

The R. K. Y. Club Annual Cruise

Yachts Under Vice Commander Walter Logan Had Delightful Cruise on River—Rev. J. A. Morison Preached Interesting Sermon at Crystal Beach Yesterday.

The annual cruise of the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club came to a close yesterday. Under Vice-Commander Walter Logan the yachtsmen had gone up as far as Fredericton and enjoyed a very successful and interesting trip. The annual services held yesterday morning at Crystal Beach were very impressive. Over three hundred were present for the occasion and there were thirty-five to forty boats anchored in the stream. The chaplain of the club, Dr. Morison, preached a sermon on "The Way of Happiness" and a collection was taken up for the Old Ladies Home and a goodly sum realized. After the service the yachts returned to their moorings at Millville.

The annual sermon was preached by the chaplain, Rev. John A. Morison, Ph.D., D. D. Taking his text from Psalm xvi, 11, "Thou wilt show me the path of life; in Thy presence is fullness of joy; at Thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore," Dr. Morison discussed upon the theme of "The Way of Happiness."

The sermon, in part, was as follows:

In every age and among all peoples the way of the happy life has been sought. There was once a Greek slave, and a poor deformed at that, yet he became known as one of the wisest of many philosophers that land produced, and his name and words still live. I refer to Epictetus, who declared that "If a man is unhappy, it must be his own fault; for God made all men to be happy." And among the same people we find another great man of serious thoughtfulness observing that to that which is the highest good of all things that are done men, men both vulgar and educated give the name of happiness, and every school boy knows how earnestly Socrates and Plato as well as Aristotle and Epictetus endeavored to elucidate the way of a happy life.

Among the ancient religions the religion of the Jew was a very happy form of faith. The Prophets and Psalmists of that nation discovered an individual and national joy in the thought and worship of Jehovah, and in a larger sense we may say that Christianity is the religion of joy, and from its earliest inception as a form of organized religion. Away back in the second century the Greek Fathers, men like Origen and Athanasius and Clement of Alexandria, opposed the joy of Christian faith to the terror of the Pagan superstition. I sometimes find myself wishing that there had never been a cleavage between the Churches East and West and that all the way down the centuries that great joy of Christian faith had been lit up by these bright and unmistakable lights of joy which these early Greek Fathers ever discerned in the religion of the Christ. I know very well how sincerely a criticism is made of the religion of the Jew and how naturally its evolution proceeded, and I for one shall never permit myself to call it a failure, for it at least taught humanity that not by this method may the larger life of joy be found. It was an earnest experiment and it was not the least to the happiness of humanity. We are seeing better again that our God is a Happy God and that it is His will and desire that His people should be happy too.

I think that the great majority of people want to be happy and are trying to be happy. Yet most people are not altogether happy. With many it appears to be an impossible attainment. They tell you that just as there is an artistic temperament or a musical temperament or a legal temperament, without which none may ever hope to attain to eminence in the pursuit of art or music or law or medicine, so there is a happy temperament which, should not one happen to possess as a birthright, he must get through the world as best he can without it largely foregoing the experiences of happiness. They will tell you the words of Longfellow that "Some days must be dark and dreary" and that no one carry a full cup and live under a sunny sky. The latter is a very proper which ought to be translated into every language the world around; it is this, "If all cannot live on the piazza, everyone may feel the sun," and one must will to walk the sunny side of the street. In all lives, as in all cities there are avenues with sides that are shaded as well as sides that are sunlit, and to enjoy the brightness of life's strange winding boulevards one must resolve to walk on the sunny side.

Thus happiness appears to be not so much a matter of temperament as of will power. In the physical world men win when they will. The wilderness, the sea and the air have all surrendered to the imperial will of man. In the moral and spiritual world the same law obtains. We cannot make men good by passing laws and still more laws. The law is a very good schoolmaster and at times an efficient disciplinarian, and this is required by all minors, and truth to tell, some people never outgrow their minority and attain to their majority. Yet paternalism in government is not the highest form of legislation. Men cannot be made happy by law. Men must will to be happy. And here George Borrow, the author of Lendrig and Romany Eye, in his charming dialogue with Jaspas, the old Gipsy, is suggestive. He writes:

"Life is sweet, brother."
"Do you think so?"
"Think so! There's night and day, brother, both sweet things; there's likewise a wind on the heath. Life is sweet, brother; who would wish to die?"
"I could wish to die."
"You talk like a fool, which is the same as talking like a fool; were you a Romany chaf you would talk wiser. Wish to die, indeed; a Romany chaf would wish to live forever."
"In sickness, Jaspas?"
"There's the sun and the stars, brother."
"In blindness, Jaspas?"
"There's the wind on the heath."

To Be in Readiness for Next Dominion General Election, According to Report.

Toronto, Aug. 1.—The National Farmer-Labor Party is to be organized in readiness for the next Dominion general elections, and to this end circular letters are being sent to secretaries of Labor Parties in the various provinces of the Dominion by James Simpson, of this city, secretary of the Ontario section of the Canadian Labor Party.

The decision to issue the call for a meeting for the purpose of organizing the new national party was arrived at on Saturday at a conference between Labor representatives and officials of the United Farmers of Ontario.

The circular states that "the recent success of the Labor-Farmer forces in Ontario, Manitoba and Nova Scotia make it all the more necessary that a national party should be organized with a view to adequately meeting the situation arising from time to time, and solving the big national problems which have to be solved in the future." The place and date of the meeting have not yet been decided upon.

THE CHANGES IN STREET CAR SERVICE

Speaking to T. B. McConley of the Street Railway yesterday he informed the Standard that the car services would not be curtailed but that there would be a curtailment in the services on Wednesday. He said that the same service as at present would be maintained at rush hours viz. from 9 to 11:30, 2 to 4:30 and at 7:30 o'clock on the main line. The Fairville cars will come into the city. The West St. John cars will be reduced, but the Fairville cars will keep up the service on Douglas Avenue. There will be a five minute service from Douglas Avenue to the city.

The Glen Falls and East St. John cars will come to King street, making the highest good of all things that are done men, men both vulgar and educated give the name of happiness, and every school boy knows how earnestly Socrates and Plato as well as Aristotle and Epictetus endeavored to elucidate the way of a happy life.

Workmen had been kept busy until midnight Saturday making a cut out on the corner of Charlotte street and North Side of King Square.

brother: If I could only feel that, I would gladly live forever."
"Dost, we'll go to the tents and put on the gloves, and I'll try to make you feel what a sweet thing it is to be alive."

This George Borrow's ripey taught him the gospel of happiness. Happiness is not temperament merely, it is not dependent absolutely upon external circumstances. Happiness is a morality, it is a duty. It is a duty that we all owe to ourselves and to the world about us. As Robert Louis Stevenson has told us, "there is an idea abroad among moral people that they should make their neighbors good. One person I have to make good myself. But my duty to my neighbor is more nearly expressed by saying that I have to make him happy."

Canadian To Go After Yachting Cup

Montrealer Issues Challenge to N. Y. Yacht Club for Race in 1921.

New York, Aug. 1.—(By Canadian Press)—Alexander C. Ross, Montreal, former member of the Dominion Parliament, yesterday challenged for the America's Cup, according to the New York World. It called for a Canadian-built yacht to come to New York in July next year. His challenge supercedes the intention of Sir Thomas Lipton for another race in 1922.

Mr. Ross yesterday sent a telegram to Commodore J. P. Morgan of the N. Y. Yacht Club that read: "Allow me as a life member of the Cape Breton Royal Yacht Club, and a member of the Halifax Yacht Club, to congratulate your club on the retention of the America's Cup. Hearing through the press that Sir Thomas Lipton does not intend to compete for the cup in 1921, I, on behalf of these clubs, respectfully beg to challenge to compete for the cup in July, 1921. We will build a boat on the Atlantic Coast to be manned by Canadians if you grant us this opportunity of competing. We will abide by the measurement and cost, and will submit our boat to the letter."

"Soliciting a reply at my expense, Reply Montreal. (Signed) A. C. Ross."

The World says Commodore Morgan is expected to take the matter up Monday with the America's Cup committee of the N. Y. Yacht Club. A mere acknowledgment of the message will probably be sent. The committee then will await challenge in writing, while his request under the deed of gift of the cup.
