In Truro Man Hoed Potatoes While Boy Drowned--In Middleton Mrs. Artz Lost Her Life in Saving Neighbor's Child

Hoed Potatoes While Boy Drowned

Truro, July 15.—At the inquest concerning the drowning of George Langille here yesterday, one of the boy's companions testified that he ran when Langille sank out of sight to the fifty yards away and told a man named Clarke and another that young Langille was in the water. Clarke told him he couldn't help it, that he hadn't been in the water for years and was not sure he could swim now. He told the boys to run to town and tell the Chief of Police. The man made no offer to go near to where the boy was, but kept on hoeing potatoes. The witness said he and the other boys made every effort to bring Langille out of the hole. One of them went down and caught hold of him, and the latter clung so hard to his legs that both were near to death. He brought the drowning lad home and the boy could not keep him up. It was nearly two hours before help arrived from town, a distance of about two miles. The depth of water was about ten feet. A young man named Nolan succeeded in diving to the bottom and releasing the dead boy's grasp from the rocks.

Sad Accident at Middleton

While some little girls were in the river a short distance below the bridge Saturday noon, Mrs. W. B. Artz sat on the bank to watch them. One little girl, a daughter of L. S. Shaffer, fell, and Mrs. Artz rushed to save her, and fell either from cramp or the rough bottom tripped her, and she remained under water until drowned. The water was not more than a few feet deep, but the bottom is stony. The little girls got ashore all right and gave the alarm. Everything possible was done to resuscitate her, but to no avail. She leaves a husband and four small children to mourn their loss. Mrs. Artz was a woman of kindly disposition, favorably known and will be much missed. The body was interred in the Pine Grove cemetery on Sunday. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Ramsey and was largely attended.

The owners of the newly built houses at the West end are making arrangements to put in a joint sewer to the river to drain their respective properties.

Dreyfus is Exonerated

Restored to His Rank in French Army

FAMOUS CASE IS NOW OVER

After Twelve Years the Victim of His Superior Officers Has Been Reinstated and His Name is Now Free From the Stain of Having Betrayed His Country

Paris, July 16.—The supreme court has announced its decision, annulling the condemnation of Dreyfus without a retrial. The effect of the decision is a complete vindication of Dreyfus entitling him to restoration to his rank in the army as though he had never been accused.

Captain Alfred Dreyfus of the artillery, a member of a wealthy Breton family of Alencon, where he was born in 1859, was on October 14, 1894, arrested on the charge of communicating French military secrets to foreign powers. Two months later he was tried by court martial and found guilty, and on January 5 he was publicly degraded and deported to Devils Island near Cayenne, French Guiana, there apparently to spend the remainder of his life.

The friends and relatives of Dreyfus, notably his wife, always believed in his innocence and devoted all their energies to the work of proving that an opinion that the evidence pointed to Major Count Esterhazy as being the guilty man, he therefore determined to see that justice was done to Dreyfus. Soon afterward Col. Picquart was suggested as chief of the Intelligence Department by Col. Henry and then began the fight to preserve the honor of the French army.

Dreyfus, on November 15, 1897, charged Esterhazy with writing the incriminating document, but the latter was acquitted by a court martial. When M. Cavaignac became head of the French War Office he read to the Chamber of Deputies several documents which he had and which proved the guilt of Dreyfus.

Col. Picquart afterwards charged that these documents were forgeries, for which he was arrested and degraded. But the friends of Dreyfus were tireless in pushing his case and brought about the arrest of Colonel Henry, chief of the Intelligence Department, who finally confessed that he had forged one of the incriminating documents, and later he committed suicide in prison.

By this time the whole of France was aroused for or against Dreyfus and the utmost excitement prevailed in military, political and social circles. In June, 1899 a fresh court martial of Dreyfus was ordered and the prisoner was brought back from Devils Island to be retried. In the meantime the press throughout the world had been filled with stories of the barbarities to which Dreyfus had been subjected to during his solitary confinement on Devils Island, which aroused further feeling in his favor. The second court martial of Dreyfus, which opened at Rennes, France, Aug. 7, 1899, resulted in his again being convicted, and he was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in a fortress. Later he obtained full pardon from President Loubet and was set free.

The friends of the unfortunate captain were not contented. They obtained fresh evidence in his behalf, and finally got their case before the supreme court. Maitre Morand, counsel for Dreyfus, arguing against a further trial, said many of the witnesses were dead or had disappeared. Dreyfus, he added, did not ask for damages. He desired only the vindication of his honor and the restoration of his name in the list of officers of the French army. The official prosecutor general, M. Beaudouin, concluded his argument by asking that the verdict of the Rennes court martial be quashed without retrial. The judgment of the supreme court was a complete vindication of Dreyfus.

(Special despatches to Monitor.)

St. Petersburg, July 18.—The number of revolutionary outrages by Agrarian secretaries has increased today. In many places peasants are violently applying the torch to estates belonging to the crown and to private forests. At Nizhny-Novonovosibirsk province, the town hall was set on fire and the entire village was consumed. Throughout Poland a systematic pillaging of government spirit shops is in progress. The central police office of Warsaw was robbed and a confederate killed. At Lublin, Russian Poland, the revolutionists executed a workman, suspected of being a spy, and at Nizhn, Negorod and Vostok the officers of the spirit monopoly were robbed and killed. The bank at Sostin, in the province of Novosibirsk, was robbed and at Tiflis an Armenian locomotive engineer was shot in his cab by an assassin concealed in the neighboring woods. The workmen at Kostoff, province of Yaroslavl, killed an alleged government provocator at Piliagorsk. A Tartar woman who was captured in the Orlovsk district, was murdered at Yaroslavl. Bombs were exploded at the residences of the chief of police and an officer of the cadet corps.

The Monastery of the Nativity, Moscow, was plundered of all its Jewish sacred relics and $16,000 in cash.

Washington, July 18.—The evening of July 18th will probably be fixed as the time for an armistice in Central America, pending the settlement of the dispute involving Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras.

New York, July 18.—The marriage of Miss Bessie Mascock, formerly of Bridgetown, to Edward Rogers, of New York, takes place in St. Agnes church this morning at 11 o'clock. Miss Mascock is the daughter of a happy couple who will take the train for Bridgetown where they will arrive Friday and remain for a short time.

London, July 18.—A terrible drowning accident occurred on Spill Innie river, forty miles from Golden, last night. About five men, out of a load of ten, were drowned. The Rocky Mountain streams are very high at this time of the year, but the men, who were all working in lumber camps, were secure in their belief that they could safely navigate a boat in order to get back to their camp for supper. Their confidence resulted in the death of five.

Boston, July 18.—One death and sixteen cases of prostration due to the high temperature, unusual humidity and oppressive sultry conditions were reported in this vicinity yesterday.

Toronto, July 18.—The Triennial Orange Council last night passed unanimously a resolution against home rule for Ireland.

New Orleans, July 18.—An alleged coalition of the Central American Republics against Guatemala is reported in a despatch from Mexico City. General Barrillas is the authority given.

Osaka, July 18.—An attempt was made yesterday to start anti-Jewish outbreaks at Kierstian and Nookstoll. They were promptly suppressed. The strike continues spreading on all sides.

Bisley Camp, July 18.—During the shooting for the Secretary of War's squabbling competition yesterday the wind was very light, and the weather was hot. This match offers a first prize of $100. The distance is 800 yards and ten shots are allowed each.

Another bridge, which is greatly needed and which would benefit a large section of country would be one connecting Annapolis with Granville Ferry. It is said that the present steam ferry is not all that could be desired and it is hard to get a company of business men to invest money under the circumstances. It would be the making of our country town, because after a bridge should be built the most natural step would be the union of the two places under one civic government to the great benefit of both.

Accident at Nictaux West. While Mr. Fred Keeth was going up a ladder on his house which he was repairing, a brick fell some fifteen feet and struck him over the eye, stunning him, and cutting 1 1/2 inches which required six stitches to close. Dr. Miller, of Middleton, was called and dressed it, and he is doing as well as can be expected.

The town of Sussex, N. B., is building a new school building to contain fourteen class rooms. This building will be modern in every respect. Plans have been awarded to Leslie L. Fair, architect, of Aylesford, N. S.

MARRIED. SIBLEY-HOWSE.—At Somerville, Mass July 9th, William Sibley to Miss Ethel Howse, both of Somerville, Mass.
