Some Cases for the S.P.C.C.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Enthusiasm is a wonderful thing. It puts the shine into sunshine and it helps love with its task of making this old world of ours go round. A few unfortunate people seem to absolutely lack enthusiasm from birth, and go through life lack-lustre creatures, not much to themselves or any one else—except probably their mothers.

The average human being, however, is born with a goodly stock of enthusiasm. And yet the average grown person has little. Why is it? Partly because life itself, and the process of growing up, just naturally squeezes a lot of enthusiasm out of us. But partly because people who have lost their own enthusiasm deliberately try to rob others of theirs. I emphasize that because, although it is not a legal crime, I think it is just as bad as many which are on the statute books. And worse still, who do you think are among the most flagrant offenders? Mothers and fathers. Yes, I mean it. They who must know what a wonderful key to happiness and effectiveness enthusiasm is, and therefore ought to cherish their children's enthusiasm with all tenderness, are frequently guilty of doing just the opposite.

For instance, a neighbor of mine has a son about eight years old who is the most enthusiastic bunch of energy I ever saw. Almost every day that boy breaks out with some new scheme—

Household Notes.

When a fabric loses its color in washing, it may frequently be restored by sponging the material with ammonia and water. If this fails, vinegar may be effective.

Pecan and English walnut meats, chopped and halved and laid over the top of a pumpkin pie just before it goes into the oven make fine seasoning, rich and well-flavored.

A rich puff paste, baked in strips about an inch wide and two or three inches long, is very good in sandwiches. Guava jelly and whipped cream are used for filling.

Paint stains may be removed from woolen fabrics by rubbing with turpentine. If the stains are old and do not respond to this treatment, add ammonia to the turpentine.

Some housewives always make their iron holders of marble cloth, using suitable material for interlining. The advantage is that they may always be wiped off when soiled.

When postcard photographs curl and become brittle, rub them over with a cloth dipped in a cupful of water to which a teaspoonful of glycerine has been added to soften them.

A thin coat of potash left on the sink overnight once a week will remove the ugly yellow stains that will not yield to kerosene. It should be applied with care, as it is poisonous.

The best thing to dust furniture is a large, soft paint brush which has been dipped in olive oil and squeezed almost dry. This will take up every bit of dust without sending it flying about.

Housekeepers who get butter in the jar or tub will find that the use of a little charcoal will insure having the butter sweet. The charcoal is placed in a paper bag and then put into the jar.

When the mayonnaise separates in the making, add a little of the white of the egg and continue adding the other ingredients. In almost every case the separation will be overcome.

An apple pie made without the upper crust is a pleasing change. Line

Varicose Veins and Itching Piles

Usually Arise From Same Cause—
Relief and Cure Effected by Dr.
Chase's Ointment.

Nearly everybody knows of Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most effective treatment for piles or hemorrhoids that medical science has been able to compound. So much suffering and misery arises from this ailment that one is not long in telling his friends when he has found an actual cure. This accounts for the enormous sales of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

This letter tells of relief from the suffering of varicose veins by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Many suffer from this trouble not knowing the comfort to be obtained by the use of this great soothing ointment.

Mrs. R. J. Evans, 187 Munro street, Toronto, writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years. I have been troubled with varicose veins, and find it the only thing that gives relief. For every purpose when a soothing, healing ointment is needed there is nothing so good as Dr. Chase's Ointment." 60 cents a box all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Road Repairing.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I wish to ask if the Government organs, or some one in authority, or in the knowledge will inform us of St. John's East, what kind of a game they are playing in the giving out of, or seeing to, this road repairing in this district? Will they, or some one, inform us who is in authority in this work down here? Is it Inspector Liddy, or Inspector Parsons, or is it any one particular individual? And, Mr. Editor, the story is going the rounds down here that there's a row in the camp and that one Kelly, an ex or super-numerary auctioneer, and, besides, mail clerk, at the Government's beck, is waiting to be told to go on and take up the job of East End Road Inspector. Now that seems so strange to us how a man without the slightest idea of road building, or repairing, should be even thought of for the position, or that he would have the cheek to accept it if offered to him. And while all this humbugging is going on, what is our position? Parsons comes along and starts work on a piece of road and when you go to the office to see Parsons you find the other man Liddy in full charge, and there is no Parsons there, and to find Parsons you must go to the Board of Works office, which makes it seem as though the otherwise genial Road Inspectors have not two minds with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one, no more than their masters, the governing body have. Then again comes in the squandering propensity of the most reckless crew of grabbals and spend-thrifts, or wastrels that ever got possession of a country's finances. Just think of it, two road inspectors, and one pensioned ex-inspector, and a marine works inspector, at a big pay, all doing what was the work of one man, the now pensioned inspector. Oh, Mr. Editor, there is any one with a slight sense of fair dealings, or a heart-beat of patriotism, but will decide and say, 'tis time to turn the rascals out.

Yours truly,

AN EXTERN MAN.

St. John's East, July 1st, 1913.

Made Him Nervous.

In a churchyard an old man, deep in thought, sat on a flat tombstone. It had been raining, and all the trees looked fresh and green. A tramp, passing by, made a remark on the weather.

"Grand morning!"

"Yes," said the old man.

"Just the sort of weather to make things spring up," said the tramp.

"Hush! Hush!" said the old man.

"I've got three wives buried here!"
