ANOTHER NEW THEATRE HERE

Waterloo Street Building to Be Remodelled—Ready for Start in Spring

St. John is to have still another moving picture theatre. Plans were completed this week for the formation of a company of local business men who will take over the property in Waterloo street at present occupied by Amland Brothers as a store room for furniture. The building is opposite the Gem and is a three-story brick structure.

It is to be made fire proof and up to date in every respect and when completed the promoters say it will be one of the finest theatres this side of Montreal. The building has a frontage of forty feet and runs back from Waterloo street, 110 feet. Plans for the new building were completed by Architect Nell Brodie this week and it is expected that tenders will be called for at an early date. The work will not be started, however, until the spring, but will then be rushed to completion.

The place will have a seating capacity of about 1,000, with a first and second floor. The stage will be a large one, and on each side will be two boxes, two accessible from the lower floor, and two others from the balcony. The latest style of opera chairs and fixtures are to be installed, and there will be an orchestra pit immediately in front of the stage.

The house will be used for pictures and vaudeville, and will be put on one of the large vaudeville circuits. The house will have its own orchestra.

When completed, the city will then boast of six moving picture houses. The new Keith theatre will be completed about the same time as the Waterloo street house.

The new company will apply for incorporation within a few days, and final arrangements will be made, so that everything will be ready when the time comes for a start.

MEN WHO RESCUED SURVIVORS OF THE WITCH HAZEL HERE TODAY

Schooner Lena Gertrude in Port—The Elma Floated and Taken to Slip

The schooner Lena Gertrude, Captain Smith, which went to the aid of the schooner Witch Hazel, when she struck off New Haven on Sunday last, arrived in port this morning and is tied up at No. 7 berth on the West Side. It was the crew of the Lena Gertrude that saved the lives of Bennett and Joseph Miller, of the Witch Hazel, and in now lying in Gregory's slip. It is not thought that any great damage was done, but it is thought probable that a survey will be made before she is moved. When repairs are made she will be taken through the falls to complete loading cargo.
