CHATHAM, - - - JANUARY 8 1885. The Lumber Trade.

From a Liverpool letter reviewing the past year's lumber trade at that port and coming from, perhaps, the best authority there on the subject, we infer that the prospects for next seatory. The year was begun (Feb. 1st) is to say the distance from Ottawa with a spruce deal stock of 21,050 with a spruce deal stock of 21,050 thern and Western and proposed rail-way is between 300 and 350 miles shorter than by any other route. The distance from Liverpool to Chatham is less than to any other port on the ruling were £6.10 to £6.15 for St. The prices than to any other port on the mainland of America, except it be Ship-mainland of America, except it be Ship-mainland of America, except it be same as this as a matter of course, must be taken in July. As far as the fisheries clauses are that swept the summit in blasts of fitful fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucester, Mass., in which a decided stand was taken against a renewal of the fisheries at Gloucest John, and lower for other ports, ex quay.
