T makes me wholly laugh, et do, thet on'y t'other day Folk uster think my boys wuz trash, "Bin brought up bad," they'd say, Jest 'cos th' lads wuz careless like an' right down fond o' fun, A-stampin' on th' clouds o' life, an' squeezin' out th' sua; But now they've gone a-sojerin', uz they'd a call t' do, Et's "Reckon O'd be peacock-proud o' them ef I wug vou."

Th' parson often wagged a warnin' finger in my face, An, hinted they wuz bringin' all th' parish t' disgrace; He'd blow his pink old cheeks out wi' a solemn sort o' look In prophesyin' sorrow when them lads wuz brought t' book : But now Jim's got "For Valour" parson's somehow changed his corn. Et's "Allus thought they'd turn out well, them big, brave sons o' yourn." They wuz "Rascals fit for hangin'," an' a lot o' other things

When th' squire got silly notions 'bout his rabbits takin' wings, An' I wuz "wuss than they, heaps," as I wentured t' remark, That "'haps twuz on'y glow-worms they wuz arter in th' dark"; But now they'ye gone t' Flanders wi' their bay'nets an' their guns, Et's "Britain can't boast better chaps than your three strappin' sons.'

I ain't a puttin' on no airs as though O'd got th' right; I ain't a-walkin' on my heels like some boys' mothers might, But O'm chuck full o' 'musement at th' nods uz come my way. 'Cos them three lads-" bin brought up bad "-are fust-class men t'day; They may be heroes an' the rest, uz they're made out t' be, But they're jest my own lumpin 'boys, rapscallions, 'haps t' me!

Experience has proven the great advantage of Pedlar's "Perfect" Culverts, which are highly economical, very durable, easy to haul, readily installed, always ready, and can be used under the same conditions for which concrete, wood pipe and similar materials are employed.

Made exclusively in heavy gauges of corrugated, anti-corrosive Toncan Metal. For municipal and industrial purposes, as pavement construction on right-of-way, municipal and country road work, for street gutters, sewers, level crossing-approaches, and for railway work, for drainage and irrigation it is exceptionally satisfactory.

Five Big Rooms, Well Arranged

On the first floor the large living room extends clear across the front of the house, although at the left as one enters there is a stair landing and at the right a large fireplace flanked with built-in book-cases. The dining room is arranged with a beamed ceiling and with twin buffets i the rear corners of the room, with a window seat under the centre case ment window, looking out upon the back garden.

On the second floor there are two bedrooms with large storage closets and the bathroom. The basement is divided lengthwise through the centre, the first room, into which the stairs decend from the kitcken, being used for laundry purposes and the storage of vegetables, from which a door opens into a furnace room, with a separate room partitioned off at the rear for fuel storage. The ash chute from the living room fireplace comes down into
