defeating the enemy's intentions. Last night was an example of the efficiency of this method of blocking the raiders; everyone was turned back, most of them being caught in the rays and held until they caught in the rays and held until they o'clock last night William Bromley, scurried to safety. Southampton, Sept. 8.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—A party of 20 German officers, prisoners of war, found an unusual reception awaiting them in Southampton. An American regiment was resting by the avenue, on its march from the ship to camp, when the German officers were escorted past. Their progress was embarrassing. The Americans enjoyed the occasion immensely, but not so the German officers.

"Is this the road to Paris?" shouted one American. "How do you like crossing the channel?" was another query.

CHARGES THAT CARVELL TRIED TO GET VOTES OF SOLDIERS

Sensational Evidence Given by Lieutenant at St. Johns Investigation.

COL. McLEOD MENTIONED

Evidence to Show Carvell Did Not Need.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Montreal, Sept. 18.—Evidence indicating that Hon. Frank D. Carvell had tried to secure the vote of the soldiers of the Canadian Engineers training depot at St. Johns, Que., until he found that he was to be returned by acclamation, and was to be returned by acclamation, and that after that he had tried to have the vote turned over to Col. F. H. Mc-Leod in York County, N. B., when he found he himself would not need these votes, was introduced at the royal commission to investigate into the charges against officers and men of the C. E. T. D. at St. Johns by Lleut. Adhey, in the course of Adhey's evidence.

Efforts by Mr. Geoffrion, K. C, to show that there must have been some prethat there must have been some pre-arranged plan for the election in order to secure the voting of some 517 or to secure the voting of some 517 or more soldier voters there, out of about 800 for the Chambly Vercheres Unionist candidate This was denied by officer after officer, all of whom declared that there had been no plans for the election and affirmed strongly that there had been no orders or efforts in an organized way to make the men of the depot vote one way or the other

Hard To Get Evidence.

Mr. Geoffrion was ironic in the course of his examinations, and repeatedly tried of his examinations, and repeatedly tried to draw witnesses out as to whether it was by a miracle or mere coincidence that so many hundred soldiers who had come from all over the United States and Canada should have decided to vote en masse for Jos. Rainville, the defeated candidate in Chambly Vercheres. But no matter how he cross-examined the military witnesses he failed to bring out any evidence to show that there had been any plans or instructions to turn the vote at the St Johns barracks for Mr. Rainville. Much time was spent on this, but every officer of the many examined insisted that there had been no plan, simply a general talk on the situation and an understanding that their votes were needed to help out Mr Rainville in Chambly-Vercheres.

DRIVE THE WEDGE INTO GERMANY WHILE THE OPPORTUNITY PRESENTS ITSELF, URGES PACIFIST NEWSPAPER

Promptness and Substance of President Wilson's Reply to Austria's Peace Proposal Meets With the Heartiest Approval of London Press.

London, Sept. 18.—The promptness, as well as the substance of President Wilson's reply to Austria-Hungary is approved by the London morning papers. Even the pacifist Daily News urges the Allies to follow the American lead and indorse the points enunciated by President Wilson, using the situation to drive the wedge into Germany and her Allies. The Times admires the promptitude of the reply as heartily as it agrees with the stand taken by the president. The Morning Post says the answer is trained in the only terms which befit the occasion.

The Daily Chronicle thinks the Allies attained. I trust this will find you fully recovered from your illness."

German General Preaches One Thing and Practices Another.

British Headquarters in France, Sept. 17.—(Canadian Press dispatch from Reuter's, Limited).—A captured document, signed von Morgen, dated September 10, and addressed to the 14th Reserve Corps, near St. Quentin, says: "Hitherto, owing to military reasons, we have allowed the English to occupy desolate enemy country. Now, however, you have taken up strong defensive postions. Not one foot more of ground is to be given up."

The document exhorts the men to defend their homes, their families and the fatherland, and adds:
"You are more than a match for the enemy, who only attacks with dash when accompanied by tanks. These we will destroy. I expect every man, from general to junior private, to do his duty in the imminent decisive battle."
