Murder as a Fine Art,

OR HOW THEY "CROAKED" ROSENTHAL.

(The New York American.)

I. Rosenthal, gambler and criminal, "squealed." He told how Police Lieut. Becker, in charge of a police squad, became his partner, how he had shared his profits, how they finally quarrelled. Rosenthal next made trouble for Becker among other gamblers. Becker then tried to drive him out of New York. Lieutenant Becker kept a policeman within the doors of Rosenthal's dwelling, 24 hours a day, in night-hour watches, for 90 consecutive days and nights. This was not execution of the law. It was lawless police oppression. Rosenthal was not ever under indictment.

II.

On the 90th day of this oppression the worm, Rosenthal, turned. He talked to the newspapers. His charges were corroborated in part by public records. He said Lieutenant Becker loaned him $1,500 and had taken 20 per cent. of the gambling profits. Becker had assigned Jack Rose, he said, to deal in Rosenthal's house and to collect for Lieutenant Becker.

III.

A chattel mortgage securing this $1,500, loaned to Rosenthal, was drawn by Lawyer Robert H. Hibbard, of 22 Broadway. The money was taken to the lawyer's office by Rose, Becker's man. Lawyer Hibbard tells the grand jury he heard that Becker, and not Rose, furnished the money, but he did not know. Hibbard, the lawyer, had acted for Lieutenant Becker's wife and for Becker's brothers in other transactions.

IV.

Rosenthal's charges led Commissioner Waldo to telegraph to District Attorney Whitman at Newport, asking him to investigate them. Mr. Whitman returns by the next train to New York and hears Rosenthal's story. Rosenthal promises to produce the next day six or seven other gamblers to corroborate his charges. Even while Whitman is listening to Rosenthal's story the police are busy collecting evidence to drive Rosenthal out of town. The chief police agent in getting this evidence is Lieutenant Becker's friend, Jack Rose.

Rose goes to Rosenthal's first wife, Dora Gilbert, now living an exemplary life at 151 East 27th street. She is forced to tell a long, revolting, hideous story and swear to it—1,500 words—for use as a weapon against Rosenthal. Rose does this. News of this affidavit is sent to Rosenthal.

V.

But Rosenthal, though a gambler and a criminal, seems not to have been a coward. He announced that he would tell District Attorney Whitman all he knew about the police the next morning and would produce six witnesses to corroborate him.

VI.

What does Lieut. Becker's friend Rose next do? He acts promptly. He engages automobile No. 41,313, owned by Libby & Shapiro, two confidants of gamblers. It goes first to Pugilist Starkey's saloon, on East 14th street, near Third avenue, where it picks up two men with Rose. Thence it goes up town to "Bridgy" Webber's gambling house, northwest corner of Sixth avenue and 42nd street, where Rose leaves the automobile and enters Webber's alone at midnight. Auto 41,313 then goes up town to Rose's brother's house, in West 145th street, where it picks up two more men, names unknown. The auto then speeds down Broadway to Longacre square, turns east into 43rd street and stops a few doors east of Broadway, near the Metropole.

VII.

Rosenthal has been called to the Metropole. He sits in the cafe at 12:30 a.m.—waiting. He smokes, but does not drink. He sits—waiting. Finally some one who knows him well enters and says: "Hello, Herman."

Cured of Piles After 20 Years

Many people have got the impression that piles can only be cured by a surgical operation, with all the attendant suffering, risk and expense. There is an easier way, by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. John M. Bates, gardener, St. Laurent, Que., writes:—"I had piles for twenty years, and tried all kinds of ointments and medicines, but they did me no good. It was getting worse and suffering more from the dreadful itching all the time. I used three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and to-day I am perfectly cured. There has not been a sign of the old trouble for six months, and it leaves me in perfect health to-day, whereas I was in agony for about twenty years. I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a positive cure for piles."

Wherever there is itching skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with positive assurance that the results will be entirely satisfactory. 60c a box, at all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

some one at the door wants to speak to you." As he crosses the threshold in the glowing white light of Broadway—the street that knows no night—four men surrounded him and he is shot dead. Automobile 41,313, with both side doors left open by the assistants, waits half a block away. The assistants return to it and speed away. Not even the number of the car is taken by policemen, five of whom were there within fifteen seconds. District Attorney Whitman says after investigation: "Not even a serious effort to pursue the murderers was made."

IX.

But Bridgy Webber, whose house, three blocks away, Rose had entered barely an hour before, is near the Metropole, and is one of the first to "hear" of the assassination, and he slips around the corner—possibly back to his own house—to report to Rose what the assassins did and how they did it.

X.

Two innocent bystanders had, however, caught the number of the assassins' auto. One of them went to the 47th street station, reported the number and was locked up for his trouble, and the number was put down erroneously on the police blotter by the officer in charge. The other witness, Cope, gave the number of the auto to the reporters, and so it got out! The arrest of the chauffeur and owner of the car then speedily followed.

XI.

It transpired 24 hours later that Lieut. Becker's friend Rose had hired the car. Was Rose then hunted by the police like a dangerous wild animal? Was a general alarm sent out for his arrest? No. It was not necessary. The police knew exactly where he was. Lieut. Becker slipped to Far Rockaway. Rose was there. Or in seclusion. Commissioner Dougherty's official statement put it: "We sent word to Rose to come to Police Headquarters." Rose marched up to police headquarters yesterday, alone and unframed.

He is now at the Tombs.

The gambler, Rosenthal is dead—and buried—where he can tell no more tales.

Backs the Suggestion.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir:—A writer in yesterday morning's News suggests that the Football League or the St. George's Field Co., or whoever controls the fund, devote some of the large amount of money that they hold to the Marine Distress Fund.

This I consider a very thoughtful suggestion and one if acted upon will meet with the approval of the entire community.

As the fund raised by football is said to be in the neighbourhood of Four Thousand dollars, and as it is very noticeable that the game of football is one the wane, I see no reason why a substantial subscription from the said fund might not be handed over to this deserving object of charity, more especially when we take into consideration that one of the Erna's victims had been a prominent football player for years.

Come, Messrs. Chaplin and Higgins kindly give this important matter your earnest attention and help the widows and orphans of these terrible disasters in this hour of trouble.

Sincerely yours,
ANOTHER SYMPATHISER.

Pleasant Picnics Yesterday.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

Yesterday the children attending the Sunday School Classes of the Mrs. C. of E. Cathedral and St. Michael's had their annual picnic at Mr. Healy's farm, Freshwater Road. All were conveyed to and from the field by various kinds of equipages, and on arrival on the green were served with candy and cake, and then indulged in frolic and fun and games of various kinds. Dinner was served later and with appetites sharpened by the country air the little ones did justice to the excellent viands prepared. After dinner games of various kinds, racing and scrambling were the order of the day, and when the shades of evening gathered, the children though tired were happy and showed that they thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The teachers worked assiduously for the enjoyment of all and their efforts were crowned with success. The clergymen of the Cathedral and Rev. J. Brinton, of St. Michael's, were present and encouraged all present to enjoy themselves.

ST. MARY'S.

The children of St. Mary's Sunday School Classes to the number of 250 enjoyed their annual picnic yesterday at Mount Pearl. They proceeded there by a special train at 12:30 p.m., and the field and all accessories for an enjoyable outing had been made ready by Mr. B. Churchill, Supt. of the School. On arrival at the grounds the children entered with zest into sports and games of various kinds which were conducted until dinner was announced and then the little ones enjoyed themselves discussing the excellent menu prepared. Quite a number of adults were present, and the teachers including the young ladies of the Bible Class did their utmost to ensure an enjoyable day to the youthful participants. Revs. Uphill, Cogan and Rev. Mr. Higgett and wife were present, and when the special train came back to the station at 5 p.m. the happy little ones cheered these and the good teachers for the very enjoyable day afforded them.

GEORGE STREET.

The Sunday School children of George Street were given their annual picnic at Mount Pearl yesterday. The day being fine hundreds left the city by special train for the field where the picnic was held. Tents, swinging ropes and other apparatus for the amusement of the children were there. An appetizing lunch was served on the grounds by the teachers in charge. Amongst the large crowd present were the Pastor, Rev. Mr. Moody, Rev. Dr. Fenwick and Rev. Peter Legrow.

Regatta Meeting.

To-morrow night the Regatta Committee will meet in the T. A. Armoury when all intending crews will enter. To date it is estimated that there are sixty crews practising and if all these hand in their names to-morrow night the Committee will have a busy time of it.

The C. L. B. Crew are the favorites so far in the Brigade Race, having made the best time.

The Torbay fishermen had their first spin in the Togo last evening and proved to be again likely winners. There are two changes from last year's crew.
