PREDERICTON, N.B., Jan. 9.—Hon. J. K. Flemming, a former Premier of New Brunswick and now a member of Parliament for Carleton-Victoria, made a statement over the long distance telephone this evening from Juniper, N.B., where his lumber mills are situated, to the Canadian Press correspondent here, in answer to statements made by Senator Arthur R. Gould on the witness stand at Washington, before the sub-committee of the United States Senate Committee on elections and privileges investigating charges preferred against him by Senator Walsh (Democrat) of WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—The Senate committee on privileges and elections inquiring into the charge against Senator Gould that he had bribed Premier Flemming in 1912 with $100,000 to secure the contract to build the Valley Railway had A. R. Gould and E. S. Carter on the stand Saturday afternoon and completed the taking of cyclence. Argument has been fixed for January 24, and in the meantime the cyclence and exhibits will all be privated to campaign funds in 1912, but such was a contribution and a voluntary one.

REFERS TO GOULD STORY.

"The following appears in the report of Mr. Gould's testimony:

"He (Gould), declared he first knew about it when he saw F. J. Lisman, of New York, one of his partners, shaking hands with Premier Flemming in a bank. Lisman later told him that that handshake had meant the payment of $100,000, Gould said, asserting that he had protested, that he would not stand for any graft. He said Lisman explained that they had been held up as Flemming had refused to sign a final contract unless he got the money.

"I paid Flemming $100,000, he meant the first person pronoun in a collective sense, and that it should have been we." We," meaning the company. He also swore that he did not pay the money to Mr. Flemming, and that he might or might not have signed the money until Hon. H. F. McLeod told him so in 1914, and this was the same McLeod who had first approached him on the train between Saint John and F. edericton with the suggestion that he contribute a large contract unless he got the money. ONE PARCEL IN HIS HANDS.

WHAT GOULD SWORE. "I have no recollection of ever meeting F. J. Lisman in a bank, or shaking hands with him in any bank, and I never discussed any election contribution with Mr. Lisman in my life. How could it be that Mr. Gould and his associates were held up by my refusing to sign when the contract was signed on Dec. 12, 1911, and no contribution was made until the next May. It is not true that I was paid $100,000. One of several parcels, making the total centribution of Mr. Gould and his associates to the campaign fund, came into my hands in the city of Frederiction and in less than three hours passed out of my custody, and I have never was about to name the party when was about to name the party when was about to name the party when was shout to name the party when was about to name the party when Walsh protested and was sustained by the committee, that Mr. Clarke was

Mr. Sutherland declared that the only hope Sutherland declared that the only hope of the liquor interests was in persuading the Christian citizens that the present act was not satisfactory and that propaganda to this effect was being sent out to all parts of New Brunswick. He asked who wanted a change from the present act and said it was certainly not the men who intelligently considered the welfare of the community. He stated there was no such thing as control of liquor. The buildings, salesmen and bottles might be governed by regulations but not the liquor, once it was set free.
