About two weeks ago, Francis Sery of Kincridice, on his way from Saugeen to this place, found on the beach a dead body, supposed to be a sailor, so much disfigured by birds of pray that he could not say what age the man might have been. He had on a striped shirt, plain oil-cloth coat, lines pantaloons, pair of low shees, with a piece of small cord tied round one shoe, also a cord around his waist—no whiskers, but beard Red, 4s 3d a 4s 4d. The California News.—We give in to-day's issue copious details from our. Pacific files, received by the Empire City. They will be found to be of a highly interesting character. In regard to the Gold preduct, the accounts are as favorable as could be expected, and more so than those by the last arrival. The waters were lower, and the hard labor of the miners appears to be well rewarded. The mist of exaggeration is being gradually cleared away, and the true position of affairs in California can now be more casily ascertained. It is evident that the supply of gold in the auriferous deposite, although not incharacteristic. It is evident that the supply of gold in the auriferous deposite, although not incharacteristic. It is evident that the supply of gold in the auriferous deposite, and that hard labor in the dry and wet diggings is well repaid. Fortunes are not found in every pocket, and, as in all lands, some are unfortunate or unlucky. The movement toward the formation of a State Constitution is proceeding, and a decidedly Anti-Forting or the digging and have constitution is proceeding, and a decidedly Anti-Forting and the foreigners do not seem to have been experienced, and the removal of these "outside barbarians" from the diggings has been partially at least, accomplished without resort to actual violence.

The indications of a high regard for law and program on the citizens of California are confirmed by this arrival, and those dissolute characters who have flocked to the Pacific expecting immunity for all their crimes, meet a more stringent justice than they left at home.—New York Tribune.

A considerable handle is made by the Tory Press, of the fact, that the government has refused to pay over to the Districts of the Prevince, the Agricultural Societies' and Common School monies. We think, that the administration is unjustly assailed in this respect. The Pilot some time since, we believe, explained the reason why these monies were withheld. The government pays out money grants &c., as Districts do claims upon them. The claims are paid in order, and some require to wait until others before them on the list are satisfied. The government arrangements are until others before them on the list are satisfied. The government arrangements are similar, and because it refuses to pay some claims before their time, a rapid hue and cry fe raised against it. We should not be my care, which he can have by calling for it cry is raised against it. We should not be surprised at the administration being abused for paying the claims when ready to do so.
