CANADA GETS 15 PRIZES IN IMPERIAL SHOOT

Australia Takes Both Senior and Junior Shields—Saskatoon Takes Canadian Prize Won Last Year by Rothasay.

London, Oct. 23.—The National Rifle Association announces that 1,296 teams, representing over 12,000 boys, an increase of 391 compared with the number last year, competed in this year's shoot for the Imperial challenge shield in the miniature rifle competitions for shields and medals, and over £1,100 prize money presented by Lieut.-Col. Raymond Fennell, of South Africa.

Both senior and junior shields were won by the senior cadets of South Australia, with an average score of 98.96, and 94 out of a possible 100.

Sixty-two of the remaining prizes go to South African teams; thirty-three to New Zealand, twenty-nine each to Great Britain and Australia, fifteen to Canada and two to India.

One hundred and twenty-four Canadian teams took part in the competitions. The National Rifle Association officers state that the Canadian boys show considerable improvement, both in the number of competitors and in shooting, and in the standard attained by them, compared with previous years.

A special trophy which was offered by the Governor-General of Canada, Lord Byng, to the Canadian unit showing the highest efficiency in these competitions goes to No. 328, Collegiate Institute, Saskatoon, Sask., Cadet Corps.

The Imperial Challenge Shield competitions have been held annually throughout the Empire under the auspices of the National Rifle Association since 1910, each team of boys shooting with the miniature rifle on its own range.

In last year's competitions the senior cadets of Birkenhead, Australia, won the senior challenge shield, and Newton School Cadets, Johannesburg, South Africa, won the junior challenge shield. The winning Australian team's score was an average of 98.62 out of a possible 100, and the South African winners of the junior challenge shield had a score of 91.3.

The winner of the Canadian Governor-General's Trophy last year was Rothasay Collegiate School Cadet Corps, St. John, N. B.

ROCKEFELLER JR. PRAISES FORD

Compares Him to Father as Self-made Man—Envis Parent the Experience.

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 24.—"The one thing I have envied my father, is that he had to make his own way in the world," John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who is spending two weeks here, resting, said in a formal interview.

"My father was always more interested in men than in anything else," he said. In comparing his father with Henry Ford, Mr. Rockefeller praised the Detroit manufacturer.

"They are both self-made," he said, "and I honor any man who has won success by his own efforts. He is a man of fine spirit, of earnestness, sincerity and simplicity, and he has done many ingenious things, as men who are successful usually do."

He thought Mr. Ford's methods in relation to his employees had worked out very well, but he did not care to generalize on whether the same methods would work out well with all classes of men.

"To what, more than anything else, does your father attribute his success?" was asked.

"I can't give you any better answer than to tell you what my father said himself, when asked the question one time that I remember very well. 'To my associates,' he answered quickly. 'This was a genuine answer on his part, and very typical of him. I remember, at another time when I spoke to him of wishing to gather material to write his life, he answered me, 'John, there's nothing unusual about my life. There's really nothing about my life to write about.'"

WELL-KNOWN MONTREAL CRIMINOLOGIST HIGHLY PLEASED

Claims He is Rid of Constipation, Indigestion and Poor Appetite Since He Took Dreo.

"I have recommended Dreo to a lot of my friends in Montreal and many are taking it since they know what it did for me," stated Mr. M. M. Campbell, Pointe-Aux-Trembles, Montreal, well known criminologist. "I recommend Dreo because of the results obtained. Constipation has been a curse with me for some years and I suppose that I have spent at least one dollar a week in various so-called remedies with little or no permanent results. My appetite is picking up wonderfully and I expect that with another couple of boxes I shall tip the scales to my wonted weight. I bless the day that I met the great representative, Capt. G. A. Stubbs, and I gladly recommend Dreo to all in need of a tonic par excellence."

Mr. M. M. Campbell.

Dreo is a liquid extract of barks, roots, herbs and leaves, which act pleasantly on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

Dreo acts on a sluggish liver and stops headaches, dizziness and fowl breath, strengthens weak kidneys, relieves constipation, banishes rheumatism, overcomes catarrh and purifies the blood.

Dreo is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co. Go there today and ask for Mr. Ranson, the Dreo Expert, and let him explain the merits of this great remedy. There is no charge and he will tell you honestly if he thinks Dreo will benefit you.

BABY SMOTHERED BY MILK BOTTLE

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 24.—Smothered by a milk bottle in his crib, Nelson, the five months old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Keen of Riverside, was found dead by the mother. Dr. Blackley gave it as his opinion that the child had been smothered because it was unable to remove the milk bottle from its mouth.

TWO GIVE LIVES FOR DOGS. ANOTHER FACES DEATH

Hunter Drowns Trying to Rescue Retriever, Which Lives—Other Two Animals Die.

Scotts Bluff, Neb., Oct. 23.—The body of W. E. Calhoun, motion picture theatre manager, was taken from a government irrigation ditch yesterday, two miles below where, disregarding his inability to swim, he plunged in to rescue a favorite game dog. Calhoun had killed a duck and the dog, in an effort to retrieve, had been caught in the swift current of the canal. The dog swam to safety.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 23.—It is in vain that Vincent Campagna leaped into a pest fire and rescued his setter dog, Paddy, for Paddy died in a veterinary hospital. Campagna himself is at the point of death from burns, and does not know the effort to save Paddy was futile. Physicians forbade the news. Until yesterday Campagna had been receiving for nearly a week reports of improvement in the dog's condition.

De Ridder, La., Oct. 23.—After a quarrel over the poisoning of a dog, R. E. Welborn, large land owner of Beauregard Parish, was shot and killed in Merryville, near here. E. C. Holbrook, a lawyer of that place, was arrested.

BUSY AFTERNOON IN POLICE COURT

In the police court yesterday afternoon several cases which have been pending for some time were disposed of.

Edward Bentley, charged with working a horse unfit for work, promised to destroy the horse rather than pay a fifty dollar fine, which was allowed to stand against him on that condition. Dr. L. A. Donovan gave evidence.

George Galbraith, charged with cruelty to animals in throwing a dog from the window of the Empress hotel, was fined $50. J. A. Barry appeared for him.

The case in which Charles B. Rand is charged with practicing in this province after having been forbidden by the Optometrical Society was resumed and argument concluded. Harry M. Cochrane gave evidence of having been treated by Mr. Rand on August 4. H. A. Porter, who appeared for the defense asked that his client be fined and deposited the money with the clerk but the magistrate refused to fine Mr. Rand in his absence. He ordered him called and his absence noted and then forfeited the deposit for non-appearance. Mr. Porter said he wished the fine imposed so he could appeal the case but the magistrate refused to consent. G. H. V. Belyea, K.C., appeared for the society.

Mrs. Elsie Murphy, charged with cruelty to animals in working two horses with sore shoulders, was given some time in which the society will investigate the treatment the horses receive. Her husband gave evidence yesterday and the case was postponed for one week.

Patrick O'Keefe was before the court charged with having liquor in his beer shop, was postponed until next Monday in order that a witness may be brought from Moncton.

WHAT MADE ME HAPPY

"I was congratulating myself that I had passed the winter without catching a cold, when I got one at the beginning of last May. It was because I was run down. Being run down I had some trouble in getting rid of this cold. I was a nervous wreck. I would wake up regularly morning after morning feeling that some terrible calamity would take place. Although we were comfortably off, I felt sure my husband was going to lose everything. The children worried me. If they made the least noise, I would get into a terrible temper. I would scold them so that I am sure they hated me. I would be mad with myself after it was over and make-up my mind never to let it happen again. I would go to bed at night and begin to think and picture dreadful things which might happen to me and my family. I would lay awake for hours, sometimes until daylight, until I was so weak that I could scarcely raise my head. I would waken next day just as tired as when I laid down. After a while I got so that I didn't care what happened. The children annoyed me and I wouldn't have cared if they had left me for good. I felt that it was only a matter of time before I would lose my mind. I knew that my symptoms were due to a run down condition and that if I could only get something to build me up, I might be all right. I knew that there must have been good tonics but most of them made such foolish claims that I was afraid of them. Happening one day to run across a leaflet about Carmol, I was impressed with the moderate rate way this preparation was described, so I made up my mind I would try it. I did and today I am the happiest and healthiest woman living. I haven't a care in the world. Instead of running away from me, my children are now with me all the time. My husband tells me that my disposition is as near an angel's as he has ever known. I can be, but of course he is prejudiced. I don't believe I have a nerve in my body now."

Carmol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 6-622
