

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES TO TAKE ACTIVE PART IN THE RECONSTRUCTION PROBLEMS

Representatives of American and Canadian Companies Meeting in New York—The Theme of the Convention is the Part of Life Insurance in the Problems of Reconstruction.

New York, Dec. 4.—The housing problem, the agricultural situation, the plight of the street railway system, the needs of the railroads and the relation of the funds of life insurance policy holders to all these and other pressing problems connected with the readjustment of the nation's economic and financial affairs are being considered at the two days' reconstruction conference being held in connection with the thirteenth annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, which opened here this morning.

The theme of the convention is "The Part of Life Insurance in the Problems of Reconstruction," and the interest taken in this subject is evidenced by the fact that the life insurance executives in attendance and participating represent about ninety-five per cent of all old line life insurance outstanding in the United States and Canada.

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS OF A GERMAN OFFICER

An illuminating picture of German gratitude appears in a group of anecdotes collected by Mr. Robinson Smith and published in the London World's Work. During the battle of Ermeton sur Bier, wrote the narrator, a Belgian, the Col. Count von Eulenbourg, was seriously wounded at the door of our chateau. His men carried him to the ambulance that my sisters had established in the courtyard, and he remained there four days, after which he was evacuated to the lazaret of St. Gerard.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT.

"Little Beryl, aged ten, was a very pretty and intelligent girl, but she had one fault—she was inclined to be vain. At every available opportunity she gazed at herself complacently in the looking-glass. Her fond paper noticed that the habit was growing upon her and took upon himself the duty of correcting it.

OVERSHADOWED.

An indirect plea for the dignified but plain pulpit setting of former years comes from the London Nation, which tells about a worthy Scotsman who was a member of a great church. Although the building was imposingly ornamented and the atmosphere reverent, he did not enjoy the service.
