AN EASY QUALIFICATION

(Canadian Courier).

Every member of a group of parliamentarians who were sitting round the table of the House of Commons cafe last month put forward a claim to be considered a farmer. All of them got away with it nicely except Honore Gervais, one of Montreal's represenatives in the house.

"Mr. Gervais, did you ever learn to milk a cow?" asked Roderick Mackenzie, secretary of the Grain Growers' Association.

Before Mr. Gervais could answer, C. H. Lovell, the member for Stanstead, said in his well-known deep bass voice, "What's that got to do with it? Any calf can milk a cow."

After a girl is married it seems to be up to the neighbors to let out remarks to the effect that she didn't marry the man of her choice.
