

PRIZE WINNERS PARADE AT FAIR

Magnificent Display of Live
Stocks Marches Past
Grand Stand.

CANADA'S OBLIGATION

N. W. Rowell Tells of Great
Britain's Financial Burdens in the War.

When the parade of the magnificent prize-winning live stock passed before the grand stand at the Canadian National Exhibition yesterday afternoon, there was a feeling of security in the minds of the people who packed the enclosure, that Canada was equal to the task of replenishing the herds of the allied nations which have been depleted thru the war. There has been nothing presented during the run of the fair which has given the people of Canada more reason for pride in their heritage than the half-mile display of champion cattle and horses, which came before the critical eyes of breeders and farmers from all over the North American continent on "Review Day." The cream of the country was on view—the perfection of cattle and horses—proudly bearing the mark of approval of the Exhibition judges, which is a guarantee that the winners are worthy of the high honors in the shows of the world.

The Leaders.
Leading the parade was Mendel ynce, the grand champion Clydesdale stallion, owned by Graham Bros. of Clarendon, Ont. He looked a champion in every particular and led the march with the carriage of a true aristocrat. At the head of the "champions" was the grand champion 1917 D. Elliott of Bolton, while Crowd Murray's Jasper, winner of a first and two sweepstakes, briskly trotted along at the head of the class.

The centre of admiring eyes was stabled Marquis, as his bulky form shined from side to side in the lead of the bovine procession. He is owned by J. A. Watt of Elora, and is the champion bull of the Short-horns.

Being the closing day, the directors have decided to make this another Children's Day, and five cents will again be the open sesame of Toronto's tots to the fair grounds. With a continuance of the fine weather and the advantage the children are expected to take of another opportunity to visit the fair, the directors hope to close the Exhibition in triumph.

The Luncheon.
At the luncheon of the directors held at the administration building, N. W. Rowell, leader of the Ontario opposition, was the principal speaker, and President Noel Marshall presided. Mr. Rowell appealed for a closer cooperation of the administration of the country and the people. He thought that if the Ottawa government took the people more into its confidence they would not be found wanting in any emergency which confronted the country.

Great Achievement.
Mr. Rowell stated he was certain that those who followed the progress of the great national fair would join with him in congratulating the directors on their magnificent achievement. Notwithstanding that they had many difficulties to face, they had succeeded in bringing success to the fair, and he thought this was the most convincing evidence of the interest taken in it by the citizens of the province.

The country was to be congratulated for its splendid record, which promised to beat all records. The fact, he said, that men had to be kept at home to gather the crops was good reason for congratulation and not regret.

Bears Big Burden.
Speaking on the financial situation, Mr. Rowell said that those who had kept themselves in touch with it must realize the tremendous responsibilities of Canada and the allies. Britain, up to the present, had borne the burden in a manner unprecedented in history. But it had assumed such vast proportions and was of such a nature that Britain would have to be relieved to a large extent. She could not bear it indefinitely. The entry of the United States into the war was both timely and welcome, and he shuddered to contemplate what would have happened if the allies had not received assistance from America when they did.

Face Situation.
"That but be so," he said. "We in Canada have had so much money and we have been so prosperous that we thought everything was plain sailing. But we are now faced with difficulties. Are we going to make arrangements such as have been made in the United States that will let Britain make her purchases here on credit? We must provide the government with money. How can we give the government the money it will require? Only by saving it instead of wasting it in extravagant living. Never was there a time when we were better able to do this, never was there a time when we were more prosperous. And our continued prosperity depends on our ability to save.

"I have always been convinced that you can rely on the courage and patriotism of the people once they are acquainted with the facts. The government should take them into its confidence and I am certain that they will prove equal to every emergency. We must have practice as well as preaching. In view of the issue involved we should subordinate everything else to the winning of the war, and the government should call upon everyone, rich and poor alike, to help it in obtaining victory for the empire and civilization."

BUTTERMAKING CONTEST AT FAIR GROWS KEENER

Mrs. Hill and Miss Dove Strive
Strenuously for Winning Honors.

Announcement of the winner in the last butter-making contest will not be made until today, but by the look of things at closing time yesterday afternoon it is a pretty close run between Mrs. Hill and Miss Effie Dove for the highest honor. Each of these women finished churning at the same time.

Promptly at five minutes past three Mrs. Hill finished wrapping her butter, weighing close to seven pounds. Miss Dove followed immediately with a full seven pounds.

Miss Barber, Miss Jennie and Mrs. Patton each obtained over six pounds but not a full seven.

Exhibition Notices

MANY BEAUTIFUL FURS.

Taupe lynx, Australian opossum and taupe fox will be among the most fashionable and popular furs this coming season, says the manager of the well-known firm of furriers, Messrs. Furter and Dalton.

During a visit paid to the fine exhibit of this firm in the manufacturers' building, some splendid samples of these furs were noticed, also fine mink, muffs and neckpieces.

Mr. Furter, writing from France, greatly appreciates enquiries made for his welfare, and writes: "We are making the fur fly, too!"

HAD LUCK WITH FILLIES.

George H. Smith of Delhi, Ont., has had singular success with his four fillies, cleaning up no less than twelve prizes in the various classes in which he has shown. These fillies were sired by Warwick Model, a beautiful string of animals, and the admiration of Exhibition visitors generally.

HAD CHAMPION TEAM.

A very successful contestant in horses and corn was Frank A. Smith of Port Burwell, who, with Dandy and Laddie, a splendid team of mares, won second and third prizes in the novice class. The team were bred by himself. After the showing he sold them to Eddie Bros. Blue River, at a good price. Mr. Smith also won a first in a fine exhibit of corn.

DRAWING LARGE CROWDS.

"Corita," the smallest lady demonstrator in the world, has daily attracted large crowds in the arcade of the women's building at the Exhibition, where she is demonstrating Dr. Gordon's foot soap, and Dr. Gordon's dandruff preparation. She is 31 years old, weighs 35 pounds and is 31 inches tall. "Corita" has gained quite an enviable reputation for her ability as a musician, playing both the piano and violin. She will willingly give any information to anyone regarding the good and wonderful healing qualities of Dr. Gordon's excellent preparations.

MRS. MCKINNEY, M.L.A., VISITS EXHIBITION

Woman Legislator From Alberta
Says Graft and Patronage
Must Go.

An interesting guest at the rooms of the women's committee at the Exhibition yesterday afternoon was Mrs. McKinney, member of the Alberta Legislature and the only woman legislator in Canada. Mrs. McKinney was accompanied by Mrs. A. B. Ormsby, who is hostess to the lady from the west during her stay in Toronto. Mrs. McKinney proved a most interesting conversationalist. The subject naturally turned to politics, and the other women about the table were delighted at the clear and concise manner in which Mrs. McKinney explained certain points on which she, as a student of things political, was able to enlighten them.

As in her public address on the previous evening, Mrs. McKinney said that the things which must be combated were graft, patronage and exploitation by the party of the wealth of the country. These things must be eradicated by the men and women of Canada.

These few sentences reflect the policy of the first Canadian woman who will have a share in the making of the country's laws. She is going in for the things that make for honesty and independent politics, but she does not for a moment look upon herself as a Moses, but simply as one in whom the people have imposed a trust. She is going to carry this trust out to the best of her ability and in doing so she hopes to have the help of others along the same lines.

ITALIAN PICTURE BRINGS BIG PRICE AT EXHIBITION

Art Students Pleased That Painting Will Remain in Toronto.

One of the most important sales yet registered at the art gallery of the Canadian National Exhibition was completed yesterday afternoon, when "Strolling Players," one of the Italian collection, was sold after the keenest competition to S. W. Blake of Toronto. A bid had been received from a Winnipeg connoisseur of art, while G. H. Gooderham, of the Exhibition directors, also had his eye on the picture, and had made a very liberal bid for it. However, Mr. Blake went him one better and secured the painting, which had been perhaps the most talked-of one in the collection.

A number of art students during the week prepared a petition asking the Exhibition to buy the picture or to take steps to have it retained in Toronto, and there was considerable elation when the announcement was made that the picture would be added to Mr. Blake's collection.

PLAYED "WE'RE FROM CANADA." Miss Irene Humble's Song Rendered By Innes Band.

It was a becoming tribute that the famous band leader and composer, Mr. John Innes, paid to Miss Irene Humble, in selecting her song, "We're From Canada," as one of the musical numbers played by his band at the Exhibition yesterday. Her song has now been used by Sousa, Conway and Innes, band leaders of national reputation, who have critically analyzed its qualities, and pronounced judgment by including it in their programs. No higher compliment could be paid to this young Toronto girl, who deserves well for her labors in this field.
