A meeting of the trustees of the Supreme Council was held in Detroit, Tuesday, June 4tb, 1889. Besides the full Board there were present: Revs. Dr. Riley, Fathers Molphy and Tiernan, Supreme President, R. Mulholland; Recorder, C. J. Hickey; Grand President, D. J. O'Company members of Com-

Recorder, C. J. Hickey; Grand President, D. J. O'Connor; members of Committe on Laws, J. J. Hynes, E. Bertrand, and J. O'Meara; Grand Secretaries, Jos. Cameron, S. R. Brown and J. H. Breen.

Meeting was called to order in the parlor of the Hotel Cadillac by Supreme President R. Mulholland. The President, in calling the meeting to order, stated that a question had arisen since our last meeting requiring the action of the Supreme Council. He, therefore, took the chair in his official capacity; C. J. Hickey as secretary.

took the chair in his official espacity; C.

J. Hickey as secretary.

The question referred to was the custodianship of members' Medical Certificates and the manner of applying for Beneficiary Certificates; the change from the method heretofore adopted being caused by a part of section 4 page 9 of Constitution of 1888; representatives from the Grand Council of Canada claiming that said part of said section was neither read, discussed, nor adopted, at the Supreme Council convention of 1889, was irregularly and illegally placed in the constitution; was a deviation from the system regulated by our constitution and in existence in by our constitution and in existence in Canada for the past nine years, and was therefore not binding.

Bros. Hynes and Bertrand, of Buffalo, stated that section 4 of Beneficiary Fund stated that section 4 of Beneficiary Fund article as it now appears in the constitution was read and adopted the same as every other amendment to the constitution; that the printed minutes were not correct, and that the constitution was printed from their original manuscript. None of the members of the Trustee Board present had any recollect the matter referred to. Brothers of the matter referred to. Brothers O'Meara, Finn and Coffey were positive it was neither read nor adopted; and Brothers Hynes and Bertrand, the Com mittee on Laws, were positive it was read and adopted; Brother Hickey contended medical certificates should be ter whether the constitution stated so or not, and he believed the Supreme President and Trustees had the power to order this and insist on its being done. order this and insist on its being done. Several others agreed in this, and thought the question of the custodianship of "Medical Certificates, and applications for membership of members," could be settled without any reference to section 4, page 9 of constitution. After a lengthy discussion as to the legal ity of that part of section 4, page 9 of the Beneficiary Fund Article relating to the "forwarding of the medical certificates of members to the Supreme Recorder," in which C. J. Hickey, S. R. Brown, J O'Mears, J. J. Hvnes, E. Bertrand, D. J. O'Connor, Rev. Fathers Molphy, Tiernan and Basrt, besides other members of the and Baart, besides other memoers of the trustee board, took part, the following resolution, presented by trustee W. J Bulger and duly recorded, was unant mously adopted by the Supreme President and trustees :

Resolved, That the Supreme President of this Council require all Grand Councils under the jurisdiction of this body or its proper officers, to forward, for the future, all medical certificates of for the future, all medical certificates of membership and the applications for membership to the Supreme Recorder of this body, and that the question of forwarding medical certificates and application for membership, now in their possession and issued prior to January 10, 1889, be deferred until the next meeting of the Supreme Council

After the adoption of this resolution the President adjourned the Council, and Wm. J. Bulger, chairman of the Board of Irustees, called the board to order. Moutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

IRELAND'S STRUGGLE.

MR. PARNELL'S LATEST TRIUMPH. The ceremony of the presentation of addresses from the Irish municipal bodies to Mr. Parnell during the last week of May in London, England, was an imposing and significant occasion. Every important municipality in Ireland, except Belfast and Derry, was represented by its Mayor and Corporation, in their robes of office and with the ineignia of their omce and with the insignia of their borough. The number of municipalities represented was nine. The Lord Mayor of Dublin introduced the deputations. The confidence of all the municipalities was expressed in Mr. Parnell in the was expressed in Mr. Parnell in the strongest terms. Mr. Parnell was much moved by this grand spontaneous demonstration. He declared that the Special Commission had been forced upon the Irish people instead of the inquiry they demanded. He would have preferred to have gone to his grave with the stigma of the forged letters attacked to his name, rather than have every public speech and every newspaper article which was published in Ireland or else where raked up against the Irish party. They had never acknowledged the justice of the reference to the Commission, and now they do not accept it. They do not believe in its fatness or competency to deal with the great issues competency to deal with the great issues which came before it. Under pretence of an inquiry into crime, a great political issue was raised before men who are not competent to decide it, but the ve:dict of history will be in favor of Ireland, what history will be in favor of Ireland, whatever may be the decision of the jurges. It is well understood by Irish politicians that the Parliamentary policy is an experiment, but if he and his colleagues thought it would be unsuccessful, they would not remain twenty four hours longer in the House of Commons. But they believe there is no fear of failure, and that they are nearing the day when their hopes will be realized, and when Ireland will have the right of self-government.

Mr. Condon, Mayor of Clonmel, was not present, as he is in prison for protesting against the cruel evictions which are being carried on under Mr. Balfour's tyrannical rule, but Cionmel sent its corporation to take part in the magnificent demonstration, the object of which was to congratu-late Mr. Parnell on the collapse of the in-equitous plot to ruin his blameless reputa-The absence of Mr. Condon strengthens the force of the de'egation, as it emphasizes the cruelty of the persecu tion under which the country is suffering.

The delegates condemned in the most scathing terms the foul conspiracy against Mr. Parnell, and it was a most timely occasion for the latter to expose the under which the country is suffering duplicity of the Government in the appointment of a Commission which they expected would drag itself through the mire for the purpose of furthering the Government's plans.

The collusion between the forger Pigott and the Times cannot be reasonably doubted when it is borne in mind that it was part of the settled policy of the Government to fix on the leading Nationalists, and especially on Mr. Parnell, complicity with the murder of Mr. Burke, and it was to give plausibility to this accusation

It is now a matter of history how completely the accusations were broken down. The secret of the letters which were to condemn Mr. Parnell has been made a matter of the greatest publicity, since it has been proved that with the aid afforded by government, Pigott was bribed by the Times to forge the signatures to the memorable letters, and the Government share the disgrace with which the Times has been covered by to £1578. The Government evidently expect that by granting the demands of Scotch tenants, while they refuse the same justice to those in Ireland, they will conclinate the Scotch electorate and will diminish the strength of the demand for Home Rule for Ireland. But the Scotch, who have preceded in gaining justice for It was to bear out the statements of the Home Rule for Ireland. But the Scotch, who have succeeded in gaining justice for themselves, understand very well that their victory is due to the Irish Nationalists, and gratitude itself will make them more resolute in demanding that the same justice be extended to the sister Isle which they have secured. If the principle of tenant right is acknowledged to be correct in Scotland, it is fair that it should be ex stance.

It was to bear out the statements of the Times that the Commissioners were selected by the Government. The three judges selected were known to be pronounced enemies of Mr. Parnell and his cause. On this ground Mr. Gladstone and the Liberale opposed their appointment, but the Government would have no other men.

There is no doubt they hoped by their appointment to secure Mr. Parnell's conviction, but the most unexpected discovery of Pigott's deliberate forgeries exploded their plans.

In spite of all this, it is very freely said that the judges will yet, when they make their report, declare Mr. Parnell guilty of something. Lord Salisbury had the effrontery to hint very plainly even after Pigott's confession was made public, that the Commission would yet find Mr. Parnell guilty of being the author of the forged letters, and the Times still shows that it has great confidence in the judiclousness of the selection of the three judges, and that the Commissioners will give the final verdict in its favor.

Mr. Parnell does well to say that the men who are to make this decision have not the confidence of the Iniah people, and that they are not competent to decide the great political issue which was put before them. The real issue which should have been kept in the foreground, the authenticity of the letters, was made by them but a secondary matter, and they undertook the larger issue of deciding upon the justice of Ireland's claim to self government. It is not with the Commission that the decision of this question will rest, but with the people of England, Ireland and Scotland, and whatever may be the report of the Commissioners, it is now absolutely certain the popular veridict will be favorable to the Nationalist now absolutely certain the popular veri dict will be favorable to the Nationalist Parnell's favor is six.

Mr. Gladstone addressed a large meeting at Ramsay bareheaded during a thunderstorm on the 7th inst. Next day he spoke at Weymouth. He said the Liberal party was moving in the right direction and at a fair pace. He spoke in favor of limiting the length of a Parliament to four or five ways. Referring to Isoland he or five years. Referring to Ireland, he admitted that crime had decreased there and attributed the improvement to recent remedial measures, to the beneficial in-fluence of Irish members of Parliament and the priests, and above all to the knowledge possessed by the Irish people that a large majority of the people of England sympathized with them. It re-manned for Englishmen to say whether they will do a further act of justice, which alone would give a true union of the vari-ous countries comprehended under the designation of Great Britain and Ireland.

At Plymeuth Mr. Gladstone received an unprecedented popular demonstration. He addressed a crowd at Tavistock on the 15th inst., and afterwards another crowd of 7,000 people in Plymouth Drill Hall, of 7,000 people in Frymouth Drift Hair, maintaining, first, that the separation of a dependency had never been caused by the granting of autonomy; second, that separation had in numerous cases been caused by the refusal of autonomy; and third, that there were abundant cases in which separation had been prevented by the granting of autonomy. Mr. Gladstone supported these propositions by reference to Colonial history. At the beginning of his public career, he said, there was not a Colonial to the case of the said there was not a Colony that was not held by a precarious tenure, but since being granted the fullest liberty in the management of their local affairs, all have been bound strongly to the Empire. He appealed to the nation to give the same liberty to Ireland.

A large number of English ladies and gentlemen were present to see how Irish evictions were carried out on the Olphert Fourteen houses were cleared out on Friday, 24th of May, and nineteen per sons, chiefly women, were taken prisoners for defending their homes. The English visitors expressed their horror and indigna. tion, and in a telegram to the Queen appealed to her to put a stop to such pro dings, which are a disgrace to England and humanity, more especially as they occur on the Queen's birthday.

It is the intention of leading Reformers in England to exhibit at Reform meetings in London and elsewhere a model of the battering rams with which Mr. Balfour has furnished the Irish police for battering down the houses of the Irish tenants, and a model also of one of the houses which that the Times published the Parnellism and Crime editorials. Contributions were given by prominent members of the Cabinet towards the rewarding of the forgers, Sir Richard Webster so far adopted the forgeries as to declare that they were absolutely proved before the Special Commission was thought of, and it was publicly acknowledged by both parties in the House of the Mr. Balfour makes use of; but if and the public province of the House which Mr. Balfour makes use of; but if the model will have such an effect upon English people, what would be the result if the battering ram itself were put on exhibition? The people of Mallow are determined to resist payment of a tax which has been imposed on them by the Grand Jury to compensate a policeman named Stone for injuries received during a street row be-tween himself and a drunken emergencyman. They will not pay the unjust imposition except at the point of the bayonet, and though the amount will probably be collected by selzure, it will cost more to collect it than the compensions of the c sation will amount to. Thus the object will be gained not to leave anything t hand over to the policeman.

The Scotch Crofters of Glendale are rewhich the Times has been covered by the exposure. Yet Sir Richard keeps the exposure of all his colleagues.

Assessment No. 7 was issued from the Supreme Recorder's office June 1st, 1889, and from the Grand Secretary's office the letters were genuine. On 18th April the letters were genuine. An instance may be cited that of the 'Change of the Light Brigade' which was played six times at the four concerts. The vocalists acquitted themselves in grand style and delighted every one who had the pleasure of listening to them. 'The Charge of the Light Brigade' and the famous Anvil Chous are amongst the numbers assigned to the Matinee programme for London. He was greeted with hearty cheers from the Parnellite and Liberal benches as he rose to move an adjurnment, in order to raise a discussion on Lord Lansdowne's harsh treatment of the Luggacurran tenantry, and the recult of the division which took place on his motion was sufficient to bring the Government to a consciousness of their impending doom. CATARKH.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, CATARKHAL DEAFNESS AND HAY FEVER.

The microscope has proved that these discases are contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the internal lining membrace of the upper air passages and custacolant tubes. The eminent scientists, Tyndall, Huxley and Besie, endorse this, and these authorities cannot be disputed. The regular method of treating these discases is to apply an irritant remedy weekly, and eyen daily, thus keeping the delicate membrane in a constant state of irritation, accompanied by violent sneezing, allowing it no chance to heal, and as a natural consequence of such treatment not one permanent cure has ever been recorded. It is an absolute fact that these diseases cannot be cured by any application made oftener than once in two weeks, for the membrane must get a chance to heal before an application is repeated. It is now seven years since Mr. Dixon discovered the parasite in catarrh and formulated his new treatment, and since then his remedy has become a household word in every country where the English language is spoken. Cures effected by nim seven years ago are cures still, there having been no return of the disease.

So highly are these remedies valued, and so great is the demand for them, that ignorant imitators have started up everywhere, pretending to destroy a parasite of which they know nothing, by remedies, the results of the application of which they are equally ignorant, Mr. Dixon's remedy is applied only once in two weeks, and from one to three applications effect a permanent cure in the most aggravated cases. These remedies are a specific for catarrhal troubles peculiar to females.

Mr. Dixon sends a pamphlet describing his new treatment on the receipt of ten cents in stamps. The address is A. H. Dixon & Son, 303 King street west, Toronto, Canada—Scientific American

The Catholic Clergy of Canada are respectfully invited to send for catalogue and prices before awarding contracts. Such has been the increase of business in this special line that we found it necessary some time since to establish a branch offce in Glasgow, Scotland, and we are now e. gaged manufacturing Pews for new Church es in that country and Ireland.
