

MARCH.

THO' tempests roar, or storms arise
And low'ring clouds obscure the skies.
Though nipping frosts, or chilling rains
Or freezing snow, depose the plains.

Tho' Phoebus' rays no more should warm,
And Nature's self should cease to charm.
Yet let Mirth, Wit, and Love be near,
And Spring will reign throughout the year.

Full Moon, 8th Day, 2 h. 21 m. Afternoon.
