Cotton Letter.

New York, Sept. 27.—There was some selling here late yesterday on private cables from Manchester reporting that the Manchester spinners had refused to submit the labor dispute to arbitration. As we understand the whole argument between spinners and employees in Manchester grows out of a disagreement in one of the mills. The work people a day or two ago proposed that the dispute be arbitrated. The refusal of the Master Spinners to submit to arbitration was suggested that they are willing to hear of curtailment of production during October, which, in view of the bull control of the near months in Liverpool, is the strongest statistical position does not look unlikely, but the bulk of the trade here believe that employees willfield the point before they will force the matter to the length of provoking an actual lockout. This is a very practical matter, as there is no more selling on the foreign news of yesterday, in contradiction with the bullish attitude and the steadiness of the Southern spot market.

Financial Bulletin.

New York, Sept. 27.—Bullish specialty operations seem likely to continue in the latter class of stocks. Would not climb after prices, neither would we neglect returns. Purchases on recessions of small extent may be made for turns with stop order protection. General sentiment improving, but is skeptical of any permanent betterment. The technical position of course not as strong as it was before the removal of a considerable shortage of the rally. We would cautiously follow the bullish operations. The political news from Albany and New Rochester may engage attention during the next few days. The activities of today may not be important, at least until after noon, as far as Roosevelt is concerned. It looks like a genuine fight. The money situation shows a little force of the day for lowering the German bank rate advance, the bank of England may also raise its rate. The statement of the National Bank of Commerce, according to the Journal of Commerce, shows improvement, and the Western situation has evidently passed its crisis. While there is a chance for a frost in the corn belt, we do not believe that any damage of consequence now is likely, so the low temperatures there need not alarm. Trade conditions continue to react and they may be doing that with the market recovers permanently. We think it safe to repeat what we said recently, that the bear factors are being slowly passed.

Summary.

Americans in London irregular without important changes. Public service commission announces city will take over Stewartry tunnel and permit third tracking of second, third and fourth avenues elevated railway. Mayor Gaynor says he is not a candidate for Governor, but leaves way open for his nomination. London settlement began today and quotations are now for new account. In London rates in London 3 to 12, slightly stiffer than last settlement, but money continues easy. General market in London shows firmer tone. Twelve industrial advances 48; twenty active rails advanced 100.

Gibson's Letter

New York, Sept. 27.—The market had a much better tone yesterday but there was some quiet peddling out of other stocks and it is hardly safe to assume that this movement represents the turning point in the market. If the market without the buying in the general list improves it may be found expedient to change, but I see no evidence of such a reversal yet. It is hinted in very good quarters that favorable developments will be for the coming in Reading inside of a day or two. There is no way to confirm this rumor but the principal promoters are buying the stock. There was excellent buying of Western Union all through the session. This buying comes from inside and may result in an advance of several points. Think it is still a good plan to follow the advance in Reading against sales in St. Paul, R. & O. and Union Pacific. If we good news

NO FUNDY FERRY FOR C.P.R. AS YET

Officials on Return to Montreal Say However That Practicality is Being Discussed

(Montreal Star.)

For the present there will be no ferry across the Bay of Fundy in connection with the through freight service which the Canadian Pacific will establish immediately between Montreal and Halifax via the Dominion Atlantic Railway.

This was the announcement which was made today by Mr. McNicoll, the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, who with Mr. G. M. Bowditch, has been on a trip of inspection over the Dominion Atlantic, now about to be merged into the Canadian Pacific system. Mr. Bowditch supplemented this statement of Mr. McNicoll's by saying that the same system would be adapted to be in operation between Owen Sound and Fort William. The freight would be trans-shipped at St. John, and taken to the coast by the Dominion Atlantic to Halifax.

"We have spare steamers that we could use on the route," said Mr. McNicoll, "and we have no doubt that this system will answer well."

Mr. McNicoll, however, admitted that the question of putting a ferry on this service was one of the matters which had been looked into but no decision had been taken on this question pending a report from the engineers. The high tide in the bay, he said, offered no very great obstacle to a ferry. The more important question was whether the channel was a good one or not.

That the Dominion Atlantic would become an important feeder of the C. P. R. system Mr. McNicoll frankly admitted. "I never saw such a big area of open, dry orchards as there are along the line," he said. "A very healthy sign was that many new orchards are being planted, and prosperity is everywhere in evidence. It is a charmingly picturesque country, and my only regret in regard to it is that there are not more people there. However, time will doubtless remedy that and certainly the C. P. R. will do what it can towards advertising it, and developing the country for farming and fruit growing as well as for tourist traffic. There is not the slightest doubt that the country is capable of supporting a much larger population than at present."

Maritime Representation

Hon. W. H. C. Grimmer, Surveyor-General of New Brunswick, is in the city, staying at the Windsor. He stated today that the Maritime provinces would join in appeal for an amendment of the B. N. A. Act to prevent further reduction of their representation at Ottawa.

Killing Frosts in the West

POLICE WORKING ON PETTY THEFTS

Robinson's Bakery Offices and O. H. Warwick's Store Entered.

The local police are busily engaged in working on two robberies of a petty, yet rather daring nature, one from the store of O. H. Warwick, King street, and the other from the offices of Chas. Robinson, baker and confectioner, of Celebration street. In the former case, it has been learned that only a small amount, about $5 was taken, but in the case of Mr. Robinson, while the latter would not say so directly today, it is understood that the amount is far greater.

Mr. Robinson's place was not forcibly entered after the regular manner of burglars, and the theft of the money is somewhat of a mystery.
