SCHOOL BOARD TO RECONSIDER

vote on the question of large expenditures. Mr. W. R. McCreary again addressed the Council as to the Carwell Company's guarantee and said the proposal meant a year's delay. Ald. Fisher did not think there would be any saving in delay in construction, but as there was only about six months of time, the delay might bring harmony. Ald. Fisher thought the school board should have looked into the question of giving the contract to a Belleville contractor. The Board was not itself a unit in favor of building the school. Mr. McCreary - "If something is not done, the school board will be coming before you asking for some thousands of dollars for makeshifts." Ald. Ostrom - said there was a possibility that the very lull in the trade would make it better for the work to be gone on with at once. "We'll keep the matter open until next Monday." Ald. Treverton (in the chair) stated that six months would likely settle the difficulties. Ald. Treverton - "You know we meant the six months hold in Committee." Ald. Woodley said the committee's report was a compromise. Ald. French - "The majority agreed on the six months 'hold'." Ald. Woodley - There is no use telling us that. The report was for a compromise. Ex-Alderman Robinson who circulated one of the petitions against the school and Chairman Arthur McGie of the Board of Education on behalf of the construction of the school, addressed council when the session opened. "We of the School Board are pressing for the building of the school to have it ready by the end of the year," said Mr. McGie. "Those opposed are thinking only in dollar and cents. Some say the cost of building will be higher next year." Mr. W. R. McCreary declared the first payment would not mature until 1922. Mr. Hagelin, of the Carswell Construction Company, said the Company had figured on six months and three weeks to do the job. They were prepared to enter into an agreement to perform the job well within the time asked for. "The only men we will bring from Toronto are the superintendent and timekeeper. We save money by bringing local men." Increases in tax since tender was made will cost the company about $3,000 already. Ald. Wensley - Some of the council want to stand on one foot and then on another. I am in favor of the school being built at once. Mr. Sprackett, a heavy taxpayer expressed himself in favor of immediate construction. Ald. Adams - "I don't think either petition should be considered." Mayor Hanna - "The desire was to give the six months' hold. That recommendation I wrote out as I saw there was not a sufficient number to carry the school by-law." Ald. Fisher suggested an amendment to leave the matter over till Thursday night but this was not taken up.
