CONSERVATIVE SLOGAN

nada to go just one step forward and pay ten-tenths for that railway and own and operate the whole road.

A Knock-Down Query?

Will any Liberal tell me if Government operation is good from Quebec to Montreal? It is not good from Montreal to Georgian Bay?

We have been told by Mr. Blair that the only way to make the Intercolonial Railway pay is to extend it to the Georgian Bay. That is our policy.

Why cannot we free the Intercolonial Railway from political interference? If the Conservative party is returned to power we will free that railway from partisan politics and political interference. In Europe, Government railways have been made a success and I'm slow to believe that we in Canada are so incapable or so partisan as not to make a success of Government ownership of railways as they do in Europe.

The Wish of the People.

If it is the wish of the people of Canada, expressed by their voice at the polls, that the transcontinental railway shall be a national railway, then the Conservative party will place such legislation on the statute book of this country.

The motto of the Grand Trunk Company in constructing the railway seems to be "No Canadians need apply." We don't want our labor to compete with the pauper labor of the United States. We stand for that grand old national policy which was laid down by Sir John A. Macdonald.

The policy of the Liberal party in the west is laid down in a pamphlet. It is directly opposed to the policy of protection. If that be the issue we are prepared to accept it.

Adequate Protection.

The policy of the Conservative party in respect to the transcontinental railway in the west as it is in the east. Our is a policy of adequate protection for the industries of this country.

The British preference was hailed as a proof of the loyalty of the Liberal party, but in reality it was the result of a compromise between the two warring factions in the Cabinet in respect to the tariff.

The Conservative party is ready to negotiate with the mother country and the sister nations for the consummation of this great policy (Chamberlain). Our policy on this question is a policy of inaction on the part of the Liberals.

Government On Trial.

It isn't Lord Dundonald who is on trial; it is the Government of Canada. Was Lord Dundonald right when he said that the efficiency of the militia was impaired by the interference of politicians? Lord Dundonald is a man who believes in a citizen soldiery and not in militarism.

Let us believe that the votes are counted as they are deposited. I am not charging these crimes against the rank and file of the Liberal party, but against the machinists on behalf of the Liberal Government who are willing to accept the returns. Remember the machine first belonged to the Conservative party.

Let me admit that the very best service you can perform to the country is that you turn us out of power the very first time we are found untrue to pledges we have given.

Mr. Foster and Mr. Whitney.

Short speeches were delivered by Hon. George E. Foster and Mr. J. P. Whitney, and the meeting closed with cheers for the King, Mr. Borden and Mr. Whitney.

MOVING ON RUSSIANS

Frequent Fights Between Japs and Cossacks Show It.

Col. Goodke, a Berlin Correspondent At Mukden, Declares, However, That Oyama Is Preparing For Defensive Operations—Japanese Said to Be Stirring Up Agitation Among the Chinese Against the Russians—Cavalry Active.

London, Oct. 5.—Frequent fighting between Japanese advance guards and Cossacks on the south front of Gen. Kuropatkin's army, reported in despatches to the Russian War Office, is regarded as indicative of the near approach of a general forward movement by the forces of Field Marshal Oyama, but Colonel Goodke, The Berlin Tageblatt's correspondent in the Far East, telegraphs from Mukden that the Japanese are apparently no longer advancing, but are preparing for defensive operations. It is estimated that since the battle of Liaoyang 40,000 of the guards stationed in Western Russia have been ordered to the Far East. No word has been received as to the condition of affairs at Port Arthur.

Japs and the Chinese.

Reports have reached here from official sources that many Japanese have appeared recently in the big centres of northern China and they have begun an agitation, the result of which it is feared may precipitate disorders in the case of Russian successes in Manchuria, which might lead to the intervention of the powers. It is said here that Russia is anxious to avoid such intervention.

Dispersed the Japanese.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Gen. Sakharoff, dated Oct. 3: "At dawn of Oct. 1 a squadron of Japanese cavalry twice attempted to break through the line of advantage posts of Cossacks of the guard in the district between Kuan-kuan and Fengtiapu. Both attempts were unsuccessful. Two soldiers of cavalry reinforced the advantage posts and the Japanese dispersed."

Russian Cavalry Pursues.

Toward noon the same day one battalion of the Japanese advance guard with two or three squadrons of cavalry renewed the offensive movement against a regiment of Cossacks. The firing lasted until nightfall. Gen. Mischkenko sent reinforcements to the aid of the Cossacks, and towards evening the enemy was repulsed at all points, the whole line retreating toward Sialonkhetzy, pursued by our cavalry.

Took Japs Prisoners.

"One Russian patrol dispersed two Japanese patrols in the vicinity of Tchi-jantan on the right bank of the Hun River, taking three Japanese prisoners."

"Another Russian patrol sent in an easterly direction discovered Tawang-hau Pass occupied by 200 Chinese bandits commanded by Japanese officers. During the reconnaissance, one Cossack was killed."

SCOUTS ENCOUNTER CAVALRY.

Japanese Retired After Inflicting Loss Upon Enemy.

Tokio, Oct. 5.—The following official report has been issued: "The Manchurian headquarters reports by telegraph that a body of scouts sent by our advance detachment on Oct. 2, consisting of a company of infantry and a troop of cavalry, attacked and routed a detachment of the enemy's cavalry, sixty strong, occupying Paoshing-tung, 13 miles north of Liaoyang and nine

THE O. O. I. LITERARY AND DEBATING SOCIETY

The first regular meeting of this Society was held yesterday afternoon in the room of Form 3A, President B. Bedford occupying the chair. Miss Olive Fletcher, Secretary, read the minutes of the organization meeting of last week.

The subject, "Resolved that a monarchical system of government is better than a republican system," was ably debated by J. B. Lawrence and W. G. McGeorge, affirmative; Misses Mary I. Oliver and Annie White negative. The judges gave their decision in favor of the affirmative. As a fitting conclusion to the debate, a clever essay in the form of a letter, after the manner of Jane Welsh Carlyle, was read. It was written by Florence Dunlop, and being in a humorous vein, it sent the Society into convulsions of laughter. D. S. Paterson acted as critic.

This year the Society will have a "branch" in each Form, which will meet weekly or fortnightly in charge of the English masters. Monthly meetings of the whole society will be held, when enter-form debates will be the order. This plan was followed a few years ago and proved to be very successful.

miles west of the Mukden road. While further reconnoitring in the vicinity a force of Russian cavalry 330 strong attacked the Japanese scouts. After fighting for some time the Japanese returned. The enemy's loss was about thirty. We sustained no casualties. The state of affairs at the front of our army remains unchanged."

Only Fifty Miles to Be Completed.

Tokio, Oct. 5.—Two hundred and twenty-two miles of the Seoul-Fusan Railway have been laid, leaving fifty miles for completion. The Seoul-Wiju Railway is progressing rapidly as also is the De Colville line from Kiu-Lien-Cheng to Feng-Wang-Cheng, whence it will be prolonged next spring to Liaoyang.

No Cause For Alarm.

Pekin, Oct. 5.—Further information regarding the unrest in the north-western part of Shantung Province is of a reassuring nature. The British Legation is of the opinion that there is no cause for anxiety.

Undergoing Hardships.

London, Oct. 5.—Despatches from the Lhasa expedition state that the Chinese amban signed the Anglo-Tibetan treaty without having received the necessary permission from the Chinese Government. The expedition, these advices say, is undergoing great hardships in its march towards India.

Canadian Exhibits.

London, Oct. 5.—(C.A.P.)—The display of Canadian fruits and vegetables at the dairy show attracts much attention. The statue of King Edward, made entirely of compressed maple sugar, excited admiration.

... THE HOUSE OF QUALITY ...

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon or make a better mouse-trap, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—EMERSON.

In other words, superiority, like truth, is mighty, and will prevail. We are selling the BETTER CLOTHING, and true to the prophetic lines of Emerson, the world is making a beaten path to our door. We were never satisfied when we sold clothing "just as good." That availed us little, though it kept us alive. But it was not until we produced the "better" and the "best" that the potency of the Emersonian philosophy burst upon us with full force.

If you haven't found the path, you will. It is only a question of time.

New Method Overcoats

It's a luxury to wear New Method Overcoats. There's a style, an elegance, an exclusiveness about them that can't be equalled at their price—nor bettered at any price.

It's economy to wear New Method Overcoats, because they hold their shapeliness and good looks—because they give more service and satisfaction than any other garment you can buy.
