Sherlock and "Sir Sherlock."

It is almost certain that no character in fiction created by a living author has become so internationally popular as Sherlock Holmes, the detective. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, in his recent very interesting book of reminiscences, Memories and Adventures, relates how, shortly after he had been knighted, on account of quite another literary work, he received a bill from a tradesman that was correct and businesslike in every detail save that it was made out to "Sir Sherlock Holmes."

"I hope I can stand a joke as well as my neighbors," records Sir Arthur, "but this particular piece of humor seemed rather misplaced, and I wrote sharply upon the subject. In response to my letter there arrived at my hotel a very repentant clerk, who expressed his sorrow at the incident, but kept repeating the phrase, 'I assure you, sir, that it was bona fide!'"

"What do you mean by bona fide?" asked.

"Well, sir," he replied, "my mates in the shop told me that you had been knighted, and that when a man was knighted he changed his name, and that you had taken that one."

"I need not say that my annoyance vanished, and that I laughed as heartily as his pals were probably doing round the corner."

A party of French schoolboys visiting London asked as the first of the sights that they wished to be shown the Baker Street lodgings of the great Sherlock Holmes; but they could not be gratified, since Conan Doyle has always discreetly declined to identify the building. In South America Sherlock is so well known that a convenient new word, based upon his name, has been added to the language; clever bits of offhand deduction are now tersely defined there as "sherlockholmitic."

Letters in praise of Sherlock Holmes or propounding problems for Sherlock Holmes's creator to solve reached him from the four corners of the world, including the Samoan Islands. Robert Louis Stevenson wrote to him from Vaillima.

"He had been retelling some of my Sherlock Holmes yarns to his native servants,—I should not have thought that he needed to draw upon anyone else,—and he complained to me in a comical letter of the difficulty of telling a story when you had to halt every moment to explain what a railway was, what an engineer was, and so forth. He got the story across in spite of all difficulties, and, said he, 'If you could have seen the bright, feverish eyes of Simite, you would have tasted glory!'"

Simite and his comrades accepted all the tales as literally true; they could not be convinced that any story was merely a feat of fancy. But to many more sophisticated admirers the superdetective is little less real—and certainly if he is not true he ought to be!

Secrets of the Snows.

This summer has witnessed one of the greatest exploits of mountaineering ever recorded—the conquest of Mount Logan, the highest peak in Canada, which rises to a height of over 19,000 feet.

The Canadian Alpine Club expedition, which triumphed over all obstacles and reached the summit of Mount Logan, originally consisted of eight members, but two of them had to abandon the attempt because of frost-bite and general exhaustion before attaining their goal.

Almost incredible hardships were suffered by the conquerors of Mount Logan, who spent forty-four days entirely on ice in getting to the summit and back again. Each man of the party had to pack about seventy pounds over two hundred miles of ridge and glacier. Dangerous storms were encountered, especially on the return journey, and only the most heroic efforts averted loss of life.

On the last lap of the ascent, when the party reached what they believed to be the highest point of the mountain, they found yet another peak towering above them. To attain this they had to descend a thousand feet into a valley between the two peaks before again beginning to climb.

This final peak was heart-breaking work, as the party had to make progress up a steep snow and ice slope, terminating in a knife area that led to the summit. The temperature when they gained the top was four degrees below zero.

"Leaves" of gold and nickel have now been made by a German scientist, so thin that it would require 2,500,000 of them to measure an inch in thickness.

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE CAN NOW FIND RELIEF

By Driving the Poisonous Acid From the System.

Rheumatism attacks people when the blood is thin and watery, or charged with impurities, thus setting up inflammation of the muscles and joints. Cold, wet weather or sharp winds may start the pains, but the cause is rooted in the blood and to get relief it must be treated through the blood. As a blood builder and nerve tonic Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed, and for that reason do not fail to give relief to rheumatic sufferers when given a fair trial. Among the rheumatic sufferers who have proved the great value of this medicine is Mrs. Simeon J. Tatton, Indian Head, Sask., who says:—"For over two years I was an intense sufferer from rheumatism and until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills no treatment that I took helped me any. The trouble grew so bad that I could not move around the house without help, and finally I had to give up and go to bed. Words cannot tell how much I suffered, and I could not bear to have anyone come near me. Finally one of my neighbors strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to do so. In the course of a few weeks I could feel an improvement, and I was able to get up. I kept on taking the pills until all traces of the trouble were gone, and I could again do my housework, feeling like a new person. Three years have passed since that and there has never been the slightest return of the trouble, so that I feel safe in saying that the relief brought by this medicine is permanent."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SICKNESS HEALED BY SPIRITUAL MEANS

Christian Science Lecturer Claims No Incurable Disease.

The Christian Science lecturer radiocast from Massey Hall, Toronto, gave many an opportunity to hear for the first time something authentic about the subject.

After half a century of growth the claims of Christian Science that spiritual healing is today practical is being recognized by material systems of healing and by the older churches. The lecturer, Robert Stanley Ross, of New York, spoke in part as follows:—"Christian Science is demonstrating that it is the Christianity of Jesus made practicable to-day. Now, as of old, it is showing mankind how to escape from all evil. No matter how long one has been ill, no matter how deeply one may be involved in sin, no matter how heavy one's burden of sorrow, poverty, or care, Christian Science joyfully points the way out,—not through death and the so-called hereafter, but here and now. The Bible tells us that the kingdom of God, the kingdom of heaven, is at hand, here, now; and that now is the day of salvation; that now are we the sons of God."

All of us know that an ugly disposition (which is a mental state) will manifest itself in harsh, unlovely features (supposedly a physical state); whereas a gentle disposition (which is a mental state) will manifest itself in a smiling and serene countenance. Some one has well said that if fear, irritability, and hate will distort the features, they will distort likewise the heart, stomach, and liver. Why not? Jesus recognized clearly that it is not mere food which disarranges the human system, but fear, sensuality, hate, and other poisonous, destructive beliefs.

Writing on page 248 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy says: "Let unselfishness, goodness, mercy, justice, health, holiness, love—the kingdom of heaven—reign within us, and sin, disease, and death will diminish until they finally disappear." All of which indicates that mortals are healthy or unhealthy, happy or unhappy, strong or weak, alive or dead, in the proportion that their thinking is good or bad, spiritual or material. Centuries ago the wise man said: "As he (a man) thinketh in his heart, so he is."

In the sight of infinite Love there are no incurable diseases; there never have been any, there never will be any. The Psalmist knew this when he sang: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases." Note well that it reads all thine iniquities and all thy diseases, not some of them.

How Glasses Affect Features.

A well known oculist declares that more people are wearing glasses to-day than ever before. Too many people who are obliged to wear glasses do so without a thought as to the effect particular shapes will have upon their appearance.

Before purchasing glasses some attention should be paid to facial characteristics. The person with a long, straight nose should hesitate before buying glasses with an arched bridge-piece, as this will appear to lengthen the nose.

Those with Roman noses can improve their profile by having glasses with a low bridge and side clips adjusted so that the skin above the bridge is pulled slightly downwards. This slackens the skin above the length of the nose and appears to reduce the curvature.

A person with tip-titled nose who is desirous of straightening it should wear pince-nez and not spectacles. The latter serve only to pull at the bridge and still further elevate the tip of the nose.

Glasses can be made to alter, or appear to alter, the whole form of the face. Any dark, horizontal lines—such as well defined eyebrows—across the oval of the face will seem to shorten its length. For this reason a long-visaged person should wear narrow spectacles with heavy rims and a straight bridge-piece.

Apart from personal taste it would seem advisable to wear pince-nez in preference to spectacles, as the ear-bars of the latter cast shadows which add age to one's appearance by emphasizing the wrinkles at the corners of the eyes. The thickness of the rims affects the appearance of the face. Generally speaking, the darker the rim the smaller the face appears. A full face is made to appear thinner when heavily rimmed glasses are worn.

MAKE CARE OF BABIES EASIER

Baby's Own Tablets Are a Great Help to Mothers of Young Children.

Stomach disturbances and constipation are responsible for much of the peevishness of babies. The modern mother does not resort to so-called soothing mixtures but corrects the trouble by sweetening the little stomach and giving a gentle laxative that acts without gripping. Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets, easy to take and guaranteed to be free from opiates or narcotics.

Every mother who tries Baby's Own Tablets becomes enthusiastic about them. Mrs. Oscar Anger, Holyoke, Mass., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and think them a splendid medicine for constipation and other ailments which affect little ones. I have no hesitation in recommending them to other mothers." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet, "Care of the Baby in Health and Sickness," will be sent free to any mother on request.

Cupid and a Camera.

Dr. C. W. Sanborn, of San Francisco, is not likely to speak well of the camera now that photography has given him the surprise of his life.

According to his report the doctor had a breach of promise suit for $100,000 brought against him by Miss Beatrice Lichtendorf, a Chicago typist. The doctor had fallen in love with Miss Lichtendorf, but he was a cautious wooer. To each of the letters he wrote her he appended a postscript requesting her to return the missing after she had read it. This she did.

But she also pursued businesslike methods, and when the doctor declared that he had never proposed marriage to her she produced photographic copies of love letters in some of which he spoke of marriage!

MRS. B. H. HART SICK FOR YEARS

Wants Women to Know How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"Cornwall, Ontario.—'I am now giving your medicine a fair trial and it surely is doing me good and I am going to keep on taking it. I used to feel so tired in the morning that I didn't want to get up, but that feeling is leaving me now. I also sleep better and feel more like working. For seven or eight years I have had headaches, tired feelings, pains in my back and across my body. I read letters in the newspapers saying what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done others. My husband says I quit too soon, but I am not going to stop taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine until I am better and haven't an ache or a pain. Isn't that the right way? I have great faith in your medicines. They must be good when those who take them speak so highly of them. I am recommending them to my friends and I will gladly answer letters from women asking about them.'—Mrs. BURT H. HART, Box 1081, Cornwall, Ontario.

Mrs. Hart wants to help other women and is willing to answer letters from sick women asking about the Vegetable Compound.

Increase Poultry Profits by Marketing Co-operatively

THE Western Wheat Producers, the Ontario honey men and others, have made co-operative selling a marked success. They have stabilized prices and increased their profits by standardized grading and shipping methods, and applying efficient salesmanship and real merchandising to the disposal of their crops. By these methods the poultry producers, too, can secure these benefits.

The outstanding proof of this is Prince Edward Island, where, for the last thirteen years, expert and efficient salesmanship applied to co-operative marketing, has saved thousands of dollars annually for the poultry farmers and permanently stabilized their markets.

Naturally, to be successful, co-operative marketing must be handled efficiently. How to form and operate successfully a local organization is detailed in the FREE booklet, "Co-operation in Marketing Poultry Products," issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. This is one of over five hundred helpful pamphlets on farm subjects. To obtain your copy, send a complete list of FREE pamphlets, fill in this slip, and return it post free to
